The completion of this first issue of the Educational Directory has been attended with unexpected difficulties and delays to which reference is made, in explanation, on another page.

Here it is the desire of the undersigned simply to say that the plan of this book has become more comprehensive while its preparation was going on, and that from this cause also an additional delay has resulted, which will be avoided in subsequent issues. It is to be hoped, however, that the portly appearance of the volume, whatever its imperfections, may be accepted as an indication of the important place which the Directory is destined to fill.

The prominence given in this publication to Catalogues and Lists of Books scarcely needs explanation. The corresponding portion of the Year-Book of Education for 1878 has been pronounced of such importance by practical educators as well as by booksellers, publishers, and librarians, that a retention of this feature, continually improved in each new issue, is forced upon the publisher, who is only too glad to see his cherished labor thus appreciated.

In consequence of this, preparations have been made to considerably increase the bibliographical part of the work. As publishers and authors are recognizing the importance of having their books enumerated in what will hereafter be regarded and consulted as a practical Guide to Books for the Teaching Profession, and as the necessary material is also being diligently collected from other sources, it is apparent that in future issues this portion of the volume will — like the List of Educational Institutions — be brought nearer and nearer to that completeness and usefulness which the publisher desires and strives to attain.

It may not be out of place to remark in this connection that the importance of the several publications to which the Educational Directory belongs has been acknowledged even beyond expectation. Thus the Cyclopædia of Education, the first work of its kind in the English language, in addition to the extraordinary marks of appreciation bestowed upon it in this country, has not only secured a strong hold in England and other European countries, but it has also been honored by the award of a Medal at the Exposition Universelle in Paris.

In like manner the merits of the Year-Book of Education have also secured recognition both at home and abroad, and notably by the Commissioners of Education from foreign countries who examined the book at the Paris Exposition.

It may appear superfluous to state that in the present volume American Educational Institutions and American publications occupy the largest space. At the same time, however, the publisher appreciates the growing desire in this country for fuller information in regard to European Educational Institutions and publications. It is, therefore, his intention carefully to collect and publish in the subsequent issues such information in these respects as may be deemed of sufficient value, while any additional particulars that may be desired will be cheerfully communicated at the Office of his Educational Bureau.

Within the short time that has elapsed since the organization of this Bureau its desirability no less than its efficiency has been established and numberless positions have been filled through its agency, without any expense either to teachers or to employers. Gratified to feel that he is thus doing a welcome service to many persons, and cheered and encouraged on all sides, the undersigned will continue to work in this direction, and further, with the aid of an extensive collection of reference books, catalogues, and other material, endeavor to give full information in regard to educational matters at home and abroad.

Cordial thanks are expressed to all who have aided in the preparation and correction of this volume, and the request is added that whosoever can contribute to the correctness and reliability of later issues, will do so at the earliest opportunity.

E. Steiger.

Bergen Point.

Wykeham Institute.—An English, French, German, and Latin Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies and Children. Kindergarten and Primary Department for pupils under eight years of age. Organized 1867.

The course of study embraces the customary English branches, French, German, Calisthenics, Needle-work, etc. Young ladies who wish to join particular classes in art, literature, or the languages, may do so without pursuing the regular course of study; they will be charged accordingly. One Saturday in each month will be devoted to visiting objects of interest in New York and vicinity. Traveling and entrance fees the only extra expenses.

Terms and Rules for Day Pupils:

Kindergarten and First Primary

Department..... $10.00 per quarter.

Second Primary Department... 20.00 " "

Junior and Senior Departments.. 25.00 " "

Payable quarterly in advance. Books the only extra. Day pupils will not be taken for less than a quarter. No deduction will be made for absence.

Pupils will be received at any time, charge being made from the time of entrance.

Terms and Rules for Boarding Pupils:

For weekly boarding pupils... $300.00 per annum.

For boarding pupils (including the entire course of study)... 450.00 " "

Washing..... 0.75 per dozen.

Pupils will be received at any period, the proportion only of the year, from the time of the engagement to enter, being charged. After an engagement has been concluded, no deduction from the yearly charge will be made; and in case of the removal of a pupil before the expiration of the year, payment of the full year will be required. No visiting home is allowed between the times appointed for vacation, which are from June 20th to September 15th, a fortnight at Christmas to commence December 23d, and one week at Easter. Pupils, after being committed to the care of Mrs. Ford, are not allowed to go out alone.

The charge for optional studies will be regulated by the terms required by the masters engaged. Bergen Point being only eight miles from New York, the services of the best masters have been secured. Mrs. Ford will be at home to receive visitors every Friday, Bordentown.

Bordentown Female College. — Chartered 1853. This college, located in the city of Bordentown, a place of 6,000 inhabitants, in its location and accessibility is unsurpassed, it is believed, by any similar institution, its proximity to the large cities affording rare opportunities of visiting the libraries, art galleries, and museums of New York and Philadelphia. The college buildings stand upon a bluff, some sixty feet above the Delaware river, presenting a landscape of remarkable picturesqueness. They are supplied with hydrant water and heated by furnaces. The rooms are arranged with special reference to health and comfort. The halls and public rooms are lighted by gas. The winters are mild and the grounds are well shaded and enclosed, affording ample scope for recreation and exercise.

A prominent feature of the school is its home-like character. In their associations with the president and his family and with the teachers, the students find all the sympathy and care that is possible outside of their own homes.

The courses of study embrace a Preparatory Department, a Collegiate Department, a Scientific course, Ancient Classic, Modern Classic, Latin and French, and Latin and German courses. Young ladies who have finished the Preparatory course, and who do not wish to complete any of the Collegiate, may take a Select course and recite in such college classes as their qualifications will permit. A Normal course, designed for those who propose to teach, can also be taken, special instruction being given therein upon Methods of Teaching and School Organization and Government.

The Department of Music is very thorough and is under the direction of Prof. C. B. Wingate. Students having a good English education may enter for music alone and graduate in this department. The Art Course — embracing Oil Painting, Crayoning, Water Colors, Pencil Drawing, and Wax Fruit and Flowers — is under the charge of Miss Lizzie Brewer, who has devoted years to the study and practice of the various branches. A well-selected library furnishes facilities for general information and culture. Arrangements are made for popular courses of lectures each winter.

Terms for the Preparatory Department, per year, $240.00; for the Collegiate Department, $250.00. For catalogue and all desired information, address Rev. WM. C. BOVES, A.M., President, BORDENTOWN, N. J.

Chilton Hill School. — This school which has been in successful operation for more than twenty years is situated on Chilton Hill, in the suburbs of Elizabeth and fourteen miles from New York with which there is frequent communication daily. The school is designed to afford boys a liberal, thorough, and practical training for college, business, or any sphere in life which education may improve and adorn. It seeks to inspire the pupil with a love of knowledge and aims to teach him how to study. Individual instruction and special drilling are given wherever required. Parents are cordially invited to visit the school to see its beautiful location, the spacious grounds around it, and the family arrangements for the comfort and happiness of the pupils. It is believed that this school offers excellent advantages for the thorough education of the young. Board and tuition per year of forty weeks, $400.00. French, German, Drawing, Painting, and Music extra. The school year is divided into two consecutive terms with a vacation of eleven weeks in summer and one week at Christmas. The Fall term commences on the second Monday in September. The highest references given. Address JOHN YOUNG, Principal and Proprietor, ELIZABETH, N. J.

Elizabeth Conservatory of Music. — This institution was established in 1874 by Mme. PERIS and is founded on the same plan as that of the celebrated Conservatory of Leipzig, where Mme. PERIS has studied. Thorough instruction in all branches of music, at moderate price. Pupils may receive private lessons or take them in classes. There are four pupils in a class, of one hour; each one plays but fifteen minutes but is obliged to listen to the playing of the other three, who all have different pieces. Advanced pupils are obliged to study Harmony. Lessons in singing and in the instrumental branches are under the direction of the most thorough instructors. The rooms are pleasant and the finest Weber Concert Grand Pianos are used. A circulating library of mu-

Freehold.

Freehold Institute. — The Institute was founded in 1844, and passed into the hands of its present head in 1868. It is situated on the outskirts of one of the most pleasant and healthy towns in the United States, and has enjoyed remarkable immunity from epidemic or even local diseases. The standard of its scholarship may be judged by reference to the list of honors taken by its graduates at various colleges, as given in the Catalogue for 1877-78. Equal success has been met with in the English and Business Departments, the graduates from which occupy responsible positions throughout the country. Its instructors are all College graduates and men of many years' experience in teaching. The table is not surpassed by that of any other school in the country.

There are three large buildings heated by steam and lighted with gas. The two principal ones, both of brick, three stories in height, one of them new, afford ample accommodation for seventy-five boarders, without crowding, in handsome, well-lighted rooms. The gymnasium, bowling-alley, and a large, well-shaded campus, afford every opportunity for exercise. There is a good school library, besides that of the Clio Debating Society, and those of the teachers, which the students are welcome at all times to consult. All the students are expected to attend the Bible class, conducted by the Principal on Sunday morning, but can attend any one of the five churches in the town which their parents may prefer.

The Institute has but one standard of teaching — hard, earnest work, teacher and scholar laboring together, encouragement to bright boys, help and words of cheer to dull ones, a spur to the idle, and a quick exit to the vicious and dangerous. — these are the means which have crowned the last ten years' labor with such gratifying results. Success without labor is an impossibility, and the recognition of this fact is the one end diligently sought to be attained in the course of instruction at the Institute. For catalogue and information, address Rev. A. G. CHAMBERS, Principal.

Hoboken.

Academy of the Sacred Heart.

German-American Academy and Boarding School (German, English, and French Academy). This institution, as is indicated by its name, strives to effect a union in its system of education between the best forms of German and English culture. It seeks to communicate to its pupils the necessary amount of knowledge suited to the circumstances of American life, introducing them also into the sphere of German mental culture, and is, therefore, equally adapted for American and German children. The institution consists of five distinct graded classes and a Kindergarten.

The Kindergarten, intended for children from three to six years of age, presents to them not disciplinary instruction but practical knowledge. From this department the child passes into the Primary class, which combines the more advanced instruction of the Kindergarten with the elements of English and German education. In the succeeding or Lower Class still further advance is made in this elementary instruction, while in the Middle Class, Reading and Writing are made subordinate to the other branches. Arithmetic and Grammar are extended, and the study of French is added. The Upper Class affords pupils the instruction and accomplishments which will be needed in active life.

In the Academic Class the main objects of instruction are Mathematics, Natural Science, and Book-keeping, special consideration being given to English, German, and French Grammar and Literature. Thorough instruction in all needle-work is given to girls.

A Boarding School is established in connection with the Day School, into which the sons and daughters of respectable families will be received, conscientious care being given to their moral and physical education and the formation of their characters.

The first quarter begins in September, the second in November, the third in February, and the fourth in April.

Hopewell.

Hopewell Female Seminary. — The valley of Hopewell is noted for the high moral tone of its inhabitants, which renders it peculiarly desirable for a Boarding School; this, combined with its pure air, excellent water, and ready access to our great cities, renders this village unsurpassed by any of its rivals, as a suitable place for the education of youth.

The building is thoroughly warmed by the best of heaters. The Study Rooms, Music Rooms, and Recitation Rooms are carpeted, promoting cleanliness, quiet, and a home-like aspect. The sleeping-rooms are finely ventilated and arranged for two occupants each.

The Principal has had many years' experience in preparing young ladies for the duties and responsibilities of life, and care is exercised in the selection of teachers, that the moral influences be such that the character of the young ladies shall be improved and elevated by their companionship. The discipline is mild, but firm. It is the constant endeavor of the Principal to render the Seminary, not in name only, but in reality, a home for the pupils committed to her care, and to that end all the rules of the Institution tend.

Pupils sustaining a creditable examination in the Literary and Scientific courses, and at the same time preserving throughout correct and lady-like deportments will receive a diploma in consideration of the same. They can also pursue the study of the Languages in connection with this course, or adopt a Select course, pursuing such studies as their circumstances may make desirable, and reciting in such classes as their advancement may permit.

Pupils, on entering school, will be admitted to that department for which they are found prepared, and promoted as they are able to pass satisfactory examinations on the different branches pursued. The course of study consists of a Primary, a Preparatory, and a Senior Department. The Senior Department embraces a Literary and Scientific course, and a Classical course. Board and tuition in Literary and Scientific course, per year, $175.00. Board and tuition in Literary and Scientific course, French, Drawing, and Music, per year, $225.00. Board and tuition in Classical course, including previous studies named, $300.00. Tuition in Wax Fruit and Flowers is given at an expense in proportion to the style and quantity desired.

The Fall Term opens September 12th, 1878. Pupils admitted at any time during the session.

Miss Dunham's Select School, with a Kindergarten for the Primary Department. All the elementary English branches taught in connection with Froebel's system. A limited number of pupils will be taken as boarders upon reasonable terms. This school is designed for the instruction of the smaller children. It has been in existence for nearly three years and Miss Dunham can give parents and guardians the very best references. Terms, per quarter of ten weeks, are quite low and will be given with other necessary information upon application to Miss ARNOLD (next door to Steinway Hall, NEW YORK CITY) or to the Principal, Miss S. S. DUNHAM, Young Men's Christian Association Building, JERSEY CITY, N. J.

The Misses Grinnell's School for Young Ladies and Children. This school aims to give its pupils thorough instruction in all the branches of an accomplished education with all the advantages which are to be derived from a careful distribution of leading and important studies. The course includes the usual English branches with French, German, and Latin. The languages are taught according to the natural method, a system which has always afforded the best results. Lectures are regularly and frequently given upon Hygiene, History, and the Sciences, and especial care is taken to render the course of instruction one which shall be of advantage to the pupils in after life. Calisthenics are taught in the Primary Department.

The school year is divided into four parts, and extends from the middle of September to the middle of June. Pupils may enter at any time during the year. Fr. A. Mollenhauer's School of Music. — Established 1864. Not only in name but in reality will this be found a thorough School of Music. Devoting all his time, talent and energy to this end, Mr. Mollenhauer has built up an institution, which is a source of pride to all lovers of the art, and which may be safely recommended to students, desirous of honest, capable, and conscientious instruction in the various branches of Music. All lessons are given personally by Mr. Mollenhauer, but in departments where this is not practicable, the most able teachers are selected (as occasion requires) to assist him. Lessons will be given in Vocalization, Pianoforte, Organ, (Cabinet or Church), Violin, Violoncello, Guitar, Flute, Cornet, and Harmony. Private Soirees will be given at short intervals, having for their object the performance of a high order of music, and the appearance in public of such pupils as have distinguished themselves by rapid improvement. In conclusion, it is necessary to state that the taking of lessons, without the regular and diligent practice of the same, is a waste of time and money, and a source of chagrin both to pupil and teacher. Music, as it is the most beautiful, is the most difficult of accomplishments, and requires persistent study to reach even a moderate degree of excellence.

New Jersey.

Miss E. Elizabeth Dana's Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies and Children. This seminary is delightfully situated in MORRISTOWN, N. J., a town of about 6,000 inhabitants, 30 miles from New York City. The building is pleasantly located on one of the finest streets in the outskirts of the town and in point of healthfulness, beauty of situation, and ease of access the vicinity cannot be surpassed. It is the aim of the Principal and her assistants to combine intellectual discipline with the refining influences of a Christian home. The plan of study has been carefully marked-out and is liberal, comprehensive and thorough. There are three Departments: the Primary, Academic, and Collegiate. Especial attention is given to the languages and French is, as far as possible, the language of the family. The department of Music is under the supervision of a teacher of wide experience and excellent opportunities are afforded for instruction in all the departments of Drawing and Painting. The best of references given. Terms for board and tuition, $360.00 per year. Mrs. E. ELIZABETH DANA, Principal.

Young Ladies' Seminary. — Miss Robb's School for Young Ladies and Children. The location of the school is pleasant and healthful and removed from the centre of the city. The building is large and commodious, and the close proximity of the school to New York City is an especial advantage, inasmuch as the pupils can frequently enjoy, in company with a teacher, the refining and educating attractions of the metropolis.

The principal, with the aid of efficient assistants, offers to her pupils superior advantages for a thorough education in the usual English branches, Music, the modern Languages, Paintings, etc.

The course of study is, in fact, thorough and extended, and is intended to include all the branches which are to be considered as essential to the finished education of young ladies.

The course of instruction is divided into the Junior, Middle, and Senior Departments, and the number of pupils is invariably limited.

Terms, including board and tuition, $400.00 per annum. Instruction, with board during school week only, $300.00. Under these terms are included the usual English branches, Latin and Drawing, washing, fuel, and pew-rent. Particular attention is given to orthography, penmanship, and composition during the entire course. Instruction in Modern Languages by native teachers, at Professors' charges. Music is taught by a German professor of recognized ability. Lessons in Oil and Water Color painting, China painting, and other ornamental branches.

The school year opens September 20th and closes June 20th. Address Miss JULIA A. ROBB, Principal, Parkhurst and Brunswick Streets, NEWARK, N. J.

Boarding School for Young Ladies. The Misses BUCKNALL, Principals.

Mrs. Parks' Seminary for Young Ladies. — Mrs. PARKS, for many years Principal of the Ferris Female Institute, 153 Madison Avenue, New York, will continue in New Brunswick her plan of instruction. To a thorough training in the English branches will be added all the accomplishments of a finished education. The course of study will be carefully adapted to the health and capacity of each pupil, and no efforts spared to inspire a sincere and ardent love for knowledge. Art, Music, Belles Lettres, and Modern Languages will receive special attention, and parental care given to the Physical, Social, and Moral culture of the young ladies. The location of the school is delightful, combining the advantages of city and country. Charges extend from the date of entrance to the close of the school year, and no deduction is made for absence. Twelve pupils will be admitted into the family, receiving constant care from the Principal, aided by French and English resident Teachers.

Terms, per annum, including French and Latin:

Boarding Pupils.		Day Pupils.

Rutgers College. — Founded 1770. 13 Professors; 173 students. Classical and Scientific Departments. Complete and thorough college courses. Rev. Wm. H. CAMPBELL, D.D., LL.D., President.

Rutgers College Grammar School. — Under the control of the Trustees of Rutgers College. Established 1770. Situated in New Brunswick opposite the College Campus, and standing in eight acres of ground. This school is now under the management of Rev. D. T. Reiley, the Professor of Latin in Rutgers College, and it is his desire, as it is that of the Trustees, that the Institution should maintain its place as a classical school for the preparation of boys and young men for entrance to any college while adding thereto that initiation into practical and scientific studies which is required in entering the various Technical and Scientific Schools, or in meeting the demands of modern business life. For this purpose especial care has been bestowed upon the selection of an efficient corps of Instructors. Among these may be mentioned the Rev. Samuel Lockwood, Ph.D., well known as an original observer and as a contributor to our best periodicals, who gives instruction in the departments of Natural History, Technology, and Familiar Science.

The Corps of Examiners includes President Campbell and leading professors of Rutgers College. Each of the Examiners has his regular subjects, the examinations in which are rigid and thorough, and are designed not only to ascertain the progress of the student, but also to direct and assist the teacher and thus secure the highest progress of each class. The school is provided with a very complete cabinet of Geology and Natural History. Students also have the benefit of Prof. Reiley's and Prof. Lockwood's private cabinets and those of Rutgers College.

The Rector resides few blocks only from the school building. A limited number of pupils will be received into his family and will be under his care and supervision. The location of the school at one of the principal stations on the Pennsylvania Railroad renders it easy of access for day scholars also.

Terms for Board, Tuition, Light, and Fuel, $100.00 per quarter. No extras except for washing, medical attendance, and studies not in the regular course. Terms for Day Scholars, from $9.00 to $18.00 per quarter, according to the classes in which they are placed. For further information, address Rev. D. T. REILEY, A.M., Rector, NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.

Pennington.

Pennington Institute for the Education of Young Ladies and Misses, Young Gentlemen and Boys. Established 1844. Beauty of location, healthfulness of climate, and distance from the immoral influences of large towns and cities render it a very desirable place for the education of young ladies and gentlemen. The buildings have been erected with special reference to the comfort and convenience of pupils and are warmed by hot air; extra care is demanded in reference to all fires.

The object of the school is to elevate the standard of education; and, to effect this, none but the best teachers are employed. Pupils of any age are admitted, but not for a less period than one session, unless an agreement be previously made. The year consists of two sessions of 22 weeks — divided into two terms of eleven weeks. Vacation during the months of July and August. The Institute is furnished with a Library of more than 2000 volumes of choice books, to which pupils have access at a moderate charge. Lectures upon different subjects will be delivered at stated periods for the benefit of the pupils. Students prepared for college. Terms reduced to suit the purse and times. Address, for full particulars, Rev. A. P. LASHER, Principal, PENNINGTON, N. J.

Young Ladies' Institute. — This school is thoroughly classified, the course of instruction is thorough and comprehensive, and the Directors feel confident that the educational advantages here offered are unsurpassed. French is taught by a native teacher, and Drawing by a graduate from the School of Design, in Philadelphia.

"It is now very generally admitted that children are to be taught something more than simply to 'read, write, and cipher.' The first step in the business of education seems to be to lead children to observe with attention the objects which surround them and then to describe with accuracy the impressions made upon their minds through the medium of the senses. A knowledge of things must precede a knowledge of words."

It is upon this basis that the course of study in this Institute is arranged.

New Jersey.

Students are admitted to the regular course, or to pursue special studies selected with the approval of the Principals. Instruction in Drawing will be given to persons not members of the school upon application to the Principals. Westfield.
The Westfield Seminary for Young People.—This School is now entering upon the sixth year of its existence and has become a permanent institution. In conformity with the times, prices have again been reduced so that the terms are now as low as possible, consistent with securing competent assistance in the various departments of instruction. Pupils entering the Junior Department, can graduate in four years, two years being given respectively to the Junior and Senior Departments. Pupils can be received at any time into any Department, by passing a satisfactory examination in the studies of the Lower Departments. The classes in Light Gymnastics are free to all pupils of the Seminary, a place in the class being dependent only upon courteous deportment and careful attention to the instruction given.

It is the constant aim of the Principal and her assistants to inspire their pupils with a love of knowledge, and no efforts will be spared to secure their mental and moral culture, and to surround them with those influences which shall tend to the formation of an elevated Christian character. Although the Seminary is designed primarily for young ladies, young gentlemen are also received. In addition to an Introductory Division, the school is divided into four Departments with a course of study for each.

Board and tuition in English branches and one language, $350.00 per annum. Five-day scholars, $260.00 per annum. Pupils may enter at any period of the year and will be charged only from the time the engagement is made, but they will be expected to remain till the close of the school-year.

Westfield is delightfully situated on the Central Railroad of New Jersey, less than one hour's ride from New York, with which trains connect frequently during the day. The natural attractions of the village, its delightful scenery, and its elevated and healthful location, nearly two hundred feet above the waters of Newark Bay, combine to make Westfield one of the most desirable places for residence in the vicinity of New York.

Further information will cheerfully be given by the Principal in response to applications, either in person or by letter. Address Mrs. E. H. LADD, Principal, WESTFIELD, N. J.

Brooklyn Heights Seminary.—For the education of Young Ladies. Established by Prof. ALONZO GRAY, LL.D., in 1851. The present principal has devoted himself for a period of twenty-five years and more to the subject of Female education; he has had thousands of pupils under his care and is aided by able and experienced teachers.

The edifice is eligibly situated, is 75 feet in front, 63 in depth and five stories in height. There are devoted to school purpose, large and well-ventilated wardrobes, a Laboratory, and rooms for Recitations, for Painting and Drawing, and for Instrumental Music. The school is divided into two Departments—Junior and Senior—each of which is subject to sub-divisions. These classifications are based not upon age but upon the scholarship of the pupil. The course of study includes the English branches, French and Latin, Music, Drawing and Painting, &c. The institution offers unusual advantages to those who wish to pursue the higher branches of study. It is provided with a large and well selected Library, with costly Chemical and Philosophical Apparatus, Globes, Maps, and Geological Charts, Cabinets of Minerals and Shells, Optical instruments, and numerous paintings and engravings.

The building attached to the Seminary furnishes accommodations for a limited number of young ladies from abroad. Applications for catalogues and for information as to terms, &c., both for Day and Boarding pupils, may be made to the Principal, CHARLES E. WEST, M.D., LL.D., 138 Montague Street, BROOKLYN, N.Y.

Carroll Park School.—A Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies and Children. Delightfully situated in the healthiest and most beautiful part of Brooklyn. An unusual opportunity is offered to those who desire their daughters to have, in addition to the ordinary benefits of school training, those special advantages and means of culture afforded by a residence in a large city. Latin and French taught in addition to all the ordinary English studies—without extra charge. Special studies taken at the charges of professors chosen in accordance with the wishes of parents. Students fitted for Vassar College. Address Mrs. D. A. DUNNING, Carroll Park School, 242 Carroll Street, BROOKLYN, N. Y.

Chenevière Institute.—French and English Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies and Children. This Institute was founded thirteen years ago by Prof. MARC CHENEVIÈRE, and is now under the direction of Mlle. LONGCHAMP and Miss M. W. MEAD who, with able assistants, aim to furnish every advantage for a thorough and complete education. English, including the higher branches, is thoroughly taught, special attention being given to daily exercises in Spelling, Dictation, and Composition. Instruction in French and German, Drawing, Vocal Music, and Calisthenics without extra charge. The Fall Term will commence Wednesday, September 18th, 1878. Address the Principals, 19 Elm Place (near Fulton Street), BROOKLYN, N. Y.

Mrs. R. Goodwin's (née W. A. Henriksen) German-American Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies and Children. This excellent school is pleasantly located on Brooklyn Heights and offers superior advantages for the careful and thorough instruction both of children and young ladies. It has competent teachers for the different branches, and pupils receive the very best care and attention. Mrs. GOODWIN is the daughter of a North-German Protestant Minister, and, consequently, the best facilities are offered for the study of German Language and Literature. Address Mrs. R. GOODWIN, Principal, 154 Montague Street, BROOKLYN, N. Y.

Greenpoint Academy, 73 Calver Street, (E. D.) Rev. OSCAR KASELITZ, Principal.

Madam Groschel's Select Family School for Young Ladies and Children. It is the intention of the Principal to make this school as select as possible in order that pupils may receive all possible attention. The number of boarding pupils has therefore been limited to eight, and a few day scholars will be received.

English is taught in all the regular school branches, studies being assigned and advancement allowed according to the pupil's age, proficiency, and progress. French is the language of the family and will, therefore, become the daily language of the pupils, and, as one of the family is a German, such pupils as desire can receive correct instruction in the German language.

Music is a specialty in this school; many of the young ladies, formerly in attendance, have been thoroughly educated and fitted as teachers in this branch by Madame Groschel, and are now occupying good positions in schools, north and south. Sight-reading and instrumental music, for four and eight hands, are taught, great attention being paid to regular and careful practice.

Soirées and receptions are given monthly, when the pupils receive their friends, entertaining them with recitations and musical selections.

The school year commences September 15th, but pupils may enter at any time. They will be charged for from the date of entrance and will be expected to remain for the balance of the school year at least. Girls of seven or eight years of age are admitted into the school, and the greatest care is given to their physical and mental training, the family manners and home life of the school rendering such especial care possible. One of the teachers always accompanies the girls to their own church.

Thoroughness is the aim throughout the entire school course and careful attention is given that the principles of every study shall be accurately mastered and correctly understood.

For terms or circulars, apply to Madame GROSCHEL, Principal, 146 State Street, BROOKLYN, N. Y.

Hempstead.

Hempstead Institute. — A Home and School for boys under fifteen years of age, twenty miles east of Brooklyn, on Long Island. An experience of more than twenty years has convinced the Principal that young pupils ought to be placed in an Institution designed exclusively for them; this school is the practical result of that conviction. It is designed to combine the requisites of a pleasant and healthy Country Home, with a system of Instruction, Discipline, Amusements, Exercises, and General Management, better adapted to the right culture of young pupils than could be possible in a promiscuous school. Visitors pronounce the location delightful; it is proverbially healthy; cool sea-breezes temper the heats of summer; no acute insects the place. A spacious edifice, ample grounds, safe boating and skating ponds afford full scope for the gymnastic exercises; military drill, gardening, riding, boating, swimming, skating, and other amusements are included in the system of Physical Education and Development. The system of instruction secures mental discipline without cramming the young and growing brain. For learning to speak French, the facilities are superior.

The very successful experience of the Institution has proved that the pupils learn faster, while retaining a healthy tone of mind and body, in consequence of the Physical Training received, than would otherwise be the case.

Special pains are taken that the pupils shall be comfortable, and provided with an abundance of healthful and nourishing food. The Institute Uniform should be provided at entrance, or as soon after as convenient. It is that of the Seventh Regiment, N.Y. S. M., and costs no more than any other good suit. The year is divided into two terms, of 21 weeks each, commencing May 1st and November 1st, respectively. Pupils can enter at any time, and remain during vacations if desired.

Expenses, including Board, English and French Tuition, use of Books, Bedding, Washing. Seat in Church, Military Drill, and Use of Arms, $125.00 per term. Music on the Piano, from $20.00 to $25.00. Foreign pupils enjoy superior facilities for learning English, and pay from $175.00 to $200.00 per term. No other extras. Payments in advance.

The Academy Mount St. Vincent, conducted by the Sisters of Charity, first opened in 1847, is now permanently located on the east bank of the Hudson, a little above Riverdale, at a point where the river concentrates its most forcible claims to its beautiful appellation, "The Rhine of America." The graceful structure known as Font Hill Castle, reared by the classic taste of the former proprietor of the grounds, Edwin Forrest, Esq., lends peculiar attraction to the site so favored by nature and adorned by art. The locality is now known as Mount Saint Vincent, the title of the railway station on the grounds, three minutes walk from the Academy. Hourly trains to and from New York, starting either from the Thirtieth Street Depot, or the Grand Central, render access easy.

The grounds immediately pertaining to the Institution number sixty-three acres, a large portion of which is tastefully laid out and thrown open to the pupils. The undulating lawn and fine grove in the rear are attractive resorts to the pupils during the hours of recreation. The roads are macadamized, and a flagged walk, extending in handsome curves through the entire grounds, from the Depot to the entrance on Riverdale Avenue—a distance of three-quarters of a mile—affords opportunity at all seasons for healthful out-door exercise. A morning walk before studies is a fixed regulation. At the suggestion of several eminent physicians, and their assurance that every advantage enjoyed at regular sea-bathing resorts could be found in this locality, a convenient bathing-house has been erected.

The Academy building, in the Byzantine style, possessing great architectural beauty, is one of the largest educational structures in the United States. The tower rises two hundred and ninety feet above water level, affording fine opportunities for astronomical observation.

By its charter, the Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first collegiate institutions in the State. The course of study embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education. Arithmetic, Algebra, and Geometry form the mathematical course. In the regular English course, the pupils on entering are ranked according to their proficiency in Grammar. Particular attention is given to Rhetoric, Composition, History, and the Natural Sciences. Latin enters into the regular course of the last three years. For French there is no extra charge, and every advantage for its thorough acquisition is provided. A portion of time is allowed to each pupil for Plain and Ornamental Needlework, Wax Flowers, etc.

The services of distinguished Professors are secured in the musical department for those who prefer masters. Lectures are delivered by able Professors who have philosophical and chemical apparatus at their command. Calisthenics and Dancing are also taught by Professors. A fine Library of selected works, embracing a range of varied literature, is at the command of the pupils. The entire "Arnold collection" of minerals, donated to the institution July 4th, 1872, by Dr. Edmund S. F. Arnold, its munificent friend, has so enriched and extended the cabinet that it is now one of the finest and most valuable in the United States. The classification of the minerals is so perfect that the value of the cabinet is thereby very much enhanced.

Monthly reports of department, proficiency in study, etc., are read in presence of the Mother-Superior, Directress, teachers, and assembled pupils. Medals and honorary ribbons are then awarded to the most deserving. At the Annual Distribution of Prizes, those who have been considered models of polite and amiable deportment are crowned by His Eminence, the Cardinal Archbishop.

The correspondence of the pupils is under the supervision of the Mother-Superior. Parents may rest assured that every attention, consistent with the spirit of a firm but mild government, is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Institution, whilst the utmost care is taken to nourish in their minds those principles of virtue and religion which alone can render education profitable. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils; however, for the maintenance of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Academy.

Antho'n Grammar School.— This institution was established in 1854 by the late Mr. GEORGE C. ANTHON, and is now under the charge of C. A. MILES, A.M., graduate of Harvard College.

The school will commence its 25th academic year on September 9th. The methods of instruction are the same as those pursued by Mr. Anthon. Pupils are fitted under careful and experienced teachers for the principal colleges and scientific schools in the country as well as for business pursuits.

Thoroughness in all branches is regarded of primary importance, and every effort is made for the advancement of the pupils. While especial attention is given to preparation for college, no branch of an ordinary English education is neglected.

Instruction in French is given by a competent professor without extra charge.

The hours of attendance are from 9.30 A. M. to 2.30 P. M., thereby giving pupils from a distance ample time to take their morning's meal in peace and quietness.

As it is evident that the purer the air which the student breathes the better will he be enabled to work, Mr. Henry A. Gouge's system of ventilation has been introduced into every room in the building. The school-rooms have lofty ceilings, are heated by open fire and are unsurpassed in the city.

Vacations during Christmas and Easter weeks, the usual public holidays, and the months of July and August.

Pupils may enter at any time, with the distinct understanding that they are to remain until the end of the academic year. Further information can be obtained from the principal who can be seen, if desired, at the school between 9 A. M. and 2 P. M.

For circulars, etc., address C. A. MILES, Principal, 252 Madison Avenue.

Manhattan College.—The object of this Institution is to afford students the means of acquiring the highest grade of university education, by combining the advantages of the college and of the polytechnic school. The plan of studies embraces a thorough course of humanities, and both the higher mathematics and the natural sciences receive more attention than is usually bestowed on them in literary institutions.

Care is taken that every branch prescribed be thoroughly studied, and that nothing be learned merely by rote. With this view the students discuss the subject-matter of each lesson in class, independently of the language of the text-book, criticise one another's performances, and give free expressions to their opinions on all points open to debate. They thus accumulate ideas instead of mere words, they digest what they learn, and acquire thoughtfulness, self-reliance, and facility of expression.

A commercial department has been formed for the benefit of young men who cannot command the necessary time to pursue the whole course, either in the Classic or the Scientific Department. To those attaining such proficiency in this course as will enable them to undergo a thorough examination, certificates of competency are given as a guarantee of their fitness to engage in mercantile pursuits.

As the college is conducted by the Christian Brothers, it is presumed that they need hardly assure the public that the utmost attention is bestowed on the moral and religious training of all committed to their care.

Model Kindergarten, Intermediate Class, Advanced Class, and Seminary for the Training of Kindergartners. Prof. JOHN KRAUS, Mrs. MARIA KRAUS-BOELTE, Principals.

The Model Kindergarten, and the Intermediate and Advanced Classes, will re-open October 1st, 1878, and close on the 2nd of June, 1879. The Seminary for the Training of Kindergartners will re-open November 1st, 1878, and close at the end of June, 1879.

A Mothers' Class for Nursery Management will be held during the winter as usual.

The Kindergarten proper comprises three Divisions and the Elementary Department three Classes. These Divisions and Classes are arranged, according to the ages of the children, as follows:

Kindergarten.

Third Division, for children from 3 to 4 years old.
Second Division, for children from 4 to 5 years old.
First Division, for children from 5 to 6 years old.

Elementary Department.

Intermediate Class, for children from 6 to 7 years old.
Advanced Class, for children from 7 to 8 years old.
Elementary Class, for children from 8 to 10 years old.

Elementary instruction in German and French will be given; Singing, Drawing, and Gymnastics will also be taught. Arrangements can likewise be made, if desired, for class-instruction on the Piano.

It is, strangely enough, a very general impression that the Kindergarten is a school. This idea is, however, entirely erroneous; for the Kindergarten and the School have different objects in view, and are conducted according to different methods. It cannot be too often repeated that the most essential part of the whole Kindergarten system is the methodical arrangement of the exercises and the games, and the explanations given by Froebel to those who are to conduct them. To become acquainted with them all is a study; to apply them well, an art; to understand their significance, their effect, and the order and manner in which they should be given to the children, is a science. Nothing but a long and careful study of the system and its actual workings can give such a knowledge of it, as will enable a person to practice its peculiar mode of instruction or to fully understand its many important points.

While the Kindergarten will afford the child, previous to its entering the school, the right occupation and requisite training for a course of regular instruction, the Intermediate and Advanced Classes will be taught according to Froebel's method, his ideas being more fully developed and more completely realized. "First the blade, then the ear, then the corn in the ear."

Prof. JOHN KRAUS is a disciple of the Pestalozzi-Diesterweg-Froebel School, and one of the first propagators of the Kindergarten in this country. For many years he was connected with the Bureau of Education in Washington, where his efforts were unceasingly devoted to the Kindergarten cause. Says the U. S. Commissioner of Education: "Prof. John Kraus, whose devotion and enthusiasm on the subject of Kindergartens is well known among all educators interested in that topic, will also in New York do his utmost in the same direction."

Mrs. MARIA KRAUS-BOELTE is a pupil and a co-worker of Froebel's widow. She is aided by an experience of twenty years in Germany, England, and America. "Mrs. KRAUS-BOELTE has been pointed out to me by Mrs. Louise Froebel (Froebel's Widow) in Hamburg, as the best Kindergarten in Germany," says Dr. Nathan Allen in the New England Journal of Education.

As to her work in America, The Galaxy, in an article on "Kindergartens," says: "Mrs. KRAUS-BOELTE, of all American Kindergartners, holds the highest place. She comes to us most directly from the founder of the system. It is to the labors of this lady, more than to any other perhaps, that the increasing success of Kindergarten in America is due, and her pupils have accomplished more than all the rest. The reason is simple, they are the most thorough; the reason of that again equally simple, their teacher was the most thorough."

Says Miss E. P. PEAPODY: "Mrs. KRAUS is the first authority upon the subject, unsurpassed certainly by any one in her knowledge of Froebel's principles (according to the testimony of his widow with whom she has studied for three years); she has twenty years of great success in practice. Without referring to her previous eminent success in England and Germany, the Kindergarten in New York is sufficient recommendation of whatever Mrs. KRAUS writes, especially upon the training of Kindergartners."

Speaking of Mrs. KRAUS' work in America the Northern Christian Advocate says: "Here, as elsewhere, her mission is to plant and nourish the Kindergarten in its purity, in the profound simplicity and consummate art of nature. The perfectly plain and unpretending establishment of Mr. and Mrs. KRAUS impressed us as a commentary at once on their intolerance of show and on their exalted repute, emphasizing the genuineness of both. Such a repute entirely unassisted by the expensive style and exclusive location, which satisfy the demands of society, must of necessity by wholly made up of sterling substance." Says The World: "There may perhaps seldom an institute be found where the beneficial influence upon children by female and male co-operation is more felt than by Mr. and Mrs. KRAUS; their congeniality, their perfect sympathy and harmony can be seen and felt everywhere. They both are born Kindergartners and that is also what gives the preference to their 'Kindergarten Guide,' everything is not only seen through female but also through male lenses in an educational point of view." "The Authors," says the New England Journal of Education, "are the most experienced Kindergartners in America and are recognized as the best authority in this country on Kindergarten education." Says Mrs. HORACE MANN: "I am indeed delighted with the minuteness, thoroughness, and clearness of direction.... it is certainly by far in advance of any Guide I have yet seen."

St. John's College.—This College enjoys the powers and privileges of a University, and is conducted by the Jesuit Fathers. It is situated at Fordham in a picturesque and healthy part of New York County, and is reached in thirty minutes by the Harlem trains, which leave the Grand Central Depot every half hour; moreover it is easily accessible at all hours and seasons, either by private conveyance over the great boulevards or by the horse cars which lead to the gate at the foot of the College lawn.

The grounds are extensive, well laid out for College purposes, and afford uncommon facilities for athletic sports, for bathing, and for skating. Ample opportunities are also provided for in-door amusements. The buildings are spacious, thoroughly ventilated, well heated by steam, lighted by gas, and provided with bath-rooms.

The instruction furnished is of two kinds—Classical and Commercial. The Collegiate year is divided into two terms; the first begins on the first Wednesday of September, the second on the first of February. Candidates for admission, whether coming from their homes or from other colleges, are required to present testimonials of good moral character. They are examined by the Prefect of studies and placed in the class to which they are entitled by their attainments. The scholarship of each student is determined by weekly competitions in some branch of study and by examinations. Testimonials are awarded for superior success in these examinations.

The degree of A. B. is conferred at the close of the Classical course. The degree of A. M. is given to those, who pursue in the Post Graduate course, the study of Natural Law and the other branches of higher education. Students of the Commercial course receive a commercial certificate. For young men already advanced in their English studies there is a special Latin and Greek class, which enables them to shorten the regular Classical course. There are two Preparatory classes in which young boys are fitted for either of the college courses of study. French is taught without charge. German, Spanish, Music, and Drawing are optional, but for these branches there are extra charges.

The correspondence of students is under the supervision of the College authorities. No books, papers, periodicals, &c., are allowed among the students until they have been examined and approved. The visiting days are Sunday afternoon and Thursday in summer; Sunday, Tuesday, and Thursday afternoons in winter. The summer vacation begins on the last Wednesday in June, and closes on the first Wednesday in September. There is a vacation of one week at Christmas, but none at Easter. Students whose parents do not reside in New York City are not allowed to visit it, unless in company of an officer of the college. The ordinary causes of dismissal are: insubordination, continued inapplication to study, and bad conduct.

The Collegiate Year is divided into three Sessions: a Preliminary Session, a Regular Winter Session, and a Spring Session. The Preliminary Session will commence September 19th, 1878, and will continue until the opening of the Regular Winter Session. It will be conducted on the plan of that Session. The Regular Winter Session will commence on the Third of October, 1878, and end about the first of March, 1879.

The location of the new College edifice being immediately opposite the gate of Bellevue Hospital, and a few steps from the ferry to Charity Hospital, Blackwell's Island, the students of the University Medical College are enabled to enjoy the advantages afforded by these Hospitals, with the least possible loss of time. The Professors of the practical chairs are connected with the Hospital, and the University students are admitted to all the Clinics given therein, free of charge. In addition to the daily Hospital Clinics, there are eight Clinics each week in the College building. Five Didactic Lectures will be given daily in the College building, and Evening Recitations will be conducted by the Professors of Chemistry, Practice, Anatomy, Materia Medica, etc., Physiology, Surgery, and Obstetrics, upon the subjects of their Lectures.—The Spring Session embraces a period of twelve weeks, beginning in the first week of March, and ending the last week of May. The daily Clinics, Recitations, and Special Practical Courses will be the same as in the Winter Session and there will be Lectures on Special Subjects by the members of the Post-Graduate Faculty. The Dissecting Room is open throughout the entire collegiate year; material is abundant, and it is furnished free of charge. — Students who have studied two years may be admitted to examination in Chemistry, Anatomy, and Physiology, and, if successful, will be examined at the expiration of their full course of study, on Practice, Materia Medica and Therapeutics, Surgery and Obstetrics; but those who prefer it may have all their examinations at the close of their full term.

Fees: For Course of Lectures, $140.00; Matriculation, $5.00; Demonstrator's fee, including material for dissection, $10.00; Graduation Fee, $30.00; Post-Graduate Certificate, $30.00.

The College year consists of a session of thirty-two weeks, beginning on the 1st of October and ending with the third week in May.

The plan of instruction in this school is arranged to secure a gradation of studies through the three years of the student's course. For this purpose students must attend three entire sessions.

First Year.—During the first year they will be principally occupied with the elementary branches of Anatomy, Physiology, Materia Medica, and Chemistry, with practical work in the Anatomical Rooms and Pharmacy. Second Year. In the second year they will continue these four branches and receive instruction in Hygiene, Medicine, Surgery, Obstetrics, and Pathological Anatomy. Third Year.—In the third year the instruction in these departments will be continued, and the students will engage in practical medical work under the direction of their teachers, and be required to furnish clinical reports of cases so attended.

This progressive mode of study does not increase the length nor the expense of the student's course, as no extra charge is made for the third year.

An annual course of lectures in any accredited school will be received as equivalent to a course of lectures in this school.

Students from such schools may enter as second or third year students in this school, according as they bring tickets for one or two courses of lectures, but a certificate of reading under a preceptor, will not be received as equivalent to a course of lectures.

Students desiring to avail themselves of the clinical advantages of the city, without going through the whole course of the College, or graduating from it, may, by special arrangement, attend such lectures as they desire in connection with the clinics of the school, without reference to its graded course.

Any one course of lectures may be attended separately by students, or ladies wishing information on that special subject.

Examinations. Students entering the graded College course will be required to pass a preliminary examination in English branches, unless they bring a diploma from some established literary school. An examination will be held at the end of each term when every student will be examined in the studies pursued during the term. The final examination will be passed in Anatomy, Materia Medica, Physiology, and Chemistry, at the end of the second year, and at the end of the third year in Hygiene, Practice, Surgery, and Obstetrics. All candidates for graduation after having passed the Faculty of this College, go before a Board of Examiners composed of eminent professors from the several Medical Colleges of the City. Each successful candidate receives a certificate bearing the several signatures of the Board, which is an additional guarantee of the bearer's fitness to practice.

Clinical Advantages.—The best clinical advantages are within reach of the students of this College; for the New York Infirmary, with its long established practice, places annually over seven thousand patients under the immediate observation of its students, and, in Practical Obstetrics and Diseases of Women, the students of this school have special advantages, as all candidates for graduation are received as residents in the Infirmary for a sufficient time to give them the opportunity of attending a certain number of cases, also of having practical experience in pharmacy—putting up prescriptions, &c. The City Dispensaries are also open to women; one of the best of these—the Demilt Dispensary—is within a few minutes' walk of the College. Here over 22,000 patients are treated annually. The diseases are divided into different classes, as: Diseases of Skin, Heart, Lungs, &c., and each class is treated at specified hours, by separate attending Physicians, and Clinics are held from 9 a.m.

New York.

to 3 P.M., daily. Bellevue Hospital admits women to its admirable clinical lectures; the New York Eye and Ear Infirmary also keeps open doors. The Presbyterian Hospital, one of the most complete Hospitals in the country, affords opportunities for seeing operations, &c. Mount Sinai Hospital, also, has extended its privileges to the students of this College.

Hospital Appointments.—Several graduates are appointed annually to serve as assistants to the Resident Physician in the New York Infirmary. The large out-practice connected with this Institution is mainly in charge of these assistants.

Fees and Expenses:

Full Course of Lectures (each ticket $15.00) . . .	$105.00
Matriculation Ticket	5.00
Demonstrator's Fee	10.00
Graduation Fee	$30.00

College Fees must be paid in advance. Students who have attended two full courses of lectures at any regular Medical School will be required to pay but $30.00 and the Matriculation Fee. For intelligent students whose means are very small, every effort will be made to render the expenses as light as possible. Communications from such students to the Secretary will be considered confidential and meet with kind consideration.

Requirements for Graduation.—Candidates for Graduation must be twenty-one years of age—must be of good moral character, and have received a good general education. They must have spent three years in the study of medicine, during which they must have attended three Winter Sessions of lectures, and received clinical instruction, according to the course laid down by the school. A thesis on some medical subject must be submitted; passing satisfactory examinations before the Faculty and the board of Examiners will also be required. A course of lectures in any recognized school will be accepted as one of the terms required by the College, but the last course before graduation must have been attended at this College. The Faculty also reserve the right to refuse examination to a student on the ground of what they deem to be moral or mental unfitness for the profession.

For announcements, or for further particulars, students may apply by letter, or personally to Dr. MERCY N. BAKER, Secretary, at the College, 128 Second Avenue, or at her office, 303 East 18th St., near 2d Avenue.

North Granville.

Granville Military Academy. An attractive school for boys, at North Granville, New York. Has for 28 years successfully prepared boys for our best colleges and schools of science, and also for commercial life. Until April 1876, it was conducted at Stamford, Conn., and was then transferred to its present location, to escape the distracting and vicious influences of a large suburban town. The principal graduated at Yale, in 1847, and thirty years experience in training boys has taught him that to reach the highest results certain things are indispensable, viz: A healthy location, an abundant, nutritious, and varied diet, energetic, systematic and yet pleasurable exercise, thoroughly competent and faithful teachers, and absolute freedom from vicious surroundings. The quiet, healthful and beautiful village of North Granville, nestled among the hills of north-eastern New York, offers rare attractions to thoughtful parents. It does not contain a single saloon, or haunt of vice, nor can a drop of ardent spirits be legally sold in the place. Military and gymnastic drill furnish exercise, at once sufficient, regular, and attractive. The instruction and discipline are most earnest and thorough. The table compares favorably with that offered by sensible parents to their children at home. Its grounds, buildings, and equipment have cost $60,000, and are unsurpassed. The school is not "cheap" in any sense, but its facilities are confidently offered to such patrons as desire to give their sons the best advantages, and are willing to pay for value received. Send for illustrated catalogue, with abundant references to patrons. W. C. WILLCOX, A. M., Principal.

Norwich.

Norwich Academy and Union Free School.—15 Instructors. Primary, Junior, Senior, and Academic Departments. Expenses low. S. H. ALBERO, A. M., Superintendent.

Nyack.

Nyack Home Institute.—A boarding and Day School for both sexes, pleasantly located in the village of Nyack, N. Y., a place of rare attractions and only 28 miles by rail or steamboat from New York City. The pupils enjoy the advantages of a refined and cultivated society, away from the vices and restraints of larger towns, while the well-known healthfulness and purity of the climate make the situation of especial advantage for a boarding-school. The Institute has a Junior and Senior Department, with Primary and Academic Studies, and is designed to afford in the wholesome retirement of a rural neighborhood and at a moderate cost, the best opportunities for acquiring a thorough education.

Mrs. Lee has had a successful experience of many years in her profession, and is acquainted with the most advanced methods of teaching. Thorough Scholarship in each study pursued, and a moral training based upon religious principles are kept constantly in view.

Having a large local patronage, the Boarding Department is limited to eight, permitting a personal supervision, and watchful care—combined with home influence and culture—unattainable among a large number, and affording advantages especially desirable for the young.

Great pains are taken to lay a good foundation in preparatory studies, and then to carry on the work regularly without loss of time, and with due regard to age, health, and strength. The aim is not solely to teach the contents of books, but to awaken an interest in study, to impart a love of books, and, most important of all, to form habits of steady attention, of self-control, and of thoughtfulness. The Primary department affords thorough instruction to girls from seven to twelve years of age, and is designed to prepare them for the higher branches. Parents can feel assured that in all respects a pleasant home under careful supervision is provided for their children.

Peekskill Military Academy.—Forty-two miles from New York, on the Hudson River. A chartered institution, with an earnest and working Board of Trustees and experienced Principals appointed by them; thorough teachers, every modern appliance for instruction, library and philosophical apparatus, cabinet of minerals, four pianos and an organ, and the best charts and maps; judicious discipline, earnest study, home care.

The buildings are complete and well arranged, thoroughly heated, water on every floor, six bath-rooms with hot and cold water. They occupy an elevated plot of six acres, overlooking the Hudson River and the Highlands, three-fourths of a mile from the Hudson River Railroad depot.

Students are prepared for any college or professional school, or for business. Four carefully arranged courses of study are offered: Classical, Modern Languages, English, and Commercial. Five resident instructors are engaged, and fifty boarding pupils accommodated. The handsome uniform—coat, vest, and pants—costs $23.00 to $25.00.

The cost of board, with furnished room and tuition in all the English, Classical, Modern Languages, Scientific and Commercial branches—including Latin, Greek, French, German, Drawing, Vocal Music, History, Natural Sciences, Rhetoric, English Literature, Military and Gymnastic Drill, and use of arms and accoutrements, is $400.00 per year, payable quarterly in advance.

Portchester.

Portchester Commercial, Collegiate, and Military Institute.—Portchester is pleasantly situated on Long Island Sound, twenty-five miles from New York City, and is in frequent daily communication with it, by the New Haven and Hartford Railroad. It is noted for its healthfulness, its pleasant surroundings, and its beautiful scenery.

The buildings of the Institute are ample for the accommodation of twenty-five boarding pupils. The entire building is heated by steam, lighted by gas, and furnished with bath and wash-rooms of modern appointment. In these respects the building is second to none in the country.

The course of study in the Institute is liberal and designed to qualify the pupil for his entrance in any of the business pursuits of life, or for his admission into College, the Naval Academy, or West Point.

The Principal has had twenty-one years' experience in his profession. He will be the companion of those entrusted to his care that he may be their constant mentor in their studies, in their recreations, and in the home circle, and thus avail himself of every opportunity, as it arises, for their improvement. He is assisted by a liberal number of Professors, gentlemen of excellence and ability in their respective departments.

The grounds comprise four and a half acres. They contain a gymnasium, ball and croquet grounds. They are tastefully laid out and abound in a variety of fruit and shade trees, and shrubbery.

Provisions for physical development have been made with unusual care, the necessity of a sound body for a sound mind being fully appreciated. The military drill, the gymnasium, the play-ground, and boating and bathing in their seasons are the accessories to this object.

Reports of the progress of the pupil are sent to parents and guardians at the close of every second month, and of their examination and standing in their studies at the close of the year.

Reference may be made to the Rt. Rev. Horatio Potter, D.D., LL.D., D.C.L., New York City, the Rev. Joseph H. Ryland, D.D., New York City, the Rev. Brockholst Morgan, Portchester, N. Y., the Hon. William E. Curtis, New York City, Thomas McMullen, Esq., New York City, and others.

Eastman Business College is the only Business Training School in the world where the course of study is practical instead of theoretical; where the students act as buyers, sellers, traders, bankers, book-keepers, and accountants in actual business operations; where the bank-bills, fractional currency, and merchandise are actually used and have a real value, and every transaction is just as legitimate and bona fide as in any mercantile, banking, or business house. Each day's business is based upon quotations in the New York market. It is the only institution that turns out practically educated business men, and that assists its graduates to situations by a systematic arrangement with business houses and corporations of the country. Tuition fee for prescribed course is $50.00. Total expenses, board, tuition, and stationery, $100.00 to $120.00. For further information address the President.

Pelham Institute; Boarding and Day School for Boys, will re-open September 9th, 1878. For catalogues, address S. PELHAM, POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y.

Poughkeepsie Female Academy.—This Institution, located in the beautiful city of Poughkeepsie, on the banks, and amid the enchanting scenery of the Hudson, is midway between New York and Albany.

For ease of access, by railroad and steamboat; for healthfulness of climate, both in summer and winter; for literary and refined society, and numerous educational, moral, and religious institutions, the location is unsurpassed in this country.

The buildings are ample and commodious. The rooms are large, well ventilated, lighted by gas, and furnished with regard to taste, convenience, and comfort. In the Laboratory is an extensive Philosophical and Chemical apparatus. A spacious Gymnasium, properly furnished, is connected with the other buildings.

The instruction, in every department, is systematic and thorough. The Principal is assisted by Mrs. Wright, as Matron, and by accomplished and experienced Teachers. The Rector gives familiar lectures on moral and religious subjects; also, the duties and habits of daily life for the development of a strong and vigorous physical system. During the year Lectures are given by others on literary and scientific subjects. The Bible is the basis of all moral and religious culture, and by it pupils are taught to form those principles which are essential to the accomplished woman.

Languages.—An accomplished English education, as it is of the first importance, is here given the preference; but, when pupils are sufficiently advanced, they are urged to enrich their minds with the treasures of the Latin tongue; also, the German and French. The latter is in charge of a French gentleman of rare accomplishments and many years' experience, who not only devotes the most of his time to the pupils in the class-room, but meets them daily at table and in social intercourse. German is also taught by a gentleman thoroughly qualified for the place.

Music.—In this Department, both instrumental and vocal, — as in every other, — there is nothing superficial, the aim being to impart a thorough knowledge of the science. A study of the old masters, as well as the most classical composers of modern times, is continually inculcated upon the more advanced pupils for the development of a scholarly taste.

Course of study.—The course of study is arranged in two Departments: Academic and Collegiate; the former preparatory for the latter, which is designed for four years, including Modern and Ancient History, Rhetoric, the Higher Mathematics, Natural Sciences, Mental and Moral Philosophy, Logic, English Literature, Kames' Elements of Criticism, Butler's Analogy, the Fine Arts, and the Literature of the French, German, and Latin Languages. The completion of this course, or its equivalent, entitles the student to a Diploma.

In both the Academic and Collegiate Departments much attention is given to Composition, Elocution, and Penmanship.

Parents desirous of having their daughters enter the Collegiate Department of Vassar College will here find every facility for a thorough preparation. Reference is made to Faculty of the College respecting the qualifications of those who have gone to that institution from the Academy.

Domestic Department.—Careful attention is paid by Mrs. Wright to the health of pupils; and, as Matron, she endeavors to act a mothers' part towards those entrusted to her care. The table is always plentifully supplied with the best the market affords; and every effort is made to make this not only a first-class school, but also a pleasant, happy home for girls while being trained for life's work.

Government is parental. The manners and habits of pupils are vigilantly supervised by all who have charge of either Academic or Domestic Departments. A conscientious regard for right is cherished in the minds of the pupils; each one reporting daily her observance of the rules.

Unnecessary Expenses.—A large part of the expenses of many young ladies at school is entirely unnecessary, and what is worse, decidedly detrimental both to themselves and their mates, and a source of great trouble to their teachers. As to dress, we would have our pupils "adorn themselves with modest apparel," not with "gold or pearls, or costly array." Let the whole school outfit be characterized by simplicity, freedom, comfort, and perfect neatness. Good taste requires this; health and the interests of the institution require it.

tastefully arranged, within three hundred yards of railroad depot, and elevated, affording a view of the Sound. The beautiful walks and drives, the delightful scenery, and the refined social character of the inhabitants, are among the attractive features of the place.

The Course of Study is liberal and thorough; none but experienced and efficient teachers are employed in the several departments. Strict attention is given to the moral and religious culture of the young ladies. Religious truth is inculcated without sectarian bearing. The social intercourse between pupils and teachers is sought to be based on mutual confidence, and is only limited and regulated by such rules as are observed in cultivated families. The heart is aimed to be cultivated as well as the manners, so that the latter may but express the kind feelings of the former. The usages of refined society are carefully observed.

Ample opportunities are afforded for exercising in to open air, which is encouraged and facilitated by large and attractive grounds handsomely laid out in garden and lawn, ornamented by shrubbery, sufficiently shaded by trees of various kinds, and surrounded and intersected by walks and drives. There are large and well-arranged croquet-grounds, so as to be inviting to those who may wish to entertain themselves with this species of recreation.

Frequent reviews and examinations occur during the course, from which no pupil is excused, except in case of sickness. Certificates of proficiency are granted to those who have pursued their studies to the satisfaction of their teachers, and diplomas are awarded to those who have completed the full course.

The school-year consists of forty weeks, commencing September 16th. Board and tuition in English branches, per annum, $350.00. Latin, French, German, Spanish, Italian, Drawing, Painting, Music, etc., extra. Address Mrs. S. J. LIFE, Principal, RYE, N.Y.

Dr. Holbrook's Classical and Military Institute.—Established 1866. Situated about one mile from the village of Sing Sing, N. Y., and thirty from New York City, it combines accessibility, beauty of scenery, and salubrity of climate. It overlooks the Hudson River, from just below the Highlands to the Palisades, comprising Haverstraw Bay, and Tappan Zee, which the magic pen of Washington Irving has made too well known to need description.

New York.

The building which has been greatly enlarged and improved possesses conveniences adapted to the welfare and comfort of the pupils. The play and parade grounds are ample and a Drill Hall is attached for daily exercises and as a resort in stormy weather. Dr. Holbrook has had more than thirty years' experience as principal of a school and his success has been attested both numerically and by the warm and lasting friendships that have been formed with pupils and parents. The discipline of the school is persuasive rather than imperative.

The chief aim of the Principal is to build up manly Christian character, and to secure, as he feels justified in saying he has heretofore so successfully done, a voluntary submission to law.

Those hours have been selected for recitation and study which, in the long experience of the Principal, have proved best adapted for the purpose. It is the aim of the Principal to engage competent and earnest teachers who shall stimulate vigorous effort on the part of pupils.

The Military Department, under the charge of a competent instructor, might properly come under the head of discipline. It is found to be promotive of habits of order and obedience, and thus facilitates mental processes and studious habits. It also secures a sufficient amount of exercise to any who may not be inclined to go to the play-ground, and also begets an erect carriage, a fuller physical development, and good manners. It will, however, be subordinated to the higher purposes of the school as an academical institution. To promote the interests of this department and secure uniformity, a prescribed dress is required.

Terms: Board and tuition for the year, including Latin, Greek, French and German, all the English branches, washing, light, and ordinary mending, $400.00, payable $200.00 at the beginning of the school year, and $200.00 on the first of January. An extra charge is made of $2.00 for stationery, $.50 for pew rent. A charge of $5.00 is also made to cover, in part, the expenses of closing exercises, also $1.00 for library. Music $70.00 per year and $10.00 for use of piano. Rev. D. A. HOLBROOK, Ph. D., Principal and Proprietor.

The college edifice is spacious and commodious, well ventilated, warmed by steam, lighted by gas, with ample bathing facilities, and equipped in all particulars for health and comfort. The gymnasium is new, large, and well-appointed.

The curriculum embraces three Courses of Study, designed to prepare boys for the Universities, the United States Military Academy, the Naval School, or Business:

1. A Classical Course, including Latin and Greek.
2. A Semi-Classical Course, including Latin, and German or the Elements of Physical Science.
3. A Modern Language Course, including German, French (elective), and the Elements of Physical Science.

In History, Mathematics, and English studies generally, the three Courses are identical. French may be taken as an Elective, without charge, by any Cadets who have reached the Fourth Form.

The domestic organization and routine is military. The College Year is divided into a Christmas Half and an Easter Half, beginning as follows: Christmas Half, on the first Wednesday in September; Easter Half, on the Wednesday which falls on, or next after, Jan. 3rd. Pupils are admitted at any time.

Tarrytown is situated twenty-five miles from New York in the most beautiful region on the Hudson River, and has become one of the most elegant and attractive rural neighborhoods in America. The Home Institute is eligibly located on College Avenue, next to St. Mark's Episcopal Church. The secluded grounds afford ample room for the health and pleasure of the pupils. Special care is taken in all the sanitary regulations of the school. The rooms are well ventilated, thoroughly warmed, and furnished with regard to comfort and convenience. The table is always carefully and abundantly supplied. A portion of each day is set apart for out-door exercise.

The school combines the advantages of a first-class Literary Institution with the well ordered proprieties of a Christian home. Since the number of boarders is limited, the individuality of the pupil is not lost. Each comes under the direct influence of the Principal, and particular care is given to culture, deportment, health, thorough systematic study, and orderly habits in all things. No pupil will be retained in the school who is persistently negligent of duty, or whose influence is plainly felt to be injurious.

The Course of Study is comprised in four Departments — Primary, Junior, Academic, and Collegiate. There is a special course for those who design to enter Vassar College, or prepare for the Harvard examinations.

Instruction in French is under the direction of an able and experienced native teacher, and the language is spoken at prescribed times by the pupils. Instrumental Music and Vocal Culture receive much attention. All pupils in music are expected to take part in frequent private rehearsals. Vocal Music in class is taught by a Professor, without extra charge. — The pupils are thoroughly instructed in the principles of Elocution by a competent teacher. Lectures on Philosophy, Chemistry, &c., are given during the year.

Pupils can enter at any time and will be charged from the date at which they enter to the end of the school year, unless otherwise provided by special agreement at the time of admission. A liberal discount made in favor of the daughters of clergymen of all denominations, also for two or more pupils from the same family. The school year commences on the Wednesday nearest the middle of September, and continues till the fourth week in June. It is divided into four quarters of ten weeks each. Terms: for Boarding Scholars — Board and Tuition, Primary and Junior Departments, each $300.00 per annum; Academic and Collegiate Departments, each $325.00 per annum. Irving Institute. — Located at Tarrytown, on the Hudson River, within an hour's ride from New York. The buildings are eligibly situated on high ground, command charming views of the Hudson, and are sufficiently retired to be exempt from the unfavorable influence of town life. The sleeping apartments are light and cheerful, supplied with gas, and well ventilated. The Assembly Room is spacious and airy, is furnished on the most approved plan, and is supplied with all needful apparatus to conduct the work of education. A library and Reading-room, adjoining the parlors of the Institute, has been handsomely fitted up and liberally supplied with books and periodicals suited to the tastes and necessities of youth. The grounds are ample and attractive, well-shaded, and afford every facility for out-door recreation.

The object of the school is to prepare boys for business or college. The instruction is designed to be thorough. The Principal has had a wide experience in the work of education in this and other institutions, and will spare no pains to make the progress of the pupils under his charge a real one. Students on admission are examined and classed according to their abilities and attainments. To insure the highest culture, frequent lecturers on instructive subjects are given to the school, and a special course, illustrated with experiments, on Chemistry and Natural Philosophy.

The school is limited in number, with a view both to maintain its select character and to secure to the scholars that degree of personal care and attention which is not practicable in a large institution. The health of the pupils is regarded as of first importance and the aim constantly is to combine study and recreation, mental labor, and physical exercise. By gymnastic exercises, properly and judiciously conducted, all the best results of the military drill are secured, without any of its evils.

The school-year consists of one session, commencing on the second Tuesday in September and ending on the third Friday in June. There are two intermissions, one at Christmas, and the other at Easter. There are two courses of instruction, a Classical and a Commercial course, designed respectively to prepare for college or business. Those pupils, who are not sufficiently advanced to enter upon either course will be assigned to preparatory studies.

Terms: For board, tuition, and necessary expenses, per annum, $500.00; Instruction on the Piano, or other instrument, or in vocal culture, per half-session, $40.00; Drawing, or Painting, $20.00. Tuition of Day Scholars, per annum, $100.00. Address for catalogues and all desired information, A. ARMAGNAC, A.M., Principal, TARRYTOWN-ON-THE-HUDSON, N. Y.

Jackson Military Institute. — The plan of this school is framed with judicious reference to the best culture of the pupils, imparting to them a thorough preparation for business, or admission to college, to the West Point Military Academy, or to the Naval Academy at Annapolis. The locality is especially free from temptations, and is one which, in all respects, is most desirable for a boarding-school. The buildings and grounds are ample, well-shaded, attractive, and home-like. The school-rooms are commodious, well ventilated, and supplied with furniture of the latest style, adapted to the greatest comfort and health of the pupils.

After more than twenty-five years of personal experience in school management the Principal cherishes an abiding faith in the doctrine that the perfection of discipline consists in the union of kindness, decision, and firmness. Corporal punishment is never allowed. Rather than resort to such extreme, not to say doubtful, measures, the incorrigible offender will be restored to his parents. Due attention is given to physical training. To secure the best development in this direction, those methods are adopted which unite Recreation with Exercise, including gymnastics and the Military Drill. The military feature made, not the end, but the means to a higher end, as it exists in this and other similar institutions, has proved its great utility as an element in the system of education. It is enough to say—what experience confirms—that without any evils, it has, among others, the following important advantages: (1) It is regular and systematic. (2) It produces the best muscular development. (3) It gives an erect, manly, and graceful bearing. (4) It promotes neatness of person and of dress. (5) It fosters gentlemanly deportment. (6) It secures ready obedience to proper authority. (7) It teaches order, self-control, promptness, and exactness, all of which are essential elements of success in any department of business or professional life.

The Business Department is designed to meet the wants of those who may desire to devote their attention exclusively to those branches deemed essential in preparation for commercial pursuits. Special provision is made for those who desire to fit themselves for employment in the attractive and ever-widening field of Telegraphy. Pupils will be thoroughly instructed, theoretically and practically, making them masters of Telegraphy, both as a Science and an Art.

Terms: For board, ordinary washing and mending, bed and bedding, fuel, gas, and tuition in all the English branches, the Classics, and Modern Languages, per School-Year, $450.00.

Trinity Kindergarten.

Ursuline Convent of the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

This Institution, incorporated with the privileges of a College, is under the direction of the Ursuline Nuns, whose principal end and aim being the instruction of young girls in Christian piety and becoming manners, every incentive to virtue, science, and refinement is strenuously employed.

The spiritual charge of the house is intrusted to one of the Rev. Jesuit Fathers, and the greatest possible attention is given to the religious training of the pupils; this feature, combined with the thorough method of instruction, and the unrivaled advantages of the musical department, renders this Institution worthy, in a peculiar manner, of the patronage of a discriminating public.

The system of discipline is firm and uniform, yet mild, the "home principle" predominating. Every care is taken to promote the health of the pupils; active exercise in the open air is enforced by rule.

The Course of Studies embraces all the branches necessary to the acquisition of a solid and refined education. Gold medals and diplomas are conferred on graduates. Special classes are formed for those who wish to become teachers.

A fine library of choice and standard works is open to the young ladies (free of charge), and every effort is made to refine their minds by a judicious course of reading under the direction of their respective teachers. No boarder received unless well recommended.

N. B.—On account of the great scarcity of money at the present time, applications for the admission of pupils at reduced terms, will receive the most favorable consideration that the circumstances of the Institution will admit.

Its courses of study, both Classical and Scientific, are thorough and liberal. It has won a high rank among American colleges for the successful diligence of its students, and the fidelity and skill of its Professors. Its location (9 miles from Philadelphia, on the Penna. R. R.) is remarkably healthful, its grounds extensive and attractive, and it provides for its members an agreeable and comfortable home. Endeavoring to promote sound mora, as well as intellectual culture, it aims to be a family of Christian scholars.

The Laboratories, Museum, Lecture and Class Rooms have been thoroughly remodelled this year to meet the advanced requirements of the times, and new apparatus likewise added. There is an excellent Astronomical Observatory, with an 8½ inch Equatorial Telescope and other valuable instruments. In the direct use by the students themselves of the

(From Media Record, Media, Pennsylvania, June 19th, 1878.)

"A recent visit of inspection to Mr. SHORTLIDGE'S MEDIA ACADEMY has afforded us much pleasure, which we are sure our readers will be glad to share through the columns of the RECORD.

Pennsylvania.

This institution has, in Media, a favored location, on account of our temperance charter, the churches, mail, telegraph, railroad, and other facilities. But aside from these, its brilliant success is due largely to other causes, which we shall briefly note.

The school and grounds at this season present a fine appearance, and the students who remain for the summer, are enjoying in turn a short daily school session, base ball, quiet and rest on the lawn under the beautiful shade trees, fishing, boating, and a score of amusements which only a school boy knows.

The building which presents such a fine exterior, is a model for school purposes in its appointments. As you enter the large hall, you notice on each hand fine cabinets of minerals, fully illustrating Dana's Manual, and at the far end of the large school room, cases of philosophical apparatus, to afford full practical experiments in the ordinary text-books on pneumatics, hydraulics, hydrostatics, mechanical powers, electricity, galvanism, optics, acoustics, astronomy, etc. On the walls hang charts and maps to explain many subjects, such as geography, history, physiology, literature, etc., and there is blackboard surface by the hundred square feet. Adjoining the school room are two other class rooms, all supplied with appropriate furniture, maps, etc., for class work. In the story below the school room are two other class rooms, and a laboratory fitted up with cases, gas, and the other appointments for chemical analysis. In the three upper stories are the students' rooms, which look like first-class hotel accommodations. You see here nothing of the old boarding school dormitory. These rooms are for two, and are fitted out with neat cottage suits, including bureau, wardrobe, single or double bedstead, as the pupils prefer, good mattress and pillows, blankets, neat white spreads, etc., wash-stand, wash-bowl, pitcher, etc., and towel-rack and table. Most of them are tastefully ornamented with pictures, and have a strip of carpet spread on the clean looking oiled floor. There are fifty-five of these rooms for the students. While in the upper stories we enjoyed a view of the Delaware river nearly as far as Philadelphia. On our return to the first floor we noticed the large dining room, capable of seating one hundred pupils. This is used also for some of the school lectures, of which Mr. Shortlidge has a large number each year, on the different branches pursued. The dining and culinary departments of the school are complete and receive no less attention from Mr. and Mrs. Shortlidge than the scholastic department. It is the testimony of the entire school, instructors and students, without exception, that the table is excellent, and everybody knows that a school boy's appetite needs a good caterer.

Looking over the catalogue and circular, we notice the academy is recommended and patronized by some of the best known men in the country. By Judge Van Boesen of New York, Governor Rountt of Colorado, Chief Justice Hawley of Nevada, John F. Robinson, Esq., of Arkansas, J. Lee Hopkins of Tennessee, Gen. Martin M. C., of Illinois, Commander Breesse, of the U. S. N., Prof. Blauvelt, U. S. Naval Academy, Gen. Chas. H. T. Collins, of Philadelphia, Samuel Baberott, of Pennsylvania, Col. Joshua Clayton, of Delaware, Col. John Tilghman, of Maryland, Mr. C. A. Trowbridge, of N. Y., Manuel Garcia, etc. During the past year Hon. Fernando Wood of New York City, had two sons with Mr. Shortlidge. But whether the sons of men so well known as the above or not the students are all of the best and most desirable class of patrons, as the reputation they have established in Media will attest. The testimonials from many of the patrons are of the most discriminating and flattering character, commending the location, the accommodations, the discipline and home-like character, the methods of instruction, the thoroughness and efficiency characterizing the entire institution.

We might add much to this hasty sketch, but space will not allow. It is sufficient to quote so good an authority as Richard J. Hinton of California, whose son was at the school three years. "Parents find it not only a good school, but a home-like, cheerful establishment, where rational ideas of training combine to make that wholesome mental, moral, and physical atmosphere which is so necessary to the growth of healthy youth."

(From the Media "American," Media, Penn., June 19th, 1878.)

"This Institution closed its fourth school year in Media, on Thursday last. Mr Shortlidge did not interrupt the regular class work at the end of the term by any exercises which may be called a "Commencement." We are glad, however, in reporting the closing exercises of our institutions of learning, to include the MEDIA ACADEMY, referring in general to the work of the year. The school opened September 10th, and closed June 14th, 1878.

Pennsylvania.

There were ten teachers and one hundred pupils. The corps of instructors comprises one Harvard graduate, four Yale graduates, a French professor, a German professor, a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, a professor of book-keeping and penmanship, and a professor of vocal and instrumental music. The courses of study are English, business, scientific, and classical. Pupils have been fitted at the Academy this year to enter Yale, Princeton, Lehigh, and Lafayette Colleges, but a far larger number were fitting for business.

Altogether the past year was the most successful Mr. Shortidge has had. The class of young men and boys was unusually excellent. The students won the respect of our citizens by their uniformly gentlemanly demeanor: they always showed a dignified self-respect, not generally characteristic of school-boys, which speaks well for the discipline and influence of the Academy. We gladly make record of this, as it was noticed by our people, and favorably commented upon by all. But it is not surprising that Mr. Shortidge has built up a first-class Institution in our Borough. He is unwearied in his work, scarcely ever leaving the Academy for even an hour at a time during school sessions; every department thus feels at all times the master's presence. We predict for the MEDIA ACADEMY increased popularity and usefulness."

Wheeling.

Academy of the Visitation. — Established 1848. Commandingly situated at Mount de Chantal, about three miles from Wheeling. The unrivaled healthfulness of the locality, the pure mountain air, wholesome country diet, and facilities for out-door exercises and innocent amusements offer peculiar advantages to pupils of delicate constitutions.

The course of instruction embraces all the usual requisites of a thorough and accomplished education. The institution possesses an excellent philosophical and chemical apparatus and also a library of choice and standard works. French is taught, not merely in the class but practically, by conversation. The renown for superiority in music is so wide-spread as to have made this Academy almost a national one. One point in particular that should recommend Mount de Chantal to the sensible parent is the influence exercised to form the pupils in views and habits of economy. Simplicity in dress is enforced by rule. The rates for board and tuition are exceedingly moderate.

Terms, per session of five months, $100.00; Music, $24.00. For further particulars, address the DIRECTRESS.

vision of one of the regular College Masters, with such assistance in the general discipline and preparation of College lessons as is from time to time found necessary. A Lady Superintendent attends to the domestic comforts of the boys and has special charge of their wardrobe. The culinary arrangements are in the hands of an experienced steward.

The large Gymnasium and the other means of amusement within the College Grounds preclude the necessity of frequent visits to the city by the boarders, who are directly under supervision during play hours.

Extensive additions and alterations have been made, both to the College and the Resident School-houses in the College Grounds, with the view of increasing the efficiency of the College, and of adding materially to the comfort, both of the resident and non-resident pupils.

Tuition Fee, $12.50, $11.50, and $10.50 per term. Tuition and board (including washing, seat in church, and ordinary medical attendance and medicine) $52.50 per term.

Ontario Ladies' College. — Our fine new buildings will afford largely increased accommodations. The health of the pupils is made a special consideration; large halls, lofty ceilings, extensive pleasure grounds, good table and series of physical exercises. Numerous and able teachers for all departments. Mr. Torrington is charge of the Music. Fifteen per cent reduction to yearly pupils. Calendars furnished on application to Rev. J. E. SANDERSON, M.A., Principal.

The Whitby High School. — This long-established and well-known school re-opens on Monday, September 9th. The Head Master is prepared to receive into his house pupils as boarders, to whose progress in study and general behavior the strictest attention will be paid. Prominent features of the school are:—

1. An efficient staff of masters well acquainted with the Canadian System of Education.
2. Thorough organization, discipline, and successful work. (See official reports.) Every pupil will receive a due share of attention, no matter what his course of study.
3. Prestige. This school claims to have sent more pupils to Toronto University than any other High School in the Province. Since 1863 not less than 75 pupils have been matriculated into the various Universities, and nearly all of them have obtained honors, while many of them have taken a leading place at the Examinations.
4. Excellent location, well appointed buildings, library, laboratory, museum, military drill, drawing, etc. Ample facilities for cricket, boating, bathing, etc., convenient to the school.
5. Special Classes for special work.

Ladies' School, 186 Bleury Street. Mrs. STONE, Principal.

Miss Lawder's School for the board and education of young ladies, will re-open on Wednesday, September 4th.

Mrs. Lovell's Young Ladies' Class. — The plan adopted by Mrs. Lovell aims to unite the advantages of sound literary training with the pleasures and safeguards of home.

The regular course of study embraces History, English Literature, Composition, Rhetoric, Mathematics, reading aloud from British Classics and other standard works, and Vocal Music. Extra course includes the French and German Languages and Instrumental Music.

Music receives special attention, supplemented by weekly rehearsals at which the pupils are called upon to perform. These rehearsals secure the double object of arousing a spirit of emulation in the Class, and overcoming the nervousness to which many are subject when called upon to perform outside their immediate family circle.

While sectarianism is studiously avoided, the Bible is made the standard and guide in morals and government of the Class, and every effort is made to impress upon pupils a full sense of their duties and responsibilities as Christian women.

Pupils may enter at any time. — Charges from date of entry. A few boarders can be accommodated. Circulars with terms, furnished on application. The best references given. Address Mrs. LOVELL, Principal, 1283 St. Catharine Street.

N O T I C E.

The difficulties attending the publication of any new statistical work and the neglect of many persons to furnish the information requested by the circular sent them, is a sufficient excuse for such errors and omissions as may be found in the foregoing List and in the Appendix.

These difficulties will be gradually overcome through the persistent efforts of the Publisher, while at the same time the Managers of all Educational Institutions will appreciate the obvious necessity of having the schools under their charge correctly and fully recorded in this List, even if for no other reason than as a matter of simple justice to their special sections — educational facilities being attractions that cannot be overestimated.

The next revised List will be published in the Year-Book of Education for 1879, which will go to press early in February next, and all corrections or notices should be sent to the Publisher before the end of the present year.

Special attention will be devoted to the preparation for that List of a comprehensive and reliable enumeration of the Universities and the principal High, Art, Special, and Private Schools of Europe. It is the intention of the Publisher to provide himself with very full information respecting these Institutions so as to be able to answer all inquirers—now rapidly increasing in number, as the advantages of European education in certain lines of study become more and more apparent.

Following the next regular publication of the Year-Book of Education, Steiger's Educational Directory for 1879 will be sent to press early in July next, and a still more comprehensive and carefully revised List of Educational Institutions (other than public schools), both in America and in Europe, will be given therein.

Information of this character will, in like manner, continue to appear in the annual issues of the Year-Book and the Educational Directory, twice in every succeeding year, viz.: in the months of March and August.

September, 1878.

INTRODUCTION

(like the Catalogue itself reprinted from the Year-Book of Education for 1878. A new edition of this Catalogue will be issued as part of the Year-Book of Education for 1879).

In reference to the Catalogue herewith presented the publisher is compelled to say that it proves to be very far from what he intended and has endeavored to make it.

In the absence of any similar catalogue which might have served as a basis in the compilation of this one, he has been obliged to rely mainly upon his own personal labor and research, collecting the titles of such publications as seemed to come within the scope of his plan. To obtain correct information as to the full title (as printed on the title-page), the number of volumes of which each complete work consists, the size and number of pages, illustrations, etc., the place of publication, styles of binding, price, and other data necessary or desirable in order to convey a clear conception of each publication, has been a most difficult task—in many cases indeed an impossibility; hence the incompleteness of a number of titles. It is, therefore, in no degree surprising that this Catalogue should contain numerous errors and show many unintentional omissions, which will be discovered upon examination.

The compiler is fully aware that the classification of the titles is especially open to criticism; but he asks indulgence on the plea that the labor proved too large to be mastered in the leisure hours outside of his onerous every-day duties, temporarily increased by the removal of his business to the building 25 Park Place. While making this declaration and explanation of shortcomings, however, the publisher, in this case, prefers not to suppress an imperfect compilation, but to issue it, as it stands, trusting that it will be considered better than no catalogue at all. He will, of course, endeavor to improve the next issue, hoping to receive aid from persons generally interested in the cause of education, and especially from publishers and authors, who will undoubtedly desire that a full and correct enumeration of their works shall be made in such subsequent editions of the Catalogue as will be prepared for the future issues of the Year-Book of Education.

The Catalogue, it may be well to say, has been compiled with special regard to the wants of American readers; and, therefore, American editions have received the preference, as being more easily obtainable than foreign publications. British, German, and French works, however, have likewise been enumerated; and it is proposed, in succeeding volumes, not only to give a fuller representation to the educational literature of these nations, but to include, likewise, similar publications of other countries. Books known to be out of print, have been omitted.

The system of quoting authors' names in their natural order which has been followed in this Catalogue differs from the general custom, but it is hoped that the advantages of this innovation will cause it to meet with some favor.

The abbreviations adopted are as follows:

&	and	hf.	half	ro.	roan
bds.	boards	illd.	illustrated	russ.	Russia leather
bo.	bound	ills.	illustrations	s.	shilling
cf.	calf	interl.	interleaved with	sh.	sheep

gt. s.	gilt side	pt., pts.	portrait,—s		etc.
gt. t.	gilt top	rev. ed.	revised edition

The several abbreviations are used in this order: The figure following the title or the statement in regard to illustrations etc., indicates the size; and the figure following the perpendicular line (|) refers to the number of pages. Then follow, successively, the place of publication, style of binding, and price.

Where information could not be obtained, the space is left blank.

It will, of course, be understood that, unless otherwise stated, each work consists of but one volume, and that the description of the same refers to the last edition, i. e., the one now in the market.

In conclusion, the request is repeated that all who are in a position to make or suggest any corrections, additions, or emendations in the list of publications here enumerated, be pleased to communicate such to the undersigned at their earliest convenience.

E. Steiger.

BOOKS

OF INTEREST TO EDUCATORS GENERALLY.

The following pages differ from those preceding both in style and contents. Every publisher and manufacturer represented in these pages has been invited to describe his books or other goods in such manner as he deemed most suitable, and, as a result, the marked diversity in the collected lists imparts to each freshness and novelty and secures careful attention for all.

The attempt, made in several instances, to add to the notices of special books terse but comprehensive descriptions, enhances the value of such mention and would seem to be the next best thing to an inspection of the book itself. And, in the same manner, the enumeration of the full titles, the notes appended thereto, the system of arrangement, and the whole technical composition of the list, purposely discarding the usual prosaic regularity, will keep the reader's interest alive to the end, so that not even the smallest notice, however placed, will be overlooked.

Books which, classed in any other manner, might be called important or unimportant respectively, here stand on an equal footing claiming the same attention from the careful reader, and the special position occupied will in no wise be regarded as an indication of the relative worth or value of any one book. This is, in fine, a list which gives to inquirers an idea of the distinctive features and qualities of each book, thus aiding book-buyers in their selections.

Another and important feature of this list, to which special attention is invited, is the full Index of Subjects, at the end, the peculiarity and value of which as an aid, a suggestion, and a guide, the reader will not fail to appreciate.

MACMILLAN & CO.'S SCIENTIFIC CLASS BOOKS AND MANUALS.

It is the intention of the Publishers to produce a complete series of Scientific Manuals, affording full and accurate elementary information, conveyed in clear and lucid English. The authors are well known as among the foremost men of their several departments; and their names form a ready guarantee for the high character of the books. Subjoined is a list of some that have already appeared.

ANATOMY.

Lessons in Elementary Anatomy. By ST. GEORGE MIVART, F. R. S. With upwards of 400 Illustrations. 16mo, $2.00

"It may be questioned whether any other work on anatomy contains in like compass so proportionately great a mass of information."—Lancet.

ASTRONOMY.

Elementary Lessons in Astronomy. By J. NORMAN LOCKYER, F. R. S. With numerous illustrations. New Edition. 18mo, $1.75 Questions on, $0.50

"The most fascinating of elementary books on the science."—Nonconformist.

BIOLOGY.

A Course of Practical Instruction in Elementary Biology. By T. H. HUXLEY, LL. D. Assisted by H. N. MARTIN, B. A., M. B., D. Sc., Professor of Biology in Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore. Third Edition, revised. 12mo, cloth, $2.00

"The work is entirely practical, and should be one of the first books read by the student of natural history."—Medical Record.

BOTANY.

Text-Book of Botany, Morphological and Physiological. By JULIUS SACHS. Translated and Annotated. By A. W. BENNETT, M. A., F. R. S., and W. T. DYER, M. A., F. R. S. 8vo, cloth, $12.50

The Popular Science Monthly says: "This admirable translation of the work of Professor Sachs supplies a want long felt in our literature."

"It is thoroughly up to the present state of botanical science. It is written in a clear, vigorous, and fascinating style, and is admirably illustrated. * * * Messrs. Bennett and Dyer have performed their task thoroughly, and earned the gratitude of every student of botany."—Spectator.

CHEMISTRY.

Lessons in Elementary Chemistry, Inorganic and Organic. By HENRY E. RUSCOE, F. R. S., Professor of Chemistry in Owens College, Manchester. With numerous illustrations. New Edition. 16mo, cloth, $1.50

"We unhesitatingly pronounce it the best of all our elementary treatises on Chemistry."—Medical Times.

HEAT.

An Elementary Treatise on Heat. By BALFOUR STEWART, LL. D., F. R. S., Professor of Natural Philosophy at Owens College. Third Edition, enlarged. 16mo, 477 pp., $3.00

LOGIC.

Elementary Lessons in Logic; Deductive and Inductive, with copious Questions and Examples, and a Vocabulary of Logical Terms. By W. STANLEY JEVONS, M. A., Professor of Logic in Owens College, Manchester. New edition, 1877. 16mo, $1.25

"It brings before the reader in a concise and very intelligible manner the whole body of recognized logical doctrines. Refers them to the great principles or so-called laws of thought from which they appear to be derived, furnishes the student with a variety of examples, and indicates the sources where he may find a full discussion of the subject treated."—Spectator.

MORAL PHILOSOPHY.

Hand-Book of Moral Philosophy. By the Rev. HENRY CALDERWOOD, LL. D., Professor of Moral Philosophy, University of Edinburgh. Third Edition. 12mo, $2.00

"It is, we feel convinced, the best hand book on the subject, intellectually and morally, and does infinite credit to its author."—Standard.

NATURAL PHILOSOPHY.

Natural Philosophy for Beginners. With numerous Examples. By I. TODDUNSTER, M.A., F.R.S.

Part I. The Properties of Solid and Fluid Bodies. 18mo, cloth, $1.50

Part II. Sound, Light, and Heat. 18mo, cloth, $1.50

Lessons in Elementary Physics. By BALFOUR STEWART, F.R.S., Professor of Natural Philosophy in Owens College, Manchester. With numerous illustrations. New Edition. 16mo, $1.50

"The 'beau ideal' of a scientific text-book, clear, accurate, and thorough."—Educational Times.

PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY.

Elementary Lessons in Physical Geography. By ARCHIBALD GEIKIE, F. R. S., Professor of Geology, etc., Edinburgh. With numerous illustrations and Colored Maps. 16mo, $1.75. Questions on, $0.60

"Anything more different from and more superior to the ordinary school-book it is impossible to imagine. Were text-books adopted on their merits we should expect to see this one supplant all others on Physical Geography."—Christian Union.

PHYSIOLOGY.

Lessons in Elementary Physiology. By T. H. HUXLEY, F.R.S. With numerous illustrations. New Edition, 18mo, cloth, $1.50. Questions on, $0.50

"Unquestionably the clearest and most complete elementary treatise on this subject that we possess in any language."—Westminster Review.

A Course of Elementary Practical Physiology. By M. FOSTER, M.D., F.R.S. Assisted by J. M. LANGLEY, B.A. 12mo, cloth, $2.00

"This work will prove of great value to the teacher of physiology, as an aid to the preparation of an eminently practical course of lectures and demonstrations of elementary experimental physiology."—Medical Record.

A Text-Book of Physiology. By M. FOSTER, M. A., M.D., F.R.S. Second Edition, revised. 8vo, cloth, $6.50; sheep, $7.50

"I recommend it to my students as the latest, and in some respects the best, Physiology in the English Language."—From a Letter from Professor BURT G. WILDER.

POLITICAL ECONOMY.

Manual of Political Economy. By HENRY FAWCETT, M.P., University of Cambridge. Fifth Edition, revised and enlarged. 12mo, cloth, 663 pp., $3.50

"It forms one of the best introductions to the principles of the science, and its practical applications."—Daily News.

Political Economy for Beginners. By MILLICENT G. FAWCETT. New Edition. 18mo, $1.00

"We cannot conceive a book more fitted for popularizing this science than the clear, compact, and comprehensive treatise, for which we are indebted to Mrs. Fawcett."—Daily News.

STEAM.

An Elementary Treatise on Steam. By JOHN PERRY, B.E.; Whitworth Scholar, etc., late Lecturer in Physics at Clifton College. With numerous Woodcuts, Numerical Examples and Exercises. 18mo, $1.50

"Mr. Perry has, in this compact little volume, brought together an immense amount of information, new told, regarding steam and its application, not the least of its merits being that it is suited to the capacities alike of the tyro in engineering science or the better grade of artisan."—Iron

SCRIBNER'S EDUCATIONAL SERIES

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS,

Successors to SCRIBNER, ARMSTRONG & CO.

GEOGRAPHIES, READERS, ARITHMETICS.

GUYOT'S GEOGRAPHIES.

NEW SERIES.

A COMMON SCHOOL COURSE IN TWO BOOKS.

The first two books of this series are amply sufficient to meet every need of a full common school course in this department of school work.

The awakening and advancement in Geographical teaching recently commenced and now progressing throughout the country, are due almost entirely to the general approval and adoption of the philosophic methods, so skilfully developed in Prof. GUYOT'S text-books, and brought to public attention by their wide use in schools.

For JUNIOR GRADES: (Common and Grammar Schools.) For SENIOR GRADES: (High Schools and Academics.)

New Elementary Geography, 96 pages.

New Intermediate Geography, 98 pages.

Physical Geography, 124 pages.

We will now furnish, as supplements to the New Intermediate Geography, bound in with regular edition, without extra charge, State Editions for New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Vermont, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan. Please specify in ordering.

SHELDON'S READERS.

NEW SERIES.

READING MADE ATTRACTIVE.

Reasons why Sheldon's New Readers excel all others.

1. Prof. SHELDON is the highest authority in Methods of Primary and Secondary Teaching.
2. The smaller books combine the phonic and word methods. They present lessons specially well arranged, and matter admirably adapted to awaken and interest children.
3. The larger books offer an unusual amount and variety of choice literary selections, fitted to give the widest scope in the practice of reading, and to enlarge and enrich the minds of the pupils.
4. The series is well graded, advancing by easy imperceptible steps; while the variety and attractiveness of the matter presented prevents weariness, and maintains a constant interest in the classes.
5. The books are exceptionally well illustrated and printed, on firm paper, and strongly bound.
6. They give the rudimental and essential elocutionary instruction in a separate Manual of Reading for the Teacher's use.
7. SHELDON'S READERS are widely used; they everywhere awaken enthusiasm on the subject of Reading, and thus give the best satisfaction in the school-room.

FELTER'S ARITHMETICS.

NEW SERIES.

A COMPLETE BUSINESS COURSE IN THREE BOOKS.

These three books in their newly-completed form, present a full course of Arithmetical instruction for all grades, from Primary to Academic inclusive. They are thoroughly practical, combining Mental and Written Arithmetic throughout.

The first two books meet every need except only the highest classes of Grammar Schools and High Schools, who will require the Advanced Arithmetic.

Primary Arithmetic, with or without answers.
New Intermediate Arithmetic, with or without answers.

Advanced Arithmetic, with or without answers.

RICHLY ILLUSTRATED TEXT-BOOKS IN SCIENCE.

COOLEY'S PHYSICS.

A complete mastery of the leading facts and underlying principles of a science is a better guarantee for the further prosecution of the study than can be secured by crowding a school-text with needless discussions and illustrations not pertinent to the instruction of the class-room.

Elementary Chemistry.
Advanced Chemistry.

Elements of Natural Philosophy.
Advanced Natural Philosophy.

Easy Experiments in Philosophy and Chemistry, for Teachers.

TENNEY'S ZOOLOGIES.

No attempt is made to describe species, but the animals are described in groups. The numerous species figured, however, serve to make the student familiar with many of the leading forms in each group. The illustrations are very numerous, and are drawn and engraved by the best artists. They are the approved Text-Books in use in the leading High Schools and Colleges of the country.

Elements of Zoology.

Natural History of Animals.

Manual of Zoology.

GUYOT'S WALL MAPS.

The Wall Maps were made under the personal direction of Prof. GUYOT, from the abundant materials collected in a long period devoted to the most careful and successful study of Geography and kindred sciences. They are all constructed on the new and correct plan of presenting the facts of Physical Geography, the peculiarities of surface, as the basis of Political, Civil, and Commercial Geography. By their peculiar coloring and lettering they present a threefold map in one—Political, Physical and Outline.

THE SPENCERIAN PENMANSHIP was first published in 1843, and has maintained from the first a standard position. It claims to be more practical, more thorough, and more original than any other system of writing published, and especially commends itself over other systems as superior in its simple and easily comprehended Analysis and Method; in its systematically and progressively arranged Copies; in the beauty and simplicity of its Style; in its plan of Ruling, whereby correct slanting and proper spacing are obtained; and in its Movement Exercises, which readily enable the pupil to become a rapid and easy writer.

The Spencerian is the accredited source from which the best penmen of the country have derived their knowledge and skill in the art of writing. It is used in more Normal Schools and Business Colleges than all other systems combined; and it is more generally used throughout the United States and Canada than any other system.

Swinton's Outlines of the World's History. Ancient, Mediæval and Modern, with special reference to the History of Mankind. "Its plan is beyond praise. Its analytical synopses, its maps showing the political divisions at the great epochs, its collateral information, its surveys of the great events, distinguished men, and important discoveries, furnish, in an entertaining style, just what is valuable to the beginner of the study of history. I hope to see the book soon in our schools. I think it 'head and shoulders' above all other books of the kind"—Prof. W. T. HARRIS, City Supt. Schools, St. Louis, Mo. 1 vol., with numerous maps and illustrations. 500 pages, 12mo. Price, by mail, $1.75.

Swinton's Complete Course in Geography: Physical, Industrial, and Political; with a special Geography for each State in the Union. Designed as a class-book for intermediate and grammar grades. 136 pages, 4to. Price, by mail, $1.60.

Swinton's Geographies are the Freshest, best graded, most Beautiful, and Cheapest Geographical Course ever published.

Points of Superiority.—The best judges have decided that Swinton's Geographies possess the following characteristic features of superiority over all others:

I. The scope of the "Elementary"—being a Primary and an Intermediate Course in one—is such as to give it a unique place among Geography Text-books, seeing that it covers the work of all grades but the very highest, and thus, by itself, meets the wants of nineteen-twentieths of all public school pupils.

II. Its effective use of the Inductive Method, the aid it affords to teachers in primary oral instruction, and its thought-awakening qualities, render Swinton's "Elementary" an "immense advance in the rational treatment of the study of Geography."

III. The combination of picturesque and instructive reading lessons with the recitation text, renders Swinton's "Elementary" better adapted to the needs of junior classes than any other Geography in the market.

IV. Swinton's "Complete Geography" stands unrivaled in its teaching features—especially in its Oral Outlines, its clear definitions, and its admirable topical reviews and analytic synopses.

V. The feature of a full special Geography for each State, supplementing the general text on the States, renders the "Complete Course" the only text-book that furnishes an adequate view of the physical features, resources, and industries of our country.

VI. The combination of physical with political Geography, and the large attention given to commercial Geography, are features of peculiar value in Swinton's Complete Course.

VII. The maps in both books possess novel features of the highest practical value in education, and that, in artistic and mechanical execution, Swinton's Geographies are without a rival.

Hand-Book of Universal Literature. From the Best and Latest Authorities. By ANNE C. L. BOTT. 12mo. Cloth. $2.50

This admirable bird's-eye view of the world's literature has long been recognized as one of the most useful works of its kind ever prepared for study or reference. It is based on the idea that the literatures of different nations are so related, and have so influenced each other, that it is only by a survey of all that any single literature, or even any great literary work, can be fully comprehended. It accordingly embraces a general view of the literatures of all nations which have contributed in any considerable degree to the intellectual enrichment of mankind: Hebrew, Syriac, Chaldean, Phœnician, Hindoo, Persian, Chinese, Egyptian, Greek, Roman, Arabian, Italian, French, Spanish, Portuguese, Flanish, Hungarian, Turkish, Armenian, Slavic, Scandinavian, German, Dutch, English, and American. It also indicates the most important works, and the distinguishing characteristics of many individual authors.

Treasury of Thought. An Encyclopedia of Quotations. By M. M. BALLOU. 8vo. Cloth. $5.00

A book in which are garnered the richest fruits of a host of the best minds the world has known. It comprises a vast array of quotable sentences on almost every conceivable topic, and is well-nigh invaluable to writers and professional men, by furnishing ready to their hand so large a variety of the most striking utterances of the wisest authors. As a book of reference, its merits can hardly be overstated; and, for reading at odd moments, it is unequalled by any collection of similar character. These unquestionable excellences make this work indispensable to every library, and a book of special value in every intelligent household.

Vocal Culture. By J. E. MURDOCH. 12mo. Cloth. $1.25

The object of this volume is to furnish the ground-work of practical elocution, and whatever explanations are needed for the training of the organs, and the cultivation of the voice. The skill with which this object is accomplished is attested by the great popularity of the work, which has passed through scores of editions, and has had the heartiest practical indorsement of the best American teachers of elocution for many years.

Dictionary of American Biography. By F. S. DRAKE. 8vo. Cloth. $6.00.

Comprises in 1,019 double-column pages a vast fund of information about persons more or less famous in American history. In the language of the Now's American Review:

"It merits hearty commendation for the fullness, freshness, and general trustworthiness of its information. It is not only the fruit of extensive, independent, well-directed research, and a monument of untiring industry, but it is a substantial addition to the list of useful works of reference which lie at the foundation of even the smallest library, and which are the indispensable tools of the literary workman."

The French Parnassus. A Book of French Poetry from 1550 to the Present Time. Selected and Edited by JAMES PARTON. Household Edition, 12mo. $2.00; Holiday Edition, with Portrait of Victor Hugo, 8vo. $3.50

A very large and varied collection of French poetry, carefully pruned from all objectionable matter, and admirably adapted for school use or private reading.

USEFUL BOOKS FOR EDUCATIONAL PURPOSES.

SOULE'S SYNONYMES.

A Dictionary of English Synonymes and Synonymous or Parallel Expressions. Designed as a Practical Guide to Aptness and Variety of Phraseology. By RICHARD SOULE. 12mo, cloth, $2.00; half calf, $3.50

"I have examined the work with entire satisfaction and great pleasure. I think that it is the best book of the kind extant, and I know not how it is to be made better."—A. P. PEABODY, LL. D.

"I have been using, ever since it first appeared, Roget's 'Thesaurus.' I find that your book contains its space, and will almost completely take its place."—GEORGE B. EMERSON.

"I shall keep it on my desk for reference, as now the best work of the kind."—B. G. NORTHRUP, Secretary of the Board of Education, Conn.

"... Heretofore Roget's work has been the most convenient handbook, but the necessary trouble of consulting its index before a word could be found is a constant annoyance which the possessor of Soule's will escape. For ready reference this book will speedily supplant all the rest."—Boston Advertiser.

PLUTARCH'S LIVES.

The Translation called Dryden's. Corrected from the Greek, and revised by A. H. CLOUGH, Esq., late Professor of English Language and Literature at University College, London. With a new Life of Plutarch. A new edition in one volume, royal 8vo, cloth, $4.00; sheep, $5.00; half calf, $6.00

"The reputation of the editor as a classical scholar of high attainments, and an acute and judicious critic, commends this edition to the attention of the historical student, as well as the general reader."—New York Tribune.

This edition of Plutarch's Lives has been adopted as a Text Book in the Public Latin School, Boston.

PLUTARCH'S MORALS.

BANCROFT'S UNITED STATES.

Centenary edition. History of the United States of America, from the Discovery of the Continent. By GEORGE BANCROFT. Thoroughly revised edition, with index. Six vols., 12mo, cloth, $13.50; sheep, $18.00; half calf, $24.00

This new, cheap, and handy edition of the standard History of the United States has met with a hearty reception from the American public, which fully attests the popular appreciation of the work itself and the timeliness of its issue. In its present form it commends itself to all by reason of its intrinsic excellencies, its mechanical beauty, and its low price. Its publication has called out from the press and from individual authorities cordial encomiums; and special stress has been laid on the good results of the thorough revision to which it has been subjected.

BARTLETT'S FAMILIAR QUOTATIONS.

FROM AUTHORS PREFACE.

"If any professional or political faith is expected, as a pledge of the spirit in which this history is written, it is this: I hail the development of popular power as an essential condition of the social advancement of nations: I am an ardent admirer of political liberty — of rational and enlightened liberty, and I condemn any violation of its principles, whether by a despotic king or by an ill-ordered republic."

 APPLETONS' Second Reader.
 APPLETONS' Third Reader.
 APPLETONS' Fourth Reader.
 APPLETONS' Fifth Reader.
 APPLETONS' Classic Reader.

APPLETONS' School Readers are by far the freshest, most attractive, most carefully and intelligently edited series of Reading Books ever offered to American Schools.

The eminent names of the authors are a sufficient guarantee of the superior character of these books. Many new and valuable features are introduced in them and no expense of labor by authors or publishers has been spared to make them excel all school books of the kind heretofore offered to the public.

Chief Merits.—Among the chief merits of these Readers it is claimed, that, while they avoid extremes and one-sided tendencies, they combine into one harmonious whole the several results that have been considered desirable to be attained in a series of school reading-books. These include good pictorial illustrations, a combination of the word and phonic methods, careful grading, drill on the peculiar combinations of letters that represent vowel-sounds, correct spelling, exercises well arranged for the pupil's preparation by himself (so that he shall learn the great lessons of self-help, self-dependence, the habit of application), exercises that develop a practical command of correct forms of expression, good literary taste, close critical power of thought, and ability to interpret the entire meaning of the language of others.

Rejecting traditionary routine, and following Nature step by step, this Method, based upon the constitution of man and that of language, dispenses at the outset with grammars, exercises, versions, dictations, mnemonics, and in a great measure with the use of a dictionary and the advice of a teacher. It is composed of two simple operations, familiarizing the eye and ear with a language, then imitating correct examples, in order to learn how to speak and write it.

THE
IN SIX NUMBERS.
WITH SLIDING COPIES.

The only Series of Copy-Books with Movable Copies, the superior advantages of which are too obvious to be disputed.

The only Series of Copy-Books which insures rapid improvement at every stage of the pupil's practice.

The only Series of Copy-Books which makes instruction in the subject of Penmanship easy, practical, and invariably successful.

Price for Introduction,
$1.08 per dozen.

It must be admitted that instruction in penmanship in schools, is, in too many cases, but a random and almost profitless expenditure of time and energy. A trial of the Model Copy-Books will conclusively demonstrate the great advantage of the movable copy which keeps correct models for imitation constantly before the pupil's eye, instead of his own repeated errors.

The style of penmanship in these books is simpler and better adapted to practical uses than any other extant, while the method of analysis and teaching correct form is much simplified and abbreviated.

We earnestly recommend a trial of them by every teacher, who desires the best attainable results in this branch.

APPLETONS' NEW SCHOOL READERS.

Extracts from Notices in School Journals.

From the Chicago Educational Weekly.

"The careful reading of these books from beginning to end has given us great satisfaction. They carry with them a business air and directness which give assurance of their success. There are no prefaces, no introductions, no wordy 'hints and suggestions' to teachers, not even a table of illustrations, or a line telling the number of illustrations. They go right to work with no waste of space or time. Only a page or less, condensed and practical, 'from the authors to the teacher,' excepting in the first book, in which three small pages are devoted to a brief explanation of how these successful and eminent teacher-authors would use the book in teaching the little ones by the word and phonic methods combined, and how they would make the lessons and the pictures — which are most happily designed for the purpose — the basis for language-lessons...."

"We cannot express our endorsement of these books too strongly. Their methods, their tone, their suggestions, their illustrations, their grading, are superior."

From the New England Journal of Education.

"The reading-matter in these books must certainly prove attractive to the children, for even an adult cannot take up the books without being charmed by the simple and childlike, yet excellent diction, and the sustained interest of the stories. The illustrations are without a parallel in school-books of any class, and we are not surprised to find attached to them the signatures of the best artists and engravers."

We heartily commend these Readers to teachers and committees, as embodying the best results of long experience and great skill, and as offering a simple yet logical and philosophical plan by which all grades of teachers can produce better results than have heretofore been obtained: and we believe that with these books not only will 'teaching to read' be an easier and pleasanter process than it has been, but pupils will learn to grasp the sense of a sentence more readily, to enunciate more distinctly, to read in a more natural and pleasing style, to emphasize and inflect more in accordance with the best authority, and to spell with greater correctness."

From the Wisconsin Journal of Education.

"Messrs. Harris and Rickoff are educators of large experience and national reputation, and Mr. Bailey, as an accomplished specialist in elocution, brings to the task professional skill of the requisite character. The result is a series of Readers characterized by good sense, good taste, and close adaptation to the general wants of schools."

From the Practical Teacher.

"A critical examination of the four Readers of the series already before the public conclusively shows that the opinion based on the reputation of the authors alone is neither hasty nor ill-advised. The First Reader is a gem. From the first page to the last it indicates the successful combination of the most modern methods of philosophical instruction with such eminent practicalness as could never have originated with the mere theorizer. The directions to teachers are particularly apt, and if followed will add largely to the usefulness of the book. The cuts are all that could be desired."

From the Pennsylvania School Journal.

"Lessons on 'How to Read' are placed at intervals through Nos. 3 and 4. These present the most important principles of good reading in so simple a way that they can readily be understood even by a child."

"Being made reading exercises, they are not likely to be neglected, as lessons upon elocution frequently are when inserted as separate articles, or by way of an introduction. The series possesses great merit, and will be widely known."

From the School Bulletin and New York State Educational Journal.

"A glance at the authors' names assures one that this ought to be a remarkable series of books. Supt. Harris ranks first in the land as an exponent of the philosophy of teaching; Supt. Rickoff, the most successful city superintendent in the country, has studied in its minutest details the art of teaching; Prof. Bailey, has no superior as an instructor in elocution. If these three men, backed by the capital and experience of D. APPLETON & Co., fail to make good Readers, who shall attempt it?"

From the Educational Journal of Virginia.

"The series may in truth be called concentrated experience — a putting of the results of experience in the most compact form. The books may be used in slovenly style, as so many of our Readers now are, but if the design of the authors is carried out, we do not see how the results aimed at could be reached in shorter compass."

From the Methodist Recorder.

"The young reader cannot fail to receive knowledge from this series of Readers in an orderly form, economizing facts, time, and training, to the best possible advantage. The system is a complete one; giving thorough instruction in spelling, pronunciation, and definitions, while every page is beautiful with just such sentiments as must entertain the pupil. The contents are pure, elevated, and eminently worthy of the attention of all youth for generations."

A complete Catalogue of D. APPLETON & Co.'s School Publications will be forwarded free on application. Any book in the above list will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of its price, with twenty per cent added for postage.

What People say of us.

In a letter to the Editor, Oliver Wendell Holmes, the genial "Antocrat of the Breakfast Table," says: "I am much pleased with the Young Scientist. It makes me want to be a boy again."

"We have never seen a periodical, designed for youth, which came nearer to our ideal of what such a journal should be."—Canadian Pharmaceutical Journal.

"The Young Scientist is one of the choicest publications for juvenile minds in this country. Every page treats on subjects of importance to young and old, portrayed in a clearly comprehensive manner which at once interests the young idea in its careful perusal."—Lapeer Clarion.

"It is pleasing to note that its youthful subscribers will not be misled by clap-trap advertisements or advertisements of patent medicines, which will not be received at any price. The Young Scientist is doing good work in setting its face against this class of humbugs."—Manufacturing and Trade Review.

"The work is a copiously illustrated monthly, and is full of practical hints that will instruct and amuse the young folks."—Industrial School Advocate.

"A small but elegant and very instructive monthly."—Pittsburg Chronicle.

"Contains the best possible reading for the young of both sexes."—Ottawa Journal.

"It is ably edited by John Phin, who will make a large place in the heart of the rising generation, if he persists in his venture. We hope his success in the field will be equal to the article furnished—first best."—Sunset Chimes.

"The articles are written in a popular, readable style, and profusely illustrated."—Akron City Times.

THE AMERICAN SCIENCE SERIES

FOR HIGH SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES.

In 1874, the undersigned initiated the preparation of a Series of Science Text-Books for American High Schools and Colleges. Since then, some of the authors may be said to have had their works under constant consideration. It is hoped to begin publishing in May, 1878. The principal objects are to supply the lack — in some subjects very great, of authoritative books whose principles are, so far as practicable, illustrated by familiar American facts, and also to supply the other lack that the advance of Science perennially creates, of text-books which at least do not contradict the latest generalizations.

Each volume will be a 12mo of about 500 pages.

The teaching, as far as practicable, proceeds from facts to principles. Illustrations, verbal and pictorial, especially from American facts and experiences, are used very freely.

The authors have compared notes in order to secure mutual conformity and support, and exclude duplication.

IN SCIENCE, LITERATURE, ART, AND HISTORY.

Messrs. HENRY HOLT & CO. are about beginning the publication of a Series of brief Hand-Books in various departments of knowledge. They will be suitable for the use of persons already possessing the usual elements of education who wish, in the shortest possible time, to get a general knowledge of the subjects treated in the Series. The principal fields they seek to occupy are in the upper classes of public and private schools, and among mature persons of little leisure who wish to enlarge or revise their knowledge.

The volumes will be small 16mos of about 180 pages.

The subjects and authors, so far as selected, are as follows:

- | | |
By R. S. BALL, LL.D., F. R. S., Astronomer Royal for Ireland. BOTANY.
By _____ CHEMISTRY.
By _____ ENGLISH LANGUAGE.
By THOMAS LOUNSBERY, Professor in Yale College. FINE ARTS.
By _____ GEOLOGY.
By _____ | HEALTH.
By _____ PHYSICAL GEOGRAPHY.
By CLARENCE KING, U. S. Geologist in charge of survey of the 49th Parallel. PHYSICS.
By _____ POLITICAL ECONOMY.
By FRANCIS A. WALKER, Ph. D., Professor in Yale College. ZOOLOGY.
By A. McALISTER, M. D., Professor in the University of Dublin. |

⚠ N.B. Any books in the series that may be the work of foreign authors, will be specially revised for America by some one among the best American authorities.

- VIII. Greece. By J. ANNAN BRYCE. [In preparation.]

The object of the series is to put forth clear and correct views of History in simple language and in the smallest space and cheapest form. It embodies the results of the latest scholarship in comparative philology, mythology, and the philosophy of history.

German.

WHITNEY'S GERMAN TEXT-BOOKS. By WILLIAM D. WHITNEY, Ph. D., LL. D., Professor of Sanskrit and Instructor in Modern Languages in Yale College; Lecturer on Language in Harvard and the Johns Hopkins Universities, etc.

A Compendious German Grammar. 12mo, half roan, $1.60

This, besides presenting the main facts of the language in a more precise and apprehensible form than its predecessors, also directs attention to the derivations and connections of words, the construction of sentences, and the correspondences of German and English. Different sizes of type make a careful distinction of the contents, according to their importance. In an Appendix is given a series of progressive exercises in writing German.

A German Reader. 12mo, half roan, $1.80. Or in two vols.—Vol. I., Text, $1.40; Vol. II., Notes and Vocabulary, $0.95

Text arranged upon a progressive plan, as follows: (1) Pieces of easy narrative prose; (2) Poetic pieces; (3) Extracts from dramatic masterpieces; (4) Prose pieces in more elaborate style. The Notes are intended to explain the real difficulties, including the idioms and their origin; they contain abundant references to the grammar. The Vocabulary is on the same plan as the Dictionary.

A new Dictionary. (German-English and English-German.) Small 8vo, half roan, $3.50. — The same in 2 vols. Fine edition, half leather, in a box, $5.50

Contains Notations of Correspondences and Brief Etymologies. Meanings arranged systematically, beginning with the most original. Words historically the same as the word defined by them are printed in full faced type; those analogous in small capitals.

CLASSIC GERMAN TEXTS. A few dramatic masterpieces, annotated by leading instructors, under the editorship of Prof. W. D. WHITNEY.

- I. Lessing's Minna von Barnhelm. 12mo, cloth, $0.95
- II. Schiller's Wilhelm Tell. 12mo, cloth, $1.15
- III. Goethe's Faust. 12mo, cloth, $1.20
- IV. Schiller's Maria Stuart. [In press.]

ABBOTT'S ABERCROMBIE'S Intellectual Philosophy.

Inquiries concerning the Intellectual Powers and the Investigation of Truth. By JOHN ABERCROMBIE, M. D. With additions, etc., by Rev. JACOB ABBOTT. 12mo. Cloth. $0.90

The steady demand for this well known text book has induced the publishers to prepare a new set of stereotype plates; although thus presented in an improved form the book can be used in classes with the previous edition which it follows page for page.

ABBOTT'S ABERCROMBIE'S Moral Philosophy.

The Philosophy of the Moral Feelings. By JOHN ABERCROMBIE, M. D. With additions by the Rev. JACOB ABBOTT. 12mo. Cloth. $0.90

ADAMS'S New Arithmetic.

Revised Edition. By DANIEL ADAMS, M. D. 12mo. $0.65

ADAMS'S Improved Arithmetic.

An improved edition of ADAMS'S New Arithmetic (first published in 1827), rewritten in a style much condensed, with additions. By DANIEL ADAMS, M. D. 12mo. $0.65

This is an improved edition of a favorite text-book in which the distinguishing characteristics which recommend the earlier issues are reproduced, and many improvements suggested by a half century of experience and study are introduced. It is believed to be inferior to no other work of its kind in the philosophical arrangement of its subjects and the clear and accurate statement of its rules.

Keys to the Revised and Improved Arithmetics may be had separately, price 63 cents each.

ADDICKS' Elementary French.

An elementary practical book for learning the French Language. By Mrs. ADDICKS. 12mo. Cloth. $0.60.

COFFIN'S Eclipses.

Solar and Lunar Eclipses familiarly illustrated and explained. By Prof. J. H. COFFIN, Lafayette College. 8vo. $1.65

COFFIN'S Conic Sections.

Elements of Conic Sections and Analytical Geometry. By Prof. J. H. COFFIN. 8vo. Cloth. $1.35

Prof. COFFIN'S works are distinguished by the thoroughness and conscientiousness so characteristic of the author. The "Conic sections" has had an extensive use; presenting the subject with much less detail than many other treatises, it yet seems to omit only that which the crowded college course renders undesirable to present to the student.

DYMOND'S Moral Philosophy.

Essays on the Principles of Morality and on the Private and Political Rights and Obligations of Mankind. By J. DYMOND. 12mo. Cloth. $1.10

Für die deutschen Schulen hier zu Lande wurde schon längst das Bedürfnis gefühlt für eine systematisch bearbeitete Serie von Schreibheften, die zugleich als Leitfaden für den Unterricht im Schönschreiben dienen würde.

Um diesem Bedürfnisse abzuhelfen, wurde die „Systematische Anleitung zum Schönschreiben“ bearbeitet. Dieselbe geht von dem Standpunkte aus, daß der Schüler zuerst eine klare, geistige Vorstellung von dem Buchstaben und dessen Bestandtheilen haben muß, ehe er denselben auf dem Papiere darstellen kann.

Die Buchstaben werden darin nach den Schrietelementen analysirt und erklärt, folgen einander nach ihrer Abstammung und zwar so, daß auf jeder Seite gewöhnlich nur ein neuer Buchstabe erscheint, der jedoch so gleich mit den vorhergehenden in verschiedenen Wörtern angewandt wird; denn es wird vorausgesetzt, daß eine specielle Uebung in besonderen Uebungsbüchern nach der Taktmethode vorgenommen wird.

Da die Schwerfälligkeit der Buchstaben und Ziffern, welche die meisten deutschen Schulvorschriften charakterisirt, dem Fortschritte des Schülers sehr nachtheilig ist, so haben wir uns in allem, was zulässig war, nach den besten Systemen englischer Autoren gerichtet, und glauben dadurch die Erlangung der englischen sowie deutschen Handschrift erleichtert zu haben.

Die Linien sind so gestellt, daß die Kinder dadurch angeleitet werden, einen richtigen Maßstab einzuhalten, so daß die langen Buchstaben nicht mit denen der nächsten Zeile in Berührung kommen.

Um eine größere Auswahl zu liefern, sind acht Nummern bearbeitet worden. Das Wesentliche ist jedoch in den ersten vier Nummern enthalten, und mögen diese für manche Schulen genügen.

Inhalt der verschiedenen Hefte:

- No. 1. 1ste Hälfte. Kurze Buchstaben.
2te " Buchstaben mit Oberlängen.
(Dreitheiliger Maßstab.)
- No. 2. 1ste Hälfte. Buchstaben mit Oberlängen.
(Viertheiliger Maßstab.)
2te Hälfte. Buchstaben mit Ober- und Unterlängen.
- No. 3. Große Buchstaben. Einzelne Hauptwörter.
- No. 4. Kürzere Sätze. Ziffern.
- No. 5 und 6. Uebungen in Sätzen. (Kleinere Schrift.)
- No. 7. Wörter mit verschiedenen Formen der großen Buchstaben.
- No. 8. Geschäftsbriefe, Schuldscheine u. s. w.

Preis dieser Hefte ist trotz eleganter Ausstattung nur 85 Cts. P Dugend.

Homœopathic Works

for Domestic and Veterinary Practice.

Laurie & McClatchey. The Homœopathic Domestic Medicine. By J. LAURIE, M. D. Edited and revised with numerous important Additions, and the introduction of New Remedies, a Repertory and a Glossary, by R. J. McCLATCHEY, M. D. Eighth American Edition. 1,044 pp. 8vo. Cloth. $5.00

"This handsome volume of nearly eleven hundred pages is divided into six parts. Part One is introductory, and is almost faultless. It gives the most complete and exact directions for the maintenance of health, and of the method of investigating the condition of the sick, and of discriminating between different diseases. It is written in the most lucid style, and with an easy flow of words that attracts rather than repels the unprofessional reader, and is above all things wonderfully free from technicalities. Part Two treats of the symptoms, character, distinction, and treatment of general diseases, together with a chapter on casualties. This part of the work is as full as needs be, and is treated in the same comprehensible style. Part Three takes up the diseases peculiar to women. Part Four is devoted to the disorders of infancy and childhood. Part Five gives the characteristic symptoms of the medicines referred to in the body of the work.

"The introduction of the 'New Remedies' by the editor has been, in our opinion, most judiciously done.
"We do not hesitate to endorse the claim made by the publishers of the American edition of Laurie's Domestic Medicine, that it is 'the most complete, clear, and comprehensive treatise on the domestic homœopathic treatment of diseases extant.'" Hahnemannian Monthly.

(A complete Case of Medicines for the above work, containing 103 remedies, in vials holding over 50 doses each, will be furnished for $12.00; in vials holding over 100 doses each, for $18.00; or book and box complete for $17.00 and $23.00 respectively.)

A. LUTZE. Manual of Homœopathic Theory and Practice, designed for the use of Physicians and Families. Translated from the German, with Additions by C. J. HEMPEL, M. D. From the Sixtieth Thousand of the German Edition. 750 pp. 8vo. Half-Morocco. $2.50

This work is most extensively used in Germany, as shown by the fact that more than sixty-thousand copies have been sold in that country. It is divided into three parts: the first part, up to page 128, is mainly occupied by a condensed Materia Medica, giving concise characteristic symptoms of the remedies employed in the work; the second and main part, up to page 554, is taken up by Description of Diseases and their mode of Treatment, while the third part, or 143 pages, are taken up by a well arranged and eminently useful Repertory. The whole concludes with a copious and exhaustive index greatly facilitating the use of the work.

One specially commendable feature of Lutze's work is the recommendation of numerous accessories as they are indicated, and the minute directions as to diet.

(A Case containing a full set of Medicines, 132 remedies, in vials holding over 50 doses each, furnished for $16.50, or book and case for $19.00.)

A. E. SMALL. Manual of Homœopathic Practice, for the use of families and private individuals. Fifteenth enlarged Edition. 821 pp. 8vo. Cloth. $3.00

This is one of the oldest and best known of Domestic Works in this country, and the fact, that fourteen full editions have been sold already, speaks well for its excellence. The work is disposed in fifteen chapters, of which Chapters I-IV contain observations on Diet, the Bodily Organs and Temperaments, the Principles of Applying Remedies and the Method of Noting Diseases, while Chapters V-XV contain the description and treatment of diseases involving the whole system or single organs, the special diseases of women and those of new-born infants and young children, and the last chapter gives a synopsis of the range of use of the "more prominent remedies used in this work." The book is plainly and explicitly written and therefore especially recommended to new beginners.

(A complete Case of Medicines for the above work, containing 86 remedies, in vials holding over 50 doses each, is furnished for $10.00; in vials holding over 100 doses each, for $15.00; or $13.00 and $18.00 respectively, including book.)

JOHN ELLIS. Family Homœopathy. 404 pp. 12mo. Cloth. $1.50

This book is especially recommended to those, who cannot afford to buy one of the larger works. The descriptions which the Author gives of the symptoms and treatment of the diseases, arranged in a practical order, are as plain and clear as they are comprehensive and complete.

(A complete Case of Medicines for the above work, containing 48 remedies, in vials holding over 50 doses each, will be furnished for $6.00; or in vials holding over 100 doses each, for $8.00; or $7.50 and $9.50 respectively, including book.)

BOERICKE & TAFEL'S $1.50 Case of Homœopathic Medicine for Family use. Price $1.50, or including postage $1.85

For the accommodation of those wishing to gain some information about Homœopathic Medicines and not caring to invest in a large and expensive Case and Book, we have put up a neat Case containing 18 vials filled with Medicines. Plain directions for their use will be found printed on a folded card inside.

Veterinary Works.

A Manual of Homœopathic Veterinary Practice; designed for Horses, all kinds of Domestic Animals and Fowls; prescribing their proper treatment when injured or diseased, and their particular care and general management in health. Second and enlarged Edition. 654 pp. 8vo. Half Morocco. $5.00

The introduction to this work contains directions for the examination of animals, for finding the pulse, regulation of diet, rules for the administration and repetition of medicines, etc.

Chapter II. gives full directions for the choice, training, breeding, general management, etc., of all the domestic animals and fowls; while the following chapters take up the various diseases, which are accurately described, and the Homœopathic treatment carefully given.

Chapter XV. is devoted to the Mat. Med., and constitutes a very valuable portion of the work. The characteristic indications for the several remedies are here so carefully given as to enable the amateur even, to prescribe with accuracy and success.

From the U. S. Medical and Surgical Journal, Chicago:

"The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals should canonize the author of this beautiful book.—To say that this is the most comely and creditable book that Boericke & Tafel have ever published, is to tell but half the truth. In its speciality its contents are invaluable. Of our own knowledge it has already done good service as adapted to the treatment of horses especially, which as a class, and as a rule, know more than their drivers and their doctors combined; it is nearly perfect."

(A complete Set of Remedies, for internal use, containing 96 half ounce vials in a stout Case, will be furnished for $25.00, or a selection of 40 remedies in half ounce vials, in Case for $10.00; or $30.00 and $15.00 respectively, including book.)

JOHN RUSH, V. S. The Hand-Book to Veterinary Homœopathy, or the Homœopathic Treatment of the Horse, the Ox, the Sheep, and the Swine. From the London Edition. 144 pp. 16mo. Cloth. $0.50

The Homœopathic Poultry Physician; or Plain Directions for the Homœopathic Treatment of the most common ailments of Pigeons, Chickens, Turkeys, Geese, and Ducks. Based on the Author's large experience, and compiled from the most reliable sources. By F. SCHRÖTER. Translated from the German. 83 pp. $0.50

(A complete Case of Medicines for this little work, containing 30 remedies, in vials holding over 50 doses each, will be furnished for $5.00; in vials holding over 100 doses each, for $7.50; or $5.50 and $8.00 respectively, book included.)

Complete Catalogues of Homœopathic Books, embracing also professional works in English, French, Spanish and German, will be furnished on application. Please address orders to MONROE'S*Readers and Spellers.*

THIS SERIES, prepared by Prof. LEWIS B. MONROE, Dean of Boston University School of Oratory, contains many original and valuable features.

The thorough and enthusiastic study which the Author has given to this subject, and his long and successful experience as a Practical Instructor of Schools, Teachers, Clergymen, Public Speakers and Readers, have eminently qualified him for the task he has so thoroughly performed.

MONROE'S Reading Charts.

GREENE'S*New Series of Grammars.*

THESE Books form two complete Series, adapted to the different grades of city and country schools; but each series and each book may be used independently of the others.

Prof. Greene was the first to introduce the methods of teaching recently adopted by the various Language Text-Books, and it is believed that his improved books are far more practical than any heretofore published on this subject.

HAGAR'S*Series of Mathematics.*

THESE Books are especially adapted to the improved methods of instruction that now prevail in the best schools throughout the country.

Mental and written exercises are combined in each book of the series; the methods are such as are used in actual business life, and the arrangement of the books is such that, either the Primary Lessons and the Elementary or the Primary Lessons and the Common School Arithmetic, may form a course complete in two books.

WARREN'S*New Series of Geographies.*

THIS SERIES has just been thoroughly and carefully revised, and is now printed from an entirely new set of Electrotype plates, with new maps and illustrations.

It gives full accounts of all the recent discoveries and changes in boundaries, and presents a complete Course adapted to grades of schools, forming the most compact and Economical Series, published.

Warren's Brief Course in Geography is a new work, intended as a Shorter Course for those who have not time for a more extended study of the subject.

The Brief Course and the Physical form a popular Two-Book Series.

The "New School" History. One vol. 12mo. Cloth. 523 pp., with Maps and Illustrations. $1.25 retail.

Both handsomely and substantially bound.

Leading Features of the Works.

1. The style of narrative combines brevity and perspicuity. It interests the student.
2. The arrangement is new and attractive; being divided into sections, sections into paragraphs; and paragraphs are given appropriate topical headings. The sections are followed by the usual questions for review.
3. It records facts and withholds opinions. It tells the truth, and fosters no bitterness.
4. It avoids the monotony of numerous and tedious details. It strikes to the pith of things, and is fresh.
5. The maps represent sections of the United States and Mexico, on which are accurately located all the battles that have been fought since the settlement of the country.

It has been adopted in the Public Schools of Kentucky, Maryland, and Virginia, and in very many of the first private Schools and Academies in Virginia, Tennessee, Maryland, Georgia, and the Carolinas, and is rapidly meeting favor in all directions.

GILL'S

LIFE OF EDGAR A. POE,

with ANECDOTES, REMINISCENCES, and LETTERS. By WILLIAM F. GILL. Fourth Edition, Revised and Enlarged, with Portrait and Numerous Illustrations and Fac-Similes. 12mo. Cloth, $1.75

"It is worth while to review the facts of Poe's life as here given, for they have not been before presented so fully and so well. Mr. Gill has certainly performed a service in the preparation of this biography, for which he deserves serious thanks."
Atlantic Monthly.

"The work may be fairly said to be exhaustive. The analysis of the 'Raven' is an ingenious piece of work, and is far more plausible than Poe's elaborate explanation of his method of writing it."
Boston Transcript.

"The great merit of the volume, however, is that for the first time it supplies a consistent and truthful account of a singularly perplexed career."
New York Tribune.

"To have done his work so thoroughly and with results so important, is to have made a book of which many a renowned writer might be justly proud."
Christian Union.

"Mr. Gill's book will doubtless have a wide circulation. It contains much that is new and interesting, and throws light on many episodes of Poe's life not before given to the public. It is full of details and anecdotes."
Providence Press.

"It especially appeals to the collectors of libraries, public and private, while the student of American literature will find this book one of the most profitable and interesting he can consult."
Boston Post.

NEW AND EXCELLENT SCHOOL BOOKS.

Reading-Books.THE FRANKLIN READERS.

This new Standard Series, prepared by GEORGE S. HILLARD and L. J. CAMPBELL, is carefully graded with fresh selections from the best writers, and surpasses all other reading-books in beauty of illustrations and typography. No series published excels The Franklin in the excellence of the selections or in any of the educational features required in reading-books designed for the use of schools.

The well established reputation of Mr. Hillard whose earlier publications have been used very extensively throughout the country will suffice to inspire all confidence in the literary merits of this series.

The Franklin Readers have already been adopted by the cities of Boston, New York, Washington, Albany, and hundreds of cities and large towns throughout the country, and in New England have a circulation exceeding that of all other reading-books combined. — The Series comprises:

The Franklin Primer, or First Reader.	$0.18
The Franklin Second Reader.	$0.30
The Franklin Third Reader.	$0.42
The Franklin Fourth Reader.	$0.54
The Franklin Fifth Reader.	$0.90
The Franklin Sixth Reader & Speaker.	$1.00

The Franklin Intermediate Reader.	$0.54
--	--------

LEIGH'S Franklin First Reader.	$0.20
LEIGH'S Franklin Second Reader.	$0.36

THE ANALYTICAL READERS.

By RICHARD EDWARDS and J. RUSSELL WEBB.

This popular series has attained an immense circulation which is yearly increasing, both in the East and the West. Besides the successful adaptation of the Word-Method in the primary books and the examples and directions for Analysis in the higher books, the series possesses many other points of excellence which good teachers readily appreciate and adopt.

Analytical First Reader.	$0.20
Analytical Second Reader.	$0.33
Analytical Third Reader.	$0.54
Analytical Fourth Reader.	$0.63
Analytical Fifth Reader.	$0.90

WEBB'S Sentence Builder.	$0.80

The Class Word-Speller.

By Prof. M. A. WARREN, Author of The Analytical Speller, etc., etc. $0.18

This is a progressive Spelling Book, prepared by a thoroughly practical teacher. The book is designed to teach the spelling and pronunciation of Words, and also to convey at the same time a knowledge of many important principles of Etymology and Grammar and the use of the Dictionary.

The many excellencies of this book will commend it to the intelligent teachers in our schools, many of whom have commended it as "the best spelling book yet published."

Histories.

CAMPBELL'S Concise History of the United States. $0.84

SEAVEY'S GOODRICH'S History of the United States. $1.12

These two standard Histories have attained a wide circulation, and retain their deserved popularity with teachers.

MacVicar's Arithmetics.

This new and admirable Series by Prof. M. MacVICAR, of the New York State Normal School, at Potsdam, is receiving the unqualified approval of the best teachers and educators. We invite a careful examination of this Series, by all teachers and educators desiring to adopt the best books for school use. The Series is complete in two books:

MacVICAR'S Elementary Arithmetic.	$0.35
MacVICAR'S Complete Arithmetic.	$0.90
MacVICAR'S Complete Arith. Part I.	$0.60
MacVICAR'S Complete Arith. Part II.	$0.60

LATEST PUBLICATIONS.

BROOKS'S Philosophy of Arithmetic, containing also a History of Arithmetic. By EDWARD BROOKS, Ph. D. Octavo, 570 pp. $2.25

Full of interest, in its logical unfolding of the Philosophy of Numbers as well as in its History of Arithmetic as known among the ancients and down to the present time. The Ohio C. S. Visitor says: "Arithmetic in our school days was denominated an art. Prof. BROOKS has proved conclusively that indeed it is the grandest of sciences."

BROOKS'S Normal Higher Arithmetic. $1.25
(For Commercial and High Schools.)

Original, complete and practical. It abounds with striking novelties, presented with the utmost clearness and simplicity, all calculated to make the student a master of the theory of Arithmetic. It also represents the actual business as practiced in the counting-houses of merchants, custom-houses, banks, building associations, and incorporated companies.

BROOKS'S Normal Union Arithmetic. .90

In the Union, Mental and Written Arithmetic are so combined that the pupil may obtain a thorough course in arithmetical analysis while becoming familiar with the application of the science to practical business. This union is here made not a mere nominal one, but a scientific reality. Key, $1.00*

WESTLAKE'S How to Write Letters. .80

"A judicious, refined and instructive manual on Letters, Notes and Cards. There are useful suggestions and instructions on every page."—N. J. Christian Intelligencer.

This work is intended not only as a text book in composition, but an authoritative work of reference.

WESTLAKE'S Common School Literature. .50

More solid improvement can be derived from this work than from most works on the subject of three or four times the size. It gives sketches of representative authors from Chaucer to Longfellow with nearly five hundred choice extracts from their works

LLOYD'S Literature for Little Folks. .40

The gems of child-literature, arranged to furnish easy lessons in Words, Sentences Language, Literature and Composition, united with Object-Lessons For children in Second Reader. Handsomely illustrated. The book is the delight of all children.

MONTGOMERY'S Industrial Drawing. Each .10

This consists of a series of Drawing Books, comprising a Primary, Intermediate, Grammar-School and High-School Course. The system is self-teaching; the exercises are applied to the various industries of the country to enable the student to draw and design for industrial art purposes.

SHORTER COURSE IN ARITHMETIC.

BROOKS'S Normal Primary Arithmetic. .22

BROOKS'S Normal Union Arithmetic. .90

These two books, combining Mental and Written Arithmetic in each lesson contain many special features, harmoniously uniting the logical with the practical under the mottoes of from the easy to the difficult, from the simple to the complex, from the known to the unknown. The applications to actual business cover many new subjects not generally treated.

STANDARD COURSE IN ARITHMETIC.

(For Primary and Ordinary Schools.)

BROOKS'S Normal Primary Arithmetic. .22

BROOKS'S Normal Elementary Arithmetic. .45

This series furnishes all the Arithmetical knowledge necessary for ordinary business. Key to Elementary. .50*

(For Grammar Schools.)

BROOKS'S New Normal Mental Arithmetic. .35

BROOKS'S New Normal Written Arithmetic. .80

This series imparts to the pupil the whole theory of Arithmetical processes, and so trains and disciplines the mental powers as to enable him to reason logically and clearly upon any subject fully presented. Key to Mental. .38* Key to Written. $1.00*

BROOKS'S Normal Geometry and Trigonometry. $1.10

By the aid of Brooks's Geometry the principles of this beautiful science can be easily acquired in one term. It is so condensed that the amount of matter is reduced one-half, and yet the chain of logic is preserved and nothing essential is omitted. The subject is made interesting and practical by the introduction of Theorems for original demonstration, Practical Problems, Mensuration, etc., in their appropriate places. The success of the work is very remarkable. Key, $1.10*

BROOKS'S Normal Algebra. $1.10

The many novelties, scientific arrangement, clear and concise definitions and principles, and mastery treatment contained in this work, make it extremely popular. Each topic is so clearly and fully developed that the next follows easily and naturally. Young pupils can handle it, and should take it up before studying Higher Arithmetic. Like the Geometry, it can be readily mastered in one term. It only needs introduction to make it indispensable. Key, $1.10*

RAUB'S Normal Primary Speller. .25

RAUB'S Normal Speller. .35

These elementary works are admirably arranged and classified. Simple and easy, yet logical and comprehensive, they never fail to make ready and correct spellers.

FEWSMITH'S Elementary Grammar. .40

FEWSMITH'S Grammar of Eng. Language. .56

The uniform testimony of teachers who have introduced these grammars is, that they have been most agreeably surprised at their effects upon pupils. They are easy to understand and the lessons before dreaded become a delight. Care has been taken in modeling rules and definitions after a definite and uniform plan, and making every word and sentence an example of grammatical accuracy.

PETERSON'S Familiar Science. 12mo. $1.25

PETERSON'S Familiar Science. 18mo. .65

This popular application of science to every-day results is universally liked, and has an immense circulation. No school should be without it. Inexperienced teachers have no difficulty in teaching it.

ROBERTS'S History of the United States. .65

Short, compact and interesting, this History is admirably arranged to fix facts in the memory. These only are dealt with, leaving causes for more mature minds. It ends with the close of the late war.

SHEPPARD'S Text-Book of the Constitution. $1.10

SHEPPARD'S First Book of the Constitution. .65

The ablest jurists and professors in the country, of all political denominations, have given these works their most unqualified approval. Every voter should be master of their contents.

4. Map of Europe. 6 ft. by 7 ft.

5. Map of Asia. 6 ft. by 7 ft.

6. Map of South America and Africa. 6 ft. by 7 ft.

Pelton's Key to Hemisphere Maps. .80

This beautiful series of Maps is so well known that a lengthy description seems to be hardly necessary. It is the only set on a large scale exhibiting the main features of Physical in connection with those of Political and Local Geography. Notwithstanding the many outline maps that have been published since Pelton's series originated this method of teaching Geography, the popularity of these elegant maps is undiminished.

* Sample copies sent to Teachers and School Officers for examination upon receipt of two-thirds above prices, except those marked (*). Introduction Supplies furnished upon most liberal terms. Catalogues and Circulars sent free upon application. Correspondence and School Reports solicited. Address Combined Trial and Copy Page Writing Book. Edited and published by M. A. REQUA and E. DUNN.

This new series of Copy Books is rapidly meeting with favor in all quarters. Each book contains, in connection with the ordinary "Copy Page" a "Trial Page" opposite each copy, upon which the scholars are to practice before writing the regular Copy Page. The series consists of 12 numbers, analytically, systematically and progressively arranged. The blank Trial Pages at the beginning, middle and end of each book are intended in the Primary Course for drilling the scholars in writing their names and the dates. In the Grammar series dictation exercises may be given showing the advancement more clearly than in any other manner. These books are now on the Supply Lists of the Boards of Education in the Cities of New York and Brooklyn. They are used throughout the Training Department of the Normal College and are highly approved by Principals and others as shown by the following testimonials:

"The plan, arrangement, thorough grading and above all the "Trial Page" evince not only great care and good sense in the preparation of the books but that complete professional skill without which it seems nearly impossible to construct a useful school book."—THOMAS HUNTER, Ph. D., President of New York City Normal College.

"They combine economy and utility, and show the work of the practical intelligent teacher."—GEO. W. FETTER, Prin. Girls Normal School, Philadelphia.

"The trials cannot fail to be more carefully made by this happy combination and to that degree better results obtained upon the permanent pages."—A. S. HIGGINS, Brooklyn, N. Y.

☞ The prices are the same as for other writing books.

A History of England. By the Rev. J. FRANCK BRIGHT, M. A. Three vols. small 8vo, with numerous Maps and Plans, and a complete Index to each volume, cloth, the set, $5.00

"On the whole, this is probably the best English history for reference in existence."—Nation.

"The public has long wanted a history of England which should be accurate and full, and yet comparatively short, and Mr. Bright has to a great extent supplied this want."—Guardian (London).

Historical Biographies. Edited by the Rev. M. CREIGHTON, M. A., Late Fellow and Tutor of Merton College, Oxford.

"This series is intended to aid in the work of education; the object is to excite interest in history through the medium of biography, setting before the young student the lives of a few great men of different epochs as a key to the character of those epochs and to the general history of the times. The idea is certainly a good one."—Academy.

Now ready:

Life of Simon de Montfort, Earl of Leicester. By M. CREIGHTON. With Maps. $1.00

Life of Edward, the Black Prince. By LOUISE CREIGHTON. With Maps and Plans. $1.00

Life of Sir Walter Raleigh. With Maps. $1.00

"The authors of these volumes have done their work exceedingly well. To a sufficiency of knowledge they add a pleasing style, and, while primarily engaged on bi-halves of schools, they do not forget the general reader."

Nonconformist.

"A popular biography of Raleigh was wanted, and we have here a very good one. To say that it may fitly take rank with Southey's Life of Nelson is high praise, but scarcely higher than justice demands."—Athenaeum.

History of France. For the Use of Children by EMMA MARSHALL. With 20 Illustrations, 16mo, $1.50

"Mrs. Marshall's 'History of France,' for children, is a translation and adaptation of M. Lamé Fleury's work, which has long been the favorite young folks' history in the French language. From the time of the Reformation, however, the narrative has been in great part rewritten. Parents who are making up libraries of good books for their children should give this a place alongside of Higginson's United States and Dickens's England. The story is told in a fresh, simple, picturesque style that will not fail to be attractive, and is as full as necessary from the earliest times down to this present republic."—Boston Advertiser.

Language and Languages; Being "Chapters on Language" and "Families of Speech." By the Rev. FREDERICK W. FARRAR, D.D., Canon of Westminster. 12mo, 431 pages. $2.50

"Has most solid value and considerable popular interest also. The subject is thoroughly studied and the style has his characteristic charm, whilst his views of the state of the primitive man and of the origin of language are sure to win interest and favor with thoughtful readers generally, as well as from professional students of philology."

The first Volume of The New Testament Commentary for English Readers. Edited by C. J. ELLICOTT, D. D., Lord Bishop of Gloucester and Bristol. Containing: The four Gospels. Quarto, 563 pages. $6.00

ALLEN & GREENOUGH'S Latin Course.

The only complete preparatory Latin series published in America, consisting of Grammar, Lessons, Composition, Cæsar, Cicero, Sallust, Ovid, Virgil, and the Cato Major.

From A. C. PERKINS, Prin. Phillips Acad., Exeter, N. H.

I am more than satisfied with our change in introducing Allen & Greenough's Grammar. The more I examine it, the better I am convinced of the great improvement that has been made in it, and of the entire adaptation to our wants. I see nothing more to ask for in it.—Oct. 13, 1877.

From C. F. P. BANCROFT, Prin. Phillips Acad., Andover, Mass.

Allen & Greenough's Latin Grammar received in its first editions (1872) remarkable endorsement and extensive use. In the edition just issued (1877) it advances as much upon itself as then upon its rivals. It has been used in Phillips Academy for four years past, and I have carefully read the revision. It is improved in all respects.

From J. M. WHITON, Prin. Williston Sem., E. Hampton, Mass.

I am prepared to say that I regard it as decidedly the best of the Latin Grammars now in use in this country.

From Dr. MAESHALL HENSHAW, former Prin., Williston Sem.

There can be no doubt that it excels every other American Latin Grammar.

From Wm. R. DIMMOCK, late Prin. of Adams Academy.

We use Allen & Greenough's Latin Grammar in the academy, and prefer it to any other.

From W. L. CUSHING, Prin. Hopkins Grammar School, New Haven, Conn.

We use Allen & Greenough's Grammar in preference to all others.

BROWN'S English Grammars.

Revised Editions by HENRY KIDDLE, A.M., Superintendent of Schools, New York City.

BROWN'S First Lines of English Grammar. $0.45BROWN'S Institutes of English Grammar. $1.00

THE EXCELLENCE OF BROWN'S GRAMMARS is very generally admitted, and notwithstanding the multitude of School Grammars which have come in competition with them, they have steadily advanced in public favor. In perspicuous arrangement, accuracy of definition, fulness of illustration, and comprehensiveness of plan, they stand unrivalled, and are probably more extensively used throughout the United States than any other works on the subject.

BROWN'S Grammar of English Grammars, over 1000 pp., royal svo., $6.25

THE GRAMMAR OF ENGLISH GRAMMARS is an invaluable book of reference, and every scholar should have a copy of it in his library. No teacher can afford to be without it.

FRIENDS' ELEMENTARY AND HIGH SCHOOL,
BALTIMORE, MD.

I am still using Brown's Grammars in this institution, preferring them to others because they are at once comprehensive and methodical. Beginning with an explanation of what grammar is, and the parts into which it is divided, it takes up each part in detail, places the great principles of the language before the eyes of the learner, and impresses them upon his mind by definitions and rules so perspicuous, so simple, yet so comprehensive, that he cannot fail to understand them.

Definitions are illustrated by examples; rules are followed by practical exercises both in parsing and false syntax. Parsing commences with etymology, and thus the student learns not only what each part of speech is, but its relation to other words in the sentence. Going on, by constant repetitions and easy gradations, he becomes thoroughly acquainted with the whole subject.

Prosody is treated in a manner as thorough and methodical. The examples are so well chosen, the exercises for practice so numerous, that with the aid and direction of a competent teacher the student can gain so full a knowledge of versification, and the right use of figurative language, as almost to preclude the necessity for studying that branch of rhetoric.

ELI M. LAMB, Principal.

MONTGOMERY, ALA.

It affords me pleasure to testify to the excellence of Brown's English Grammars as Text-books for use in our public and private schools. As a grammarian, I consider that Dr. Brown has had no superior in this country.

N. T. LUTTON, Pres't. University, Ala.
H. S. WHITFIELD, Prof. University, Ala.

The practical test of the school-room has established a decided preference over any other. "The Grammar of English Grammars" should be in every teacher's library. It is a perfect encyclopedia of the science.

How to Parse. An Attempt to apply the Principles of Scholarship to English Grammar. With Appendices on Analysis, Spelling, and Punctuation. By E. A. ABBOTT. 16mo. cloth. $1.00

"How to Write Clearly" is in use in all the English High Schools of Boston and in many other important localities, and gives great satisfaction. — "How to Parse" is just ready.

Both books are extensively used in England.

English Lessons for English People. By E. A. ABBOTT and J. R. SEELEY, M. A. (Prof. of Modern History in the University of Cambridge, England). 16mo. cloth. $1.50

This book is also extensively used in England and in this Country in English High Schools and advanced Seminaries of Learning. Says the London Athenæum: "The object of this book is evidently a practical one. It is intended for ordinary use by a large circle of readers and though designed principally for boys, may be read with advantage by many of more advanced years. One of the lessons which it professes to teach, "to use the right word in the right place" is one which no one should despise. The accomplishment is a rare one, and many of the hints here given are truly admirable.

CHARACTERISTICS OF LABBERTON'S SERIES.

It views the subjects as ONE HARMONIOUS WHOLE exhibiting the education of mankind by God.

It combines a strict logical outline with fulness and interest of detail.

It directs the attention of the pupils, first of all, to the great names of history at that particular period of their lives in which their influence for good or evil was at its height.

The chronological table of only four hundred and twenty dates is expressly arranged to be committed to memory.

EXAMINATION PAPERS IN ARITHMETIC.

By J. A. McLELLAN, LL.D., Inspector High Schools, and THOS. KIRKLAND, M. A., Science Master, Normal School, Toronto. Third Edition. $1.00.

The National Teacher's Monthly, one of the best educational journals published in the United States, says of this book: "In our opinion, the most valuable sets of Examination Papers ever published on this continent."

From the Guelpb Mercury. . . . "The work is divided into six chapters. The first is on the Unitary Method, and gives solutions showing its application to a variety of problems, in Simple and Compound Proportion; Percentage, Interest, Discount, Profit and Loss; Proportional Parts, Partnership; Chain Rule, Exchange, Alligation; Commission, Insurance, &c., Stocks; and Miscellaneous Problems. The second is on Elementary Rules, Measures and Multiples, Vulgar and Decimal Fractions. The third contains Examination Papers for entrance into High Schools and Collegiate Institutes, the fourth for candidates for third class certificates, the fifth for candidates for the Intermediate Examination and Second Class Certificates, and the sixth for candidates for First Class Certificates and University Honors. It will be observed that the work begins with the fundamental rules — those principles to be acquired when a pupil first enters upon the study of Arithmetic, and carries him forward till prepared for the highest class of certificate and for Honors of the University. . . . Teachers will find in it a necessary help in supplying questions to give their classes. Those who aspire to be teachers cannot have a better guide — indeed there is not a better one published."

McLELLAN'S MENTAL ARITHMETIC.

By J. A. McLELLAN, M. A., LL.D. The best variety of type questions for mental training yet published. Cloth extra, 125 pp., $0.30.

KIRKLAND AND SCOTT'S ARITHMETIC.

By THOMAS KIRKLAND, M. A., Science Master, Normal School, Toronto, and WM. SCOTT, M. A., Head Master Model School. 350 pp. Cloth extra. $0.75.

"I have carefully examined the work, and have no hesitation in stating that it is by far the most suitable treatise on Arithmetic yet presented to the public. This is evident from the superior arrangement and division of the subject, the clearness of the definitions, and the great variety of examination papers. The eminently practical manner in which the higher departments of Commercial Arithmetic are treated will readily appear to the business community."

JOHN MILLER, M. A., H.M.H.S., St. Thomas.

ELEMENTARY STATICS.

By THOMAS KIRKLAND, M. A., Science Master, Normal School, Toronto. Third Edition. $1.00.

"It supplies a great want felt by those preparing for Teachers' Certificates. This — did it possess no other merits — should make it a great success. It is by far the best text book on the subject for the schools of Ontario I have seen." — GEO. BARTIE, M. A., M. B., Science Master, Ottawa Normal School.

"Mr. Kirkland has placed the teachers under great obligations by publishing this excellent little work. The arrangement and clearness of the 'Book-work' and the admirable selection of problems, would of themselves place the book in the first rank of elementary treatises; but, above all, one can trace in every page the result of the author's practical experience in teaching the subject."

J. W. CONNER, M. A., H. S., Berlin.

BEATTY & CLARE'S BOOK-KEEPING.

An exhaustive Treatise on Single and Double Entry Book-Keeping. For use in High and Public Schools. By S. G. BEATTY, Principal Ontario Commercial College, and SAMUEL CLARE, Book-Keeping and Writing Master, Normal School, Toronto. Second Edition. $0.70.

"I have submitted Peatty & Clare's Book-keeping to two practical Book-keepers, who are also teachers and they speak of it in very high terms. After a careful examination of the principles and details of this work, I can fully recommend it as a very suitable text book for our High Schools."

M. McPHERSON, M. A., H. M., Prescott.

HOW TO READ.

A Drill Book for correct and expressive reading. Adapted for the use of schools. By RICHARD LEWIS, Teacher of Elocution, Author of Dominion Elocutionist, &c., &c. Third Edition. $0.75.

J. M. PLATT, M.D., P.S., Picton, says: "Lewis' 'How to Read' is one of the finest books ever introduced into our Canadian schools. No efficient teacher will fail to have his senior classes supplied with the work at once."

Architecture.

Notes and Sketches of an Architect, in North Western Europe. By FELIX NARJOUX. Translated by J. PÉRO. With 214 illustrations, 8. cloth extra, 16s.

Gives views of public and private buildings in Holland, Hanover, Hamburg, Denmark, and Heligoland, with plans, sections, interiors, tombs, &c.; illustrated by the impressions of the author.

Astronomy.

The World of Comets. By A. GUILLEMIN, author of 'The Heavens'. Translated and edited by JAMES GLAISHER. With numerous Woodcut illustrations, and 3 Chromo-lithographs. Super-royal 8vo. cloth extra, 31s 6d.

'The mass of information collected in the volume is immense, and the treatment of the subject is so purely popular, that none need be deterred from a perusal of it.'—BRITISH QUARTERLY REVIEW.

Biography.

PHILLIPS' Dictionary of Biographical Reference. Roy. 8vo. morocco back, 31s. 6d.

Exceeding condensation has enabled the author to make this a record of 100,000 celebrated names. Thus it is a Compendium, a Students' Dictionary, of dates and facts, guiding the inquirer to fuller works by means of a classified index of the biographical literature of England and America.

The most elaborate Cyclopaedia published in England does not claim to have more than 60,000 articles, distributed over various departments of knowledge.

As an example of completeness, it may be stated that in PHILLIPS' Dictionary no less than sixteen 'Caesars' (not counting Emperors) are chronicled and described. And the student is assisted to the full names of distinguished Romans. Two entries may be quoted, to show this:—

Cæsar, Cajsus Julius, Roman dictator, general, orator, jurist, poet, and hist.: B.C. 100—44 D.H.R.U.V.W.X.

Plautus, Marcus Accius, or Attius, Roman dramatic poet; B.C. 227 or 224—184 C.D.R.U.V.W.X.

Reference to the highest classical dictionaries will show that the exact full name of a Latin author is by no means easy to obtain, even where the information may most rationally be looked for.

PHILLIPS' Dictionary is cited among 'specialty useful manuals,' in the United States Library Reports.

PLUTARCH'S Lives of Illustrious Men. Revised by A. H. CLOUGH, and corrected from the Greek. Complete in 1 vol. Roy. 8vo. 18s.; half-roan, 21s.

A reprint of the five volume edition. The translation is that known as Dryden's.

Books.

LOW'S Classified Educational Catalogue of English printed works for teaching, study, and reference. Second and revised Edition. 8vo. 1876, extra cloth, 5s.

This is an assemblage of the titles of the fifteen thousand or so books in the various departments of education, which are procurable in the ordinary manner. Where a book is known to be out of print, and that it will not be reprinted, it is omitted, so as not to mislead the inquirer.

Handiness of reference has been the one thing aimed at in the classification, even at a little disregard of bibliographical strictness. Thus the Greek and Latin classics occur under their names, without troubling the reader to consider whether they are Greek or Latin authors. Information as to countries is given under the countries' names; under 'England' the atlases, geography, histories, maps, &c., of England; under 'English' dictionaries, grammars, and the like; under 'English Classics' annotated editions of chefs d'œuvre for study; and so on.

A leading feature is the attempt that has been made to convey all possible information within the compass of a line.

Comets. (see Astronomy.)

French.

JAMES and MOLE'S French Dictionary. Thick sm. 8vo. cloth, 4s.; roan, 5s.

Gives the accentuation and pronunciation of every word in both languages, compiled from the best French and English authorities.

French.

Oral and Conversational Method. Petites Leçons de Conversation et de Grammaire; little lessons on the most useful topics &c., verbs regular and irregular, anecdotes, correspondence, &c. By F. JULIEN. Sq. cr. 8vo. 3s 6d.

Not a grammar, but a method of conversational French, introducing the material for every-day talk under a grammatical form and in the shape of exercises. The aim is to teach the spoken idiom, to exercise the ears and tongue, instead of exercising the eyes merely; not to treat a spoken language like a dead language, but to imitate the manner in which we learnt our mother tongue.

French for Travellers.

ROUILLON'S Tourist's French Companion. 16th edition. By HAVET. 18mo. half-bound, 4s 6d.

Familiar French Conversations on every topic which can be useful to Continental travellers, with models of letters, commercial forms, notes, and cards. French pronunciation is given with great care, the silent letters being printed in italic. An appendix shows the lines of railway generally taken by English travellers, and gives tables of foreign money, weights and measures with their English equivalents.

German.

Second German Reader. (Low's Series). A Series of Pictures of Life, from contemporary German Writers. With Grammatical and Explanatory Notes by A. L. MEISSNER. Sm. 8vo. 1s 6d.

These are readings in prose fiction. Among the sources are FREYTAG'S Soll und Haben and his Brüder vom deutschen Hause. The novels of AUERBACH, HACKLÉNDER, and PAUL HEYSE also contribute.

Italian.

GRASSI'S Italian Dictionary for general use. Sm. 8vo. cloth 4s.; bound leather, 6s.

Gives the Italian pronunciation and accentuation of every word, also an explanation of terms in science and art, mechanics, railway and naval terms, from the best sources.

Italian Pocket Dictionary. (B. Tauchnitz.) By J. E. WESSELY. In paper, 1s 6d.; choice limp cloth, 2s.; roan limp, 2s 6d.

Latin

Proverbs and Quotations, with translations, parallel passages and a copious English Index. By A. HENDERSON. Fcp. 4to. extra cloth, bevelled boards, 10s 6d.

Kindred English proverbs and quotations are added by way of illustration.

Music.

Text-book of Harmony, for Schools and Students. By C. E. HORSLEY. Revised by WESTLEY RICHARDS, and W. H. CALCOTT. Sm. 8vo. 3s 6d.

A grammar of the art of composition, not troubling the students with acoustics. . . . A practicable, easy, and pleasing form of analyzing great works, and writing down ideas in musical shape, is aimed at.

Physiology

and Hygiene for Schools, Families, &c. By J. C. DALTON. Sm. 8vo. 7s 6d.

For those who are without previous knowledge of the subject. No scientific term is used that has not already been explained.

Schools.

PASCOE'S Handbook of the Principal Schools in England, for Parents, Guardians, and those interested in the Education of Boys. Sm. 8vo. cloth extra, 3s 6d.

An account of only a few schools of the first order, which are treated with greater fullness than is customary in works of a similar nature.

Kindergarten and Home Education.

A. Douai. The Kindergarten. A Manual for the Introduction of Froebel's System of Primary Education into Public Schools, and for the use of Mothers and Private Teachers. 139 pp. With 16 plates, and music for the plays and songs. Cloth. $1.00

These Boxes are primarily intended for children who are unable to attend a Kindergarten regularly, and also as a substitute for toys and play-things generally. Stated more precisely, however, their design is, to provide children of 3 years and over with instructive and quiet amusement, and to quicken their intellect without wearying the brain — to inculcate manual skill, artistic taste, a ready appreciation of results, and, consequently, a love of learning and application — to train children's minds through apparent play and recreation, while they are the means of producing little presents — to prepare children for school, and render home instruction easy and entertaining, without requiring constant attention.

☛ The first 4 numbers of the Kindergarten Guide are now March, 1878 ready; the rest will be issued as soon as possible.

☛ This is a book for every family and for every teacher. — Miss E. P. PRABODY writes in regard to it: "We like the Manual very much, and my sister (Mrs. MANS) says, 'since it is impossible for Mrs. KRAUS to teach all the children in the United States herself, the next best thing for her to do is certainly to give these precise and full directions to others.' We are, indeed, delighted with your minuteness, thoroughness, and clearness of direction. It is certainly far in advance of any Guide we have yet seen." — The Baroness MARENHOLTZ-BELOW expresses herself in similar terms.

Wherever REFFELT'S Arithmetics become known, they are preferred to all other Arithmetics, because Arithmetic.

1. they are simple, concise, and progressive, preparing the way to the higher Arithmetical Branches more surely and intelligently;

2. they are thoroughly practical and free from rules and matter not adapted to young minds;

3. the contain in a very limited space a greater number and variety of problems;

4. the examples are all original;

5. they give, besides the old Systems of Weights and Measures, a thorough exposition of the Metric System adopted by Congress in 1866, now taught in the National Schools of France, Germany, Great Britain, and in many other foreign countries;

6. they are published in four Books, or in smaller divisions (Parts), which can be procured singly, and at a very low price;

7. The several Keys to REFFELT'S Arithmetics are replete with hints and suggestions which must prove invaluable alike to teacher and pupil. They can be used with equal benefit in classes, or without a master.

REFFELT'S Arithmetics are extensively used; they have also been imitated, copied, and reprinted largely by German and American Authors.

- It is an easy matter to write a long, difficult text-book. To write a short, easy, and satisfactory one, is exceedingly difficult.

Text-Books for Americans to learn German.

Highly competent authorities concur in the opinion that the AHN-HENN Series of German text-books combine all the latter qualities. Moreover, they have been expressly and carefully constructed to form a thoroughly graded, well-balanced whole. Accessories have everywhere been given way to essentials. The pupil has been presented with the marrow and fibre of the language taught so as to enable him, at an early stage, to cut loose from his leading strings.

The German Series begins with AHN'S German Reading Charts (closely based upon the first part of the Rudiments), which deal with the letters of the Alphabet in every possible position and combination, in which every word used has a definite meaning, and which are printed in such large type, that with them a whole class can be taught as readily as a single pupil. Then follow AHN'S Rudiments of the German Language.

This book has been entirely re-written by Dr. P. HENN, in accordance with the Course of Instruction planned by the Superintendent of Public Schools of New York City, and is assigned for the lowest four grades (the 8th, 7th, 6th, and 5th) of pupils in the Public Schools, but may be used with equal advantage in all other educational institutions as well as for private instruction. [For the sake of economy and convenience, AHN'S Rudiments of the German Language has also been issued in two separate divisions, entitled: AHN'S First German Book, 64 pp. (for the 8th and 7th grades), and AHN'S Second German Book, 123 pp. (for the 6th and 5th grades)]

AHN'S Third German Book (for the 4th and 3d grades), and AHN'S Fourth German Book (for the 2d and 1st grades) complete the Course.

The Systematic Synopsis of German Grammar is intended for the teacher, and also for the use of advanced scholars who, toward the end of the course, desire to have an easy review of the whole grammatical ground previously traversed, in order to systematize the knowledge heretofore gained.

AHN'S First German Reader is intended to be used simultaneously with the Third German Book, and AHN'S Second German Reader is for use with the Fourth German Book.

The chief features of AHN-HENN'S four German Books are: 1) The great ease with which they teach correct German Pronunciation. 2) The simplicity and wide range of the pieces for Translation. 3) The large number of available every-day words and phrases, and the colloquial style mainly adopted, by which German Conversation is taught from the outset. 4) The clearness and brevity of the rules, and the systematic arrangement of the whole. 5) The great variety of matter introduced, by which the pupil's attention is constantly stimulated. 6) The boldness and clearness of the type, and the great quantity of German Script introduced, part of which has been expressly cut for these books, so as to give the pupil ready command over German Handwriting.

The Readers are noticeable for their simplicity and thorough gradation, the copiousness of the Notes, and the absolute completeness of the Vocabularies.

For the convenience of teachers and private learners, Keys are issued to all the above books.

The AHN-HENN text-books for the study of German, are universally recognized to be most exceptionally adapted for use in the public schools, whilst making it possible to dispense with the services of foreign-born German 'special' teachers.

Aided by the Keys, Reading Charts, and Synopsis, the graduates of our Normal Schools and Colleges are enabled to teach German even more successfully than foreign-born teachers, who frequently lack a sufficient command over the English language.

The following are a few of the opinions which State Superintendents of Public Instruction have, of their own accord, communicated to the Publisher:

"Your Reading Charts and elementary books for teaching German and French to beginners, are excellent, and superior to any with which I am acquainted."

Another says: "Your AHN-HENN Series, in my judgment, is superior to all others."

Text-Books for Americans to learn German.

Another remarks: "Your AHN-HENN rudimentary text-books of German and French form a complete and superior Series for beginners. The Charts will greatly aid the young student. The use of the Series will enable pupils to attain correct pronunciation, and will economize time, labor, and money."

It is a significant fact that in the Public Schools of New York and other large cities, in Catholic and other Academies, and in Private Institutions all over the country, AHN-HENN'S German and French rudimentary books are now being used in preference to all similar publications.

Steiger's French Series.

- Ahn's French Primer. By Dr. P. HENN. 57 pp. Boards. $0.25

Great care has been bestowed upon the typographical execution of this little book, the perplexing difficulty of the silent letters being alleviated by the use of distinguishing outline and hair-line type.

- Ahn's French Reading Charts. 20 Plates with Hand-book for Teachers. By Dr. P. HENN. $1.00

These Wall Charts are printed in very large type, the silent letters being shown by outline type cut expressly for the purpose.

Ahn's Manual of French Conversation. In press.

The necessity of French as a part of modern Education is admitted. The teacher requires elementary books which, whilst being thorough, shall be practical and attractive. Such they can be made only by simplicity, clearness, and concision. The AHN-HENN French rudimentary books are admitted by the best authorities to possess these qualities in a high degree.

The French Series begins with AHN'S French Reading Charts, which give the pupil a thorough drilling in French Pronunciation, from the simplest elements to the greatest difficulties. The outline type employed to show the silent letters, saves a vast amount of time and trouble to both teacher and scholars. By them a whole class can be taught simultaneously with the same ease as a single pupil. Then follows AHN'S French Primer, which deals exhaustively with French Pronunciation. This is succeeded by the First Course of the Practical and Easy Method of Learning the French Language, and by the Second Course. Then come AHN'S First French Reader and AHN'S Second French Reader.

It is unnecessary to say more than that all the qualities previously claimed for the AHN-HENN German Series, are equally claimed for the French Series, and that what is elsewhere stated of the AHN-HENN German Series, viz., that the graduates of our Normal Schools, after a short course of study, can conduct elementary instruction in German as well as native Germans themselves, is equally true of the AHN-HENN French Series for the instruction in French.

The AHN-HENN French Text books have found special favor in Catholic Academies and Private Institutions where particular attention is being devoted to the thorough study of the French language.

English.

S. W. Whitney. Elements of English Grammar. 160 pp. Cloth. $0.45

This is an elementary work, as small and concise as possible, and yet lacking nothing that is essential. It aims, throughout, to be quite as practical as the scope of the subject and the limits of a few pages allow. The plan pursued is that of laying down principles or giving definitions illustrating them and then testing the learner's knowledge of them by calling upon him to make a practical application of them. In the execution of this plan, the system of questioning, which brings directly before the pupil the essential points, has been adopted, and will, doubtless, prove a help to teachers as well as scholars.

THE AMERICAN BOOKSELLER.

A Semi-monthly journal devoted to the interests of book buyers and book readers, containing complete lists of all the new books as soon as published; announcements of all books in press; pithy descriptive and critical reviews, and literary news of all sorts,

with which is incorporated

THE INDEX,

which gives each month a complete alphabetical and topical Index to the Periodical literature of the United States and Great Britain. This Index is compiled with great care, and in all the Professions, will find this feature alone worth many times the price of the journal.

Teachers, School Officers, Physicians, Lawyers, Clergymen, Lecturers, Students, and Workers

The "Monthly Index" to current periodical literature, proceedings of learned societies, and government publications, in the AMERICAN BOOKSELLER, is an excellent feature, and will be found of great convenience by publishers, readers, and writers. — New York Times.

If this admirable feature of the BOOKSELLER be continued, it will become of great value to all students and general readers, who will be guided at once to what they want, without the expense or the trouble of searching for it through the hundreds of periodicals now published. — Vermont Gazette.

THE AMERICAN BOOKSELLER, published by the American News Company, is a very agreeable literary companion. Every teacher would find it entertaining and useful. — The Common School, and Iowa Journal of Education.

"A Globe is as essential in a School-room as a Blackboard or a Dictionary".

A FEW REMARKS ON THE SCHEDLER GLOBES.

It may seem needless nowadays to enlarge upon the value and advantages of Globes as means of instruction, and the more so as, apart from their general introduction into schools, they are fast becoming favorites in private libraries and parlors, with a fair prospect that they will in time be regarded as among the necessaries in every well-furnished home. It will not, however, be considered out of place to enumerate here some of their special advantages.

The Globe is the truest, most natural, and indeed, cartographically speaking, the only accurate representation of the Earth. All flat map-projections must necessarily contain errors, which will increase in proportion to the area of the Earth's surface which they are intended to represent. The Mercator projection, if the ends of a Map of the World are joined together, produces a cylinder, and, in different latitudes, presents widely different scales. If we place side by side planiglobes based on other projections, they touch each other only at one point (when in fact they should touch each other at all points or the periphery), and give the countries according to widely differing scales, or, in a measure, distorted and disarranged.

The Globe is, consequently, a most important and, indeed, an indispensable auxiliary in geographical instruction; where the means will permit, the Relief Globe, on account of its manifest preeminence, should be used.

Only upon the Globe can the teacher present to the pupil the whole Earth in its natural form.

On the Globe can easily be explained those points and mathematical lines which require elucidation as being the groundwork of Geography: the poles, the meridians, the parallels, the equator, the tropics, the polar circles, and the ecliptic.

On the Globe the teacher can readily explain the lighting of the Earth at different times of the day; the diurnal revolution of the Earth, the synchronism of sunrise, midday, and sunset in any two given places upon the same meridian, the difference of the time of day between places not upon the same meridian. All this the pupil can see with his own eyes, and, therefore, thoroughly understand.

On a Globe provided with a Meridian, the lighting and heating of the Earth at various seasons may be demonstrated; and, in connection therewith the climatic differences of the zones, the trade-winds, the winds arising from climatic differences, as the monsoons, etc., may all be explained.

On the Globe we can learn the real form of countries and seas. There is not a flat map of the Pacific or Atlantic Ocean which is correct in every direction and at all points; their representation on a flat surface makes errors inevitable. Consequently on a Globe the great lines, too, of transmarine trade, of circumnavigation, of the telegraphs encircling the whole Earth, are traced with certainty and accuracy.

It must be allowed that the larger Globes have some slight drawbacks, inasmuch as they cannot be put into the pupil's hands, and the minuteness of the drawing and names makes their study from a distance impossible. This little difficulty has been surmounted. For the demonstration of problems, etc., the teacher uses the largest Globe at command. Pupils have Globes of small size in their hands. These small Globes are very cheap, and contain, in the main, every thing necessary for elucidating the elementary principles of general mathematical Geography. They give also the chief countries and seas, and the lines of circumnavigation.

Whilst the foregoing applies with special reference to Terrestrial Globes, it is needless to mention that the same principles hold good in regard to Celestial Globes.

The more advanced pupil will also find the Tellurian a valuable aid in the study of mathematical Geography. The synchronism and regularity of the Earth's revolution on its axis, as well as of its revolution round the Sun, and of the Moon's revolution round the Earth, may be traced and understood in every phase by this apparatus. Above all, this is the most direct and practical means of making evident to the pupil the eclipses of the Sun and the Moon, the inclination of the Earth's axis to its orbit, etc., etc.

As regards the SCHEDLER Globes, there need be no longer any hesitation in claiming that they are absolutely the best Globes in the market.

In support of this assertion the following statement is submitted:

It is universally conceded that the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia, 1876, furnished an opportunity which producers all over the world had desired — the opportunity to test by actual comparison the respective merits of their several manufactures or productions. As a consequence, nearly every nation was there represented by the best it had to offer, and individual exhibitors were, as a rule, confident that their goods, which had been forwarded for competition at great expense, would surpass all similar displays. On the other hand, articles or manufactures concerning the absolute superiority of which any doubt existed, were wisely kept at home to avoid unnecessary expense and possible defeat. On the whole, therefore, we may regard the material placed on exhibition at Philadelphia as the world's best.

Many Terrestrial and Celestial Globes are being produced both in America and in Europe, and yet, only a few publishers ventured to send even the choicest of these to the Centennial. Upon a careful comparison the SCHEDLER Globes were admitted by all to be, by far the finest on exhibition. This popular verdict was officially sustained, after a thorough examination, by the Judges, and, as a result, the SCHEDLER Globes were the only Terrestrial and Celestial Globes that received an award at the Philadelphia Exhibition.

The Judges recommended them for the following reasons :

*“Excellence of Work,
Delicacy of Finish,
Accuracy of Adjustments,
Freshness of Detail, Economy of Cost.”*

In addition to these qualities, another point might have been mentioned, viz.: the unsurpassed variety of styles and sizes, for the display of the SCHEDLER Globes comprised no less than 60 different numbers, i. e. more than all the other exhibits of Globes combined, a fact which shows that the wants and tastes of all classes of purchasers have been studiously considered.

The excellence of the SCHEDLER Globes, thus again officially recognized, had long been acknowledged. They received a medal at the Paris Exposition of 1867, and subsequently the Medal of Merit, at Vienna, 1873, at which time they entered the field against all their European competitors. Since then, they have steadily increased, alike in quality and in extent of variety, so that they now constitute absolutely the largest assortment of sizes and styles of any one make, either in America or in Europe.

A small assortment of these Globes were placed on exhibition in the Exposition Universelle, at Paris, in 1878, and the published reports show that these alone of all Globes there exhibited received two Medals.

The SCHEDLER Globes are, in fact, the only American Globes that were awarded Medals at the International Exhibitions of Paris, in 1867, Vienna, in 1873, Philadelphia, in 1876, and again at Paris, in 1878.

In their prominent features: Beauty of Workmanship, Completeness and Accuracy of the Maps, Durability and Cheapness, as well as in minor matters they are not only unexcelled—they are unrivalled.

It is truly said of them that they combine extreme lightness with the greatest possible durability; they supply the maximum of information compressible within their space, and yet extreme clearness is every-where observable; they are produced by a patented process at prices which place them within the reach even of those of modest means.

It is a fact that much attention is now being devoted to the matter of improved School Apparatus, and that school officers and educators are making careful selections in this line — inferior articles being considered too dear at any price.

A consequence of this is that universal attention has been attracted and secured to the SCHEDLER Globes. They are now being, more than ever before, closely examined and carefully compared with others, and the uniform result is that they are unhesitatingly preferred not only on account of their excellence, but also of their cheapness.

It is especially important that new geographical discoveries and territorial changes be promptly reproduced on the Globes. This is being constantly done on the SCHEDLER Globes and thus, for instance, the discoveries of such explorers as Stanley, the changes of sovereignty in Eastern Europe, the re-adjustments of territorial lines in Africa and Asia and similar signs of historical progress are indicated upon them as soon as made known. In addition to this, the peculiar composition of these Globes, their material and mounting, render them proof against all climatic changes or influences (a feature which other Globes do not possess), and they are, consequently, especially adapted for export to foreign countries in which such atmospheric inconveniences occur.

The High School Globe.

In size, form and fixtures, this Globe is similar to the Scientific Globe. It is specially designed for the use of Colleges and High Schools. All matters represented, and all names, notwithstanding their multiplicity, are kept clear and distinct, and confusion is avoided. By means of this Globe the fundamental and elementary principles of geography, so difficult to the learner, are readily explained. The most important rivers, capital cities and mountain ranges, are given as distinctly as possible. This Globe, therefore, commends itself to parents.

and teachers as an essential aid in instruction. Its practical utility cannot fail to be recognized in Schools; it has already been received with great favor by eminent instructors in many of our Normal and High Schools, who have strongly testified as to its value; and it may be confidently offered as better adapted for the instruction of youth than any Terrestrial Globe hitherto constructed.

CELESTIAL GLOBES.

The most difficult task in the preparation of a Celestial Globe is to present clearly the configurations of the stars and the constellations as two distinct subject-matters.

To effect this, SCHEDLER'S Celestial Globes are printed in a manner never hitherto adopted. The stars are printed in black upon a sky-blue ground, so that their configuration strikes the eye forcibly and at once. The figures of the constellations, and the various designations of the stars by letters, numbers, etc., are printed in purple. This method of printing completely obviates the indistinctness and confusion otherwise certain to arise from the multiplicity of objects delineated.

The several subjects are at once apparent to the eye, and present, at the same time, a very beautiful appearance.

These Globes are, moreover, eminently conspicuous for their accuracy, clearness, and elegance; indeed, taking into account their manifold and acknowledged superiority, it may fairly be stated that never have any of equal excellence been offered to the public.

All the Celestial Globes hitherto published are so overcrowded, and the various subjects are so confused, that the very first essential of a Celestial Globe, viz., to present, as totally distinct, the configurations of the stars and the constellations, is utterly wanting.

Mr. SCHEDLER'S aim was to remove these drawbacks, and he has completely succeeded in producing Celestial Globes which will prove valuable auxiliaries as well to the accomplished astronomer as to the student and amateur.

To delineate the various celestial signs in a specially characteristic manner, and to throw them into relief by color, as is usually done, is a complete mistake. These uncouth figures detract from the impression which should be created by the outlines of the stars themselves, and are rather prejudicial than favorable to instruction. They form a misleading medley of figures, which is simply annoying and confusing, since no possible assistance is given to one desirous of studying the heavens, by the figure of a "Hercules' club" or a "crown of Cepheus." Such old figures of constellations are only a remainder of the uncultivated spirit of antiquity, which strove thereby to aid the memory in astronomical studies.

(Sir JOHN F. W. HERSCHEL says in his Outlines of Astronomy: "Those uncouth figures and outlines of men and monsters, which are usually scribbled over Celestial Globes and Maps, and serve, in a rude and barbarous way, to enable us to talk of groups of stars, or districts in the heavens, by names absurd or puerile in their origin, are entirely arbitrary, and correspond to no natural sub-divisions or groupings of the stars. Astronomers treat them lightly, or altogether disregard them.

"This disregard is neither supercilious nor causeless. The constellations seem to have been almost purposely named and delineated to cause as much confusion and inconvenience as possible. Innumerable snakes twine through long and contorted areas of the heavens, where no memory can follow them; bears, lions, and fishes, large and small, northern and southern, confuse all nomenclature.....")

The most patient care has been bestowed upon these Globes and they contain, also, the latest results of Astronomical Science, as given by the best authorities.

In their preparation, Mr. SCHEDLER has enjoyed the rare advantage of the advice and suggestions of our eminent astronomer, Prof. Peters, of the Clinton Observatory.

SCHEDLER'S Celestial Globes give all the stars visible to the naked eye up to the sixth magnitude. The signs indicating magnitudes are given in true and natural proportions, and in such a manner as to preclude all mistakes. — The Greek and Roman letters refer to Bayer's classification of stars; the numbers are arranged according to the Catalogues of Flamsteed, Piazzi, Bradley, Hevelius, and La Caille. The double stars are from Sir Fred. W. Herschel and Struve; the magnitudes given are according to Argelander, reduced to the year 1870.

The fittings of the three sizes of Celestial Globes now published, are exactly similar to those of the corresponding sizes and styles of Terrestrial Globes; thus those desirous of procuring them in pairs, can have them precisely matching each other.

HEMISPHERE TERRESTRIAL GLOBES, OF 6 INCHES DIAMETER.

The two styles of Hemisphere Globe mentioned below are most important additions to cheap school apparatus. In both, the arrangement at once shows the learner why the lines on a map must be curved; how impossible it is to depict perfectly any part of the Globe on a flat map, or to represent on such a map, in their correct form and in complete unity, countries and seas in their natural proportions, positions, distances, etc. For it is clear that a sphere or part of a sphere cannot be accurately represented upon a flat surface; the juxtaposition of the Hemisphere Globe with the Planisphere Map proves this to evidence, inasmuch as the comparison of the two shows very distinctly how distorted and disarranged all the parts of the Earth appear upon the Planisphere Map.

VII E. The Hand Hemisphere Globe. With hinge $3.00 [0.40]

This style consists of two half-globes, or hemispheres, connected by a hinge. When closed they form a handy little globe; when opened, the planiglobes are found inside. Beyond the above mentioned advantages, the Hand Hemisphere Globe is extremely useful in the school-room. It can be passed from hand to hand, whilst the teacher is explaining the lesson; it is light and yet so strongly made that no amount of ordinary wear and tear will affect it.

VII F. The Wall Hemisphere Globe. (Patented October 21st, 1873.) Planisphere Maps and Hemisphere Globes combined. Mounted on pasteboard. $3.75 [0.40]

In this style the two hemispheres are mounted side by side on pasteboard, the two planiglobes being placed above them. The Wall Hemisphere Globe can thus be hung on the wall of a study or school-room, and, whilst forming a very attractive ornament, is a very compendious, albeit a diminutive, repertory of geographical and other information, as the available space on the mounting is occupied with statistics of prime importance to the beginner in geography.

These statistics comprise the area and population of the various States and Territories of the Union in 1870; the population of thirty of the chief cities in the United States; the area and population of the various continents; the area and population of the main divisions of the American Continent, and other leading geographical data.

Besides the foregoing, the Wall Hemisphere Globe has another very strong recommendation, viz. its very low price, which makes it peculiarly adapted for general use, as there is not a single school in the country which cannot afford to provide itself with at least one of these Globes.

BRACKET-GLOBES.

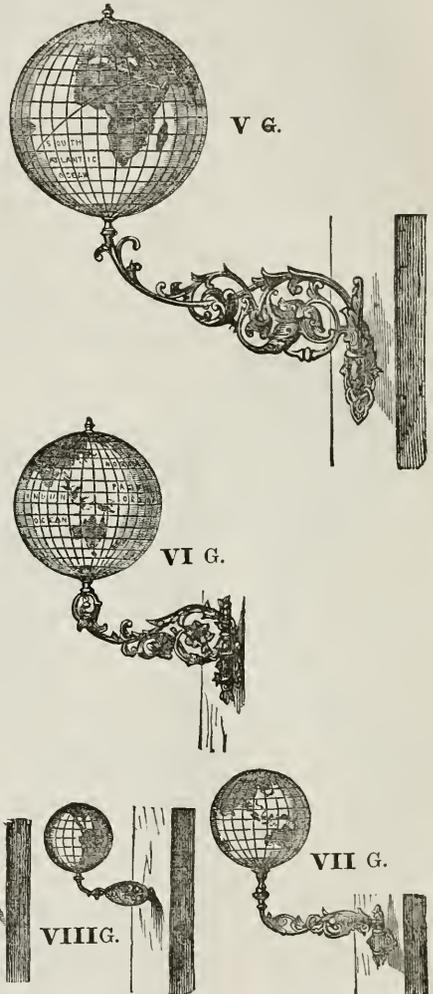

This is an entirely novel and most advantageous method of mounting the Globe.

For Common Schools, in which the teacher is not, as a rule, engaged in problems requiring the Globe to have stand, meridian, horizon, etc., this is the best kind.

The teacher needs an inexpensive Globe which can be placed beyond the reach of the scholars and the danger of accidental damage, can be readily taken down and handed round the class, and as quickly put back in its proper place. All these requirements will be found fully met in the Bracket-Globe, of which five different sizes are offered.

The Bracket-Globe will be found, too, a very useful and elegant addition to all such pieces of furniture as can be fitted with the Brackets, an arrangement allowing unlimited scope for variety both in richness of design and execution.

These Globes can be fixed to any suitable piece of furniture, as well as to mirror-frames, windows, blind-doors, etc. etc., in Offices, Clubs, Libraries, Drawing - Rooms, Alcoves, Bay-Windows, and, indeed, in almost any portion of an apartment where there is spare room for an ornamental and unobtrusive piece of furniture. The Brackets here offered, whilst elegant and pleasing in design, are both substantial and cheap.

SLATED GLOBES.

These Globes have a black slate surface, which readily takes a slate-pencil mark. They are admirably adapted for illustrating those principles and facts in Geography and Astronomy which are most difficult of elucidation to the pupil.

Each slated Globe is furnished with a thin brass Guide, which serves, at the same time, as a meridian. This band is divided into sections of 10 degrees each. The pupil places, with his left hand, his pencil in one of the holes given on the line of the degree, and, with the right hand, turns the Globe round to the right. Thereby a line is drawn upon the Globe which forms a parallel of latitude. The pupil then proceeds thus to draw all the parallels of latitude.

In the middle of the Guide there is a lateral projection, from the extreme left of which to the extreme right of the Guide is a distance of 10 degrees. The pupil takes hold, with his left hand, of the button in the middle of the Guide, and draws with his pencil, down the meridian, a straight line from the North to the South pole. Thereby a degree of longitude is formed.

The pupil then marks a point at the extreme left of the projection on the middle of the meridian, turns the Globe to the right until this point appears on the extreme right of the meridian, again draws a line from the North to the South pole, and thus continues until he has drawn every tenth degree of longitude.

The pupil thus traces a perfect net of degrees, and can then proceed to draw countries, etc., etc. on the Globe, according to a given Map, or if further advanced, from memory.

With the use of these Globes a solid grounding in Geography is acquired. The teacher can at once begin object-lessons, by showing things, and not merely representations of them. Pupils are taught not simply the names of geographical lines, but what these lines are, their purpose, and, what is more important, how to draw according to them.

Multitudes of facts and phenomena can be explained and illustrated so simply and clearly that any child can understand them. The most obscure theorems and problems of Spherical Geometry, Trigonometry and Navigation, become, when studied in connection with the Sphere, perfectly intelligible.

SUSPENDED GLOBES.

This style will be found very serviceable wherever floor or table space cannot conveniently be spared for a Globe. The very low price at which the several sizes are offered, is another point in their favor.

SCHEDLER'S LUNAR TELLURIAN.

VII M. Lunar Tellurian. On elegant cast-iron, bronzed stand, with 6" Globe of the Earth, and 1½" Globe of the Moon. Diameter of the Earth's Orbit 36".

$20.00 [1.50]

The Tellurian — a combination representing the relation of the Earth, the Moon, and the Sun — is a valuable aid in the study of Mathematical Geography and Descriptive

E. STEIGER, 25 Park Place, NEW YORK

Astronomy. The synchronism and regularity of the Earth's rotation on its Axis, as well as of its revolution round the Sun, and of the Moon's revolution round the Earth, may be traced and understood in every phase by this apparatus. Above all, this is the most direct and practical means of making evident to the pupil the eclipses of the Sun, and the Moon, the inclination of the Earth's Axis to its Orbit, etc.

SCHEDLER'S Tellurian is convenient and simple, yet accurate and cheap.

The revolutions are all easily produced by the simple moving around — with the hand — of that end of the bar which counterbalances the Globe, quickly or slowly, as may be desired.

The stand is of cast-iron, elegant, and sufficiently heavy; the Globe — a six-inch Terrestrial — is large enough to fully occupy its proper position as an important factor in this truthful representation of the motions of the Earth, and the sphere of the Moon is also covered with a good map.

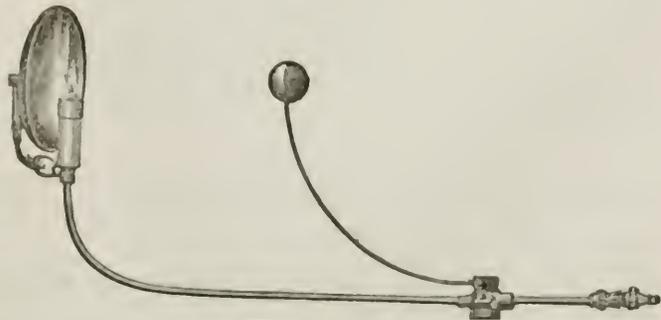

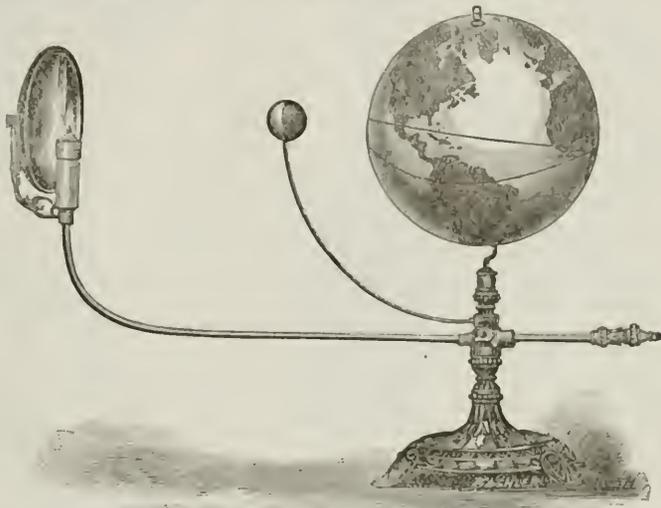

THE TELLURIAN-GLOBE.

VI N. The Tellurian-Globe. On elegant cast-iron bronzed stand, with 9" Globe of the Earth and 1½" Globe of the Moon. With black-walnut bracket. $11.00 [1.50]

The Tellurian-Globe is the most convenient and simple, yet accurate and, withal, the cheapest, instrument of the kind manufactured. No complicated machinery, clock-work, or gearing is used; and, consequently, the eye is not distracted nor the attention diverted, by a multiplicity of objects, or by any unnecessary attachments.

The disc, or reflector, representing the Sun, and the sphere of the Moon — constituting, together, the SCHEDLER Patent Lunar Attachment — are quickly and easily fixed to the stand of a nine-inch Terrestrial Globe, which is thus transformed into a perfect working Tellurian. Whenever desired, this connection may readily be detached, so that the Globe may be used for the usual geographical study and reference. The above cut shows the complete and simple arrangement of this apparatus, and, in this instance, represents the phase known as the New Moon, i. e., when the Moon's lighted hemisphere is turned away from the Earth.

The hollow reflector which represents the Sun is so constructed that the shadow of the Moon shows clearly and naturally the Umbra and Penumbra on the Earth's surface, and thus illustrates the difference between a total and partial eclipse. It is also easy to find those sections of the Earth in which a Solar or Lunar Eclipse is visible, to point out the Sun's place in the Ecliptic at any given time and to explain, in a general way, the cause of morning and evening twilight.

The revolutions are all easily produced by simply moving, in the desired direction, the bar that supports the disc of the Sun or the arm that holds the Moon, with such speed or simultaneous movement as may be required for the purpose of demonstration.

While, of course, the proportion as to size and distance of the different bodies represented cannot be correctly given by this (or, indeed, by any other) apparatus, the principal motions of these bodies and the phenomena which they present can be clearly and satisfactorily explained by the Tellurian-Globe. The warming and lighting of the Earth, the different phases of the Moon, the regular recurrence of sunrise and sunset, of day and night, the changes of the seasons, and the direct effect of the Sun's rays in illuminating the Earth and the Moon, with many other phenomena, may all be beautifully and clearly demonstrated.

The nine-inch Terrestrial Globe here used is mounted on a strong, cast-iron stand, and covered with a very accurate map of the world, embodying all the latest geographical discoveries and territorial changes, including those in Africa and Turkey.

The sphere of the Moon also gives the correct idea of the usual appearance of this satellite of the Earth.

The candle, which supplies the light for the reflector representing the Sun, is held in a patent self-feeding candle-stick which prevents all dripping or soiling; while, at the same time, the light is always retained in one position.

By means of this apparatus, it is, of course, not possible to show the Earth's annual revolution round the Sun, but all the necessary purposes of explanation and demonstration, as far as concerns the relations of these bodies, are served by the arrangement here made, as the light of the Sun can be thrown on any portion of the surfaces of the Earth or the Moon.

A neat black-walnut bracket is furnished, which, if screwed in a convenient place, affords a stand upon which the Tellurian Globe may be safely placed when not in use.

The ease of adjustment, the simplicity and readiness of movement, the facility of detaching all combinations, and using, when desired, the Terrestrial Globe for other purposes, the advantage afforded for explanation and demonstration, and, above all, the low price of the entire apparatus, render it especially acceptable, both in the school and the family, and place it far in advance of all similar instruments.

SCHEDLER'S RELIEF GLOBES are now in preparation.

(Until the above are ready, E. STEIGER keeps a supply of imported Relief Globes, of 26, 16, and 12 inches diameter, respectively; each size in three different styles of mounting.)

At the Centennial Exhibition these Maps readily obtained unqualified recognition and praise.

GLOBE STANDS.

The above illustrations sufficiently explain themselves.

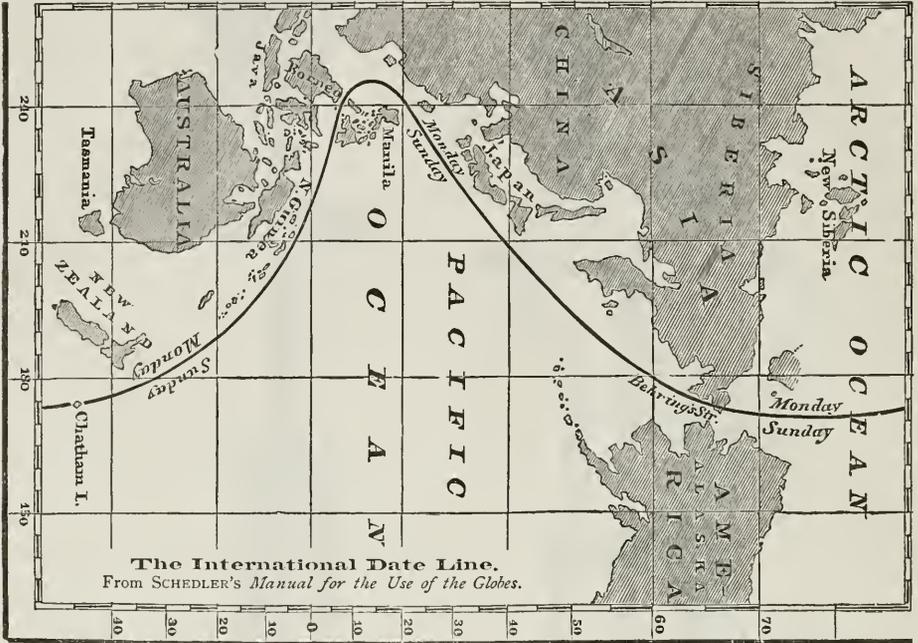

These stands, as here offered, are of black walnut, nicely finished and varnished, simple in design, but solid, and cheap. They afford a field for the display of much taste in design, and can be made by cabinet-makers to match any style and quality of furniture. They occupy but little room, are portable, and, as the Globe is not fastened to them, can, as occasion may require, be used for a variety of purposes. Thus they are highly acceptable for Offices, Clubs, Libraries, Parlors, Drawing-Rooms, Alcoves, Bay-Windows, and, indeed, in almost any portion of an apartment where there is room to spare for an ornamental and uncumbersome piece of furniture.

Size A, for either of the Cabinet (12-inch) Globes. (Height of Stand 33½ inches.) $6.75 [1.20]
 Size B, for either of the nine-inch Globes. (Height of Stand 35 inches.) $5.75 [1.00]

"I am much pleased with the 20-inch Scheller Globe. In modern additions to Geography, in all political changes, it takes precedence of all other Globes I know. The style of engraving and coloring is distinct and pleasing."

"I am so well pleased with your Globes that I wish to say a word in their favor. In accuracy of detail and beauty of finish they surpass all others with which I am acquainted."
 (ELIAS A. ARGAN, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Trenton, N. J.)

TELLURIAN and SCHOOL-CLOCK combined.

J. TROLL'S Automatic Tellurian, or Astronomical Clock.

This Tellurian is so constructed that, by means of the clock-work, its movements are made to agree exactly with those of the Earth and Moon, that is to say, the Earth will revolve around its axis once in 24 hours, the Moon around the Earth once in $27\frac{1}{2}$ [29 $\frac{1}{2}$] days, the Earth around the Sun in 365 $\frac{1}{4}$ days. The clock-work may, however, be easily disconnected, and then, by means of the gearing, the astronomical phenomena can be shown as quickly as instruction in the class-room may require.

The clock (of which the illustration shows the reverse) may be turned on the hinge so as to face the class, and will serve as a common school-clock.

By means of the bracket with which it is provided, TROLL'S Tellurian may be screwed on permanently, in a suitable place. A portable stand, however, will enable the proper showing of the Tellurian in different places successively. Full instruction as to its use may be had gratis.

- A. PETERMANN'S New Map of the United States, 6 Plates, together measuring 28 X 50 inches. In sheets. $1.50
Mounted on muslin, varnished, with rollers. $3.00
It may be fairly said that until the publication of this Map (March, 1874), there was really not one extant which fully embodied the latest results of geographical study and exploration in regard to the United States.
For the production of this excellent Map the United States authorities placed all the official material at their command at the disposal of Dr. PETERMANN.
- F. W. PUTZGER'S Historical School-Atlas, 27 colored Maps. In Paper cover. $0.60
- SOHR-BERGHAUS' Geographical Hand-Atlas of all Parts of the World, 100 large lithographed Maps. In 50 parts $7.50. Strongly bound. $14.25
This is one of the most complete Atlases, and comparatively the cheapest.
- K. VON SPRUNGER'S Historico-Geographical Hand-Atlas. In 3 Volumes, together containing 122 colored Maps, with many Supplementary Maps, Plans, and explanatory remarks.
I. Atlas antiquus, 31 Maps of the Ancient World, by TH. MENKE. Half Russia. $12.35

- A. STEILER'S Hand-Atlas of all Parts of the World, 90 colored Maps, engraved on copper. Half Russia. $22.00
This new edition of STEILER'S Hand-Atlas has but recently been completed. It is worthy of note that a very considerable proportion of all the copies issued has been taken by subscribers in the United States. — This one fact speaks sufficiently in favor of STEILER'S Hand-Atlas: it is published — under A. PETERMANN'S editorial supervision — by JUSTUS PERTHES' world renowned cartographical establishment, of whose Maps BAYARD TAYLOR, as long ago as 1858, testified that in all parts of the world which he had visited, they had proved more correct than any others.
- A. STEILER'S Hand-Atlas of all Parts of the World, Abridged Edition, containing 63 Maps. Cloth. $14.25
The same. A Selection of 31 Maps. Cloth. $7.50
- A. STEILER'S School-Atlas of all Parts of the World, 32 colored Maps, engraved on copper. Cloth. $1.90

WEBER

COMPLETE TRIUMPH AT THE CENTENNIAL.

THE WEBER PIANO ALONE WAS CLASSED FIRST

“FOR SYMPATHETIC, PURE AND RICH TONE, COMBINED WITH GREATEST POWER.”

READ WHAT THE GREAT MUSICAL AUTHORITIES OF THE WORLD SAY OF THESE WONDERFUL PIANO-FORTES.

- NILSSON. I shall take every opportunity to RECOMMEND and PRAISE your instruments.
- PATTI. I have used the Pianos of every celebrated maker, but GIVE YOURS THE PREFERENCE OVER ALL.
- ABBOTT. The rich, pure and sympathetic tone of the Weber Pianos, coupled with such grandeur, captivates every artist at once.
- LUCCA. Your Uprights are EXTRAORDINARY instruments, and deserve their great success.
- KELLOGG. For the last six years your Pianos have been my CHOICE for the CONCERT ROOM and my own HOUSE.
- MURSKA. Your instruments surpass my expectations, and I rank you JUSTLY AS THE FOREMOST MANUFACTURER OF THE DAY.
- MARIE ROZE. I have frequently heard in Europe about the wonderful tone of your Pianos, but must confess they surpass my expectations, and fully merit their great reputation.
- THURSBY. The tone of the Weber Pianos is so sweet, rich, sympathetic, yet so full, that I always rank you as the greatest manufacturer of the day.
- CARY. The sympathetic richness and brilliancy of tone of the Weber Piano, combined with delicacy and ease of touch, make it the most valuable acquisition amongst my musical household goods.
- RIVE KING. Allow me to congratulate you on your having the finest Grand Piano I have ever placed my fingers on. I am astonished and delighted.
- STRAUSS. Your Pianos astonish me; I assure you that I HAVE NEVER yet seen ANY PIANOS WHICH EQUAL YOURS.

AND HUNDREDS OF OTHERS OF LIKE CHARACTER.

THESE INSTRUMENTS ARE SOLD AT THE LOWEST MANUFACTURER'S PROFIT, CONSISTENT WITH THEIR SUPERIORITY, AND ON THE EASIEST TERMS.

STEINWAY & SONS.

U. S. CENTENNIAL EXHIBITION, PHILADELPHIA, 1876.

The United States Centennial Commission upon the unanimous recommendation of the Judges, decreed to Steinway & Sons two awards, the one for "HIGHEST DEGREE OF EXCELLENCE," in all their styles of Pianos exhibited, and the other, for HIGHEST PERFECTION OF FINISH AND WORKMANSHIP of Metal Parts, Hardware, Full Metal Frames, Actions, etc.

OFFICIAL REPORT ON STEINWAY AND SONS' PIANOFORTES:

"For greatest concert capacity in Grand Pianos, as also highest degree of excellence in all their styles of pianos, viz., largest volume, purity and durability of tone, and extraordinary carrying capacity, with precision and durability of mechanism; also, novel disposition of the strings, and construction and bracing of the metal frame."

The report then minutely describes and emphatically indorses the six principal patented improvements which have rendered the Steinway the STANDARD PIANO OF THE WORLD!

Certain unscrupulous piano manufacturers having advertised the judicial signatures attached to fraudulent reports which the Judges at the Centennial Exhibition had rejected and refused to sign, the Judges, in order to protect the Public against such unauthorized use of their names, have given to STEINWAY & SONS under date of July 28, 1877, the following

CERTIFICATE:

This is to certify, that the piano-fortes of Messrs. STEINWAY & SONS, comprising Concert and Parlor Grand, Square and Upright, exhibited by them at the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia in 1876, presented the greatest totality of excellent qualities and novelty of construction, and in all points of excellence they received our highest average of points, and accordingly our unanimous opinion concedes to Messrs. STEINWAY & SONS 'Highest degree of excellence in all their styles.'

Signed:

WILLIAM THOMSON,	HENRY K. OLIVER,
E. LEVASSEUR,	GEO. F. BRISLOW,
ED. FAVRE PERRET,	JAMES C. WATSON,
J. SCHIEDMAYER,	JOSEPH HENRY,
J. E. HILGARD,	F. A. P. BARNARD.

The examining Judges further certify that the STEINWAY piano-fortes were rated highest and far above all other competing exhibits, in each and every style, and reached a GRAND TOTAL AVERAGE OF 95½ OUT OF A POSSIBLE 96.

One New York piano-maker having not only published the Judges' signatures attached to an altered report, but also dishonestly advertised that he had received an average of 95 out of a possible 96, the examining Judges certify that he reached an average of 90½ only, ranking but THIRD on Square pianos, and FOURTH on Parlor Grands.

The above certificates can be seen at STEINWAY & SONS' warerooms, as also the "Official Reports" of the U. S. Centennial Commission, containing the verdict of the group Judges just published in book form.

International Exhibition, Vienna, 1873.

Unanimous Resolution embodied in the Section Report on Pianos of the World's Exhibition of 1873, and signed by all the members of the Jury of this division.

"In regard to the American division, it is much to be deplored that the celebrated path-inaugurating (path-breaking) firm of STEINWAY & SONS, of New York, to whom the entire Piano manufacture is so greatly indebted, has not been represented."

Exposition Universelle, Paris, 1867.

First of the Grand Gold Medals of Honor.

I certify that the FIRST GOLD MEDAL for American Pianos has been unanimously awarded to Messrs. STEINWAY, by the jury of the International Exposition. First on the list in Class X.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21, 1870.

Messrs. LYNCH & GOMIEN:

GENTLEMEN — I am very much pleased with the Piano you made for me. It is really a fine instrument in every respect, and is admired by all who have seen and heard it, for its fine tone, delicacy of touch, and beauty of finish. Many good musicians and distinguished persons have called since it has been in our parlor, and all pronounce it a fine instrument. We ourselves are charmed with it. I shall most certainly recommend it to my friends who may wish to purchase.

I am very truly and respectfully yours,

CATALOGUE OF STEIGER'S KINDERGARTEN MATERIAL.

THE FIRST GIFT.

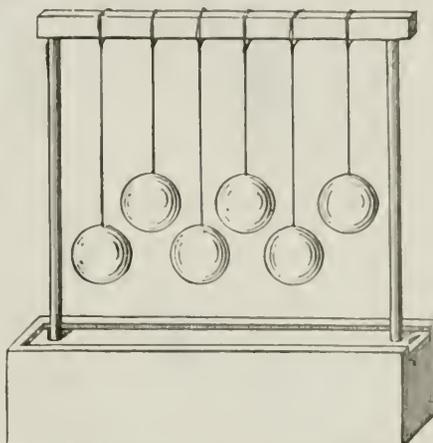

The Balls.

Aim: to teach color (primary: red, blue, yellow, and secondary or mixed: purple, green, orange), direction (forward and backward, right and left, up and down); to train the eye; and to exercise the hands, arms, and feet in various plays.

No. 1. A set of six worsted balls, of the rainbow or standard kindergarten colors, with strings. In a wooden box with cross-beam for hanging the balls. With Directions (Froebel's First Gift for Babies), $0.75.

No. 2. A set of the six balls, loose, without box, $0.50.

Directions for the use of the First Gift are contained in The Kindergarten Guide, Number One. In paper, $0.35.

THE SECOND GIFT.

Sphere, Cylinder, and Cube.

Aim: to teach form and to direct the attention of the child to the similarity and dissimilarity existing between different objects. This is done by pointing out, explaining, and counting the sides, corners, and edges of the cube; by showing that the sphere, the cylinder, and the cube differ from one another in their several properties on account of their difference of shape; by pointing out that the apparent form of the sphere is unchanged, however looked at, but that the apparent forms of both the cube and the cylinder vary according to the point from which they are viewed.

No. 11. A set consisting of a sphere, a cylinder, and two cubes—neatly made of wood and provided with the necessary staples, holes, and strings. In a wooden box with cross-beams for hanging the forms, $0.60.

Directions for the use of the Second Gift are contained in The Kindergarten Guide, Number One. In paper, $0.35.

E. Steiger, 25 Park Place, New York

THE THIRD GIFT.

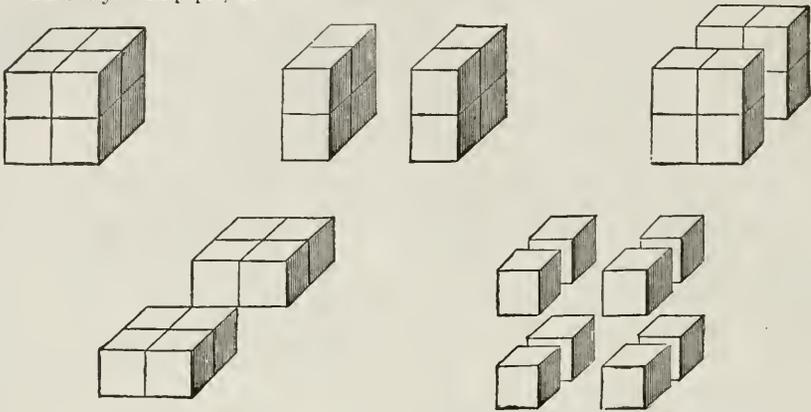

Froebel's First Building Box.

Aim: to illustrate form and number, and also to give the first ideas of fractions, symmetry, etc.

No. 21. A large cube ($2 \times 2 \times 2$ inches) equally divided into 8 small cubes (each containing 1 cubic inch). In a wooden box, \$0.20.

Diagrams and Directions for the use of the Third Gift are contained in The Kindergarten Guide, Number Two. In paper, $0.70 and, separately in the special reprint therefrom:

The Third Gift. In paper, $0.30.

THE FOURTH GIFT.

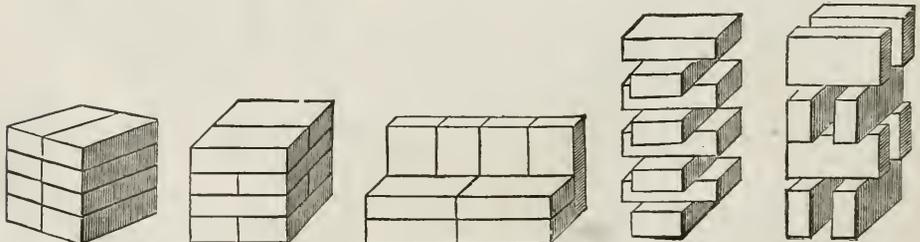

Froebel's Second Building Box.

The aim of the Fourth Gift is similar to that of the Third; but it gives rise to the observation of similarity and dissimilarity, and allows a very varied and interesting application in the production of forms of knowledge (or mathematical forms), of beauty (or symmetry), and of life.

No. 31. A large cube ($2 \times 2 \times 2$ inches) divided into 8 equal oblong blocks (each $\frac{1}{2} \times 1 \times 2$ inches). In a wooden box, \$0.20.

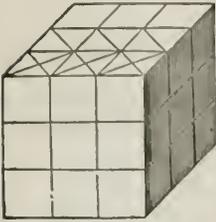

Diagrams and Directions for the use of the Fourth Gift are contained in The Kindergarten Guide, Number Two. In paper, $0.70 and, separately, in the special reprint therefrom:

The Fourth Gift. In paper, $0.30.

THE FIFTH GIFT.

Froebel's Third Building Box.

This is a continuation of, and a complement to, the Third Gift ; it admits of a more extended application than the Third and Fourth.

No. 41. A large cube (3×3×3 inches) divided into 21 whole cubes (each containing 1 cubic inch), 6 half and 12 quarter cubes. In a wooden box, $0.40.

Diagrams and Directions for the use of the Fifth Gift are contained in The Kindergarten Guide, Number Two. In paper, $0.70, and, separately, in the special reprint therefrom: The Fifth Gift. In paper, $0.30.

THE FIFTH GIFT B.

The Child's Fifth Building Box.

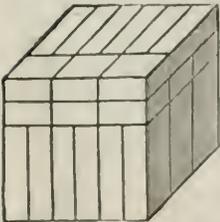

No. 46 A large cube (3×3×3 inches), as a combination of the Second and the Fifth Gifts, divided into 12 cubes (each 1×1×1 inch), 8 additional cubes from each of which one corner is removed corresponding in size to one quarter of a cylinder ; 6 cylinders (each 1×1×1 inch) divided into half cylinders, and 3 cubes (each 1×1×1 inch) divided diagonally into quarter cubes. In a wooden box, $0.60.

No. 47. Diagrams for the use of the Fifth Gift B. In wrapper, $0.50.

THE SIXTH GIFT.

Froebel's Fourth Building Box.

This is a continuation of, and a complement to, the Fourth Gift ; it admits of a very extended application.

No. 51. A large cube (3×3×3 inches) divided into 18 whole oblong blocks (each $\frac{1}{2} \times 1 \times 2$ inches), 3 similar blocks divided lengthwise into 6 (each $\frac{1}{2} \times \frac{1}{2} \times 2$ inches), and 6 divided breadthwise into 12 (each $\frac{1}{2} \times 1 \times 1$ inch). In a wooden box, \$0.40.

Diagrams and Directions for using the Sixth Gift are contained in The Kindergarten Guide, Number Two. In paper, $0.70, and, separately, in the special reprint therefrom: The Sixth Gift. In paper, $0.30.

THE SEVENTH GIFT.

The Tablets.

This Gift consists of quadrangular and triangular tablets, of wood, differently colored, and finely polished.

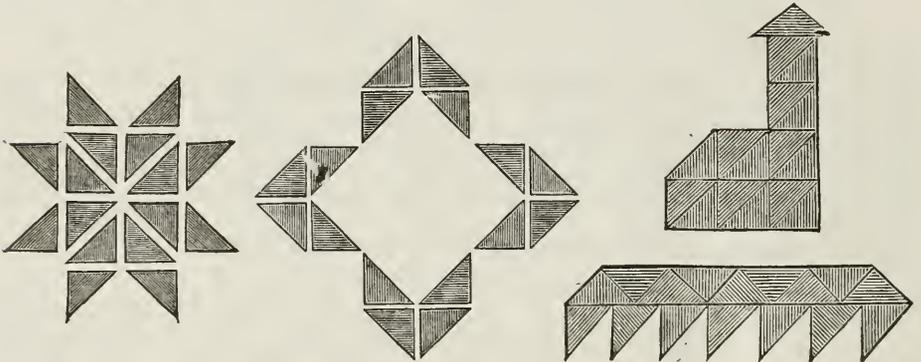

These tablets as well as the preceding Gifts are designed for instruction in shifting or reversing the composition of forms, and combining them. Heretofore, the child had to do with solids only, but by means of the tablets the plane surfaces are represented.

No. 61. Eight squares (1×1 inch)—red and white. In a wooden box, $0.30.

No. 66. Four large right-angled isosceles triangles. In a wooden box, $0.25.

No. 71. Sixteen (small) right-angled isosceles triangles—red and green. In a wooden box, $0.30.

No. 76. Thirty-two isosceles triangles—red and green. In a wooden box, $0.40.

No. 81. Fifty-four isosceles triangles—red and green. In a wooden box, $0.50.

E. Steiger, 25 Park Place, New York

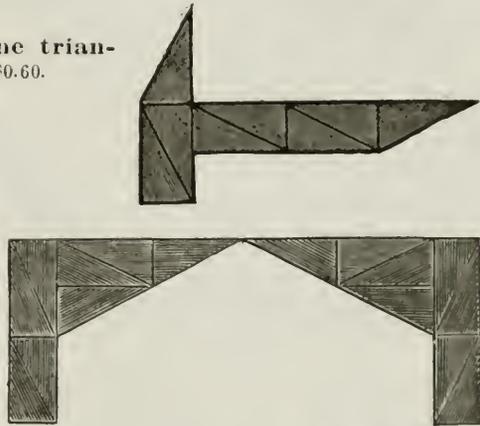

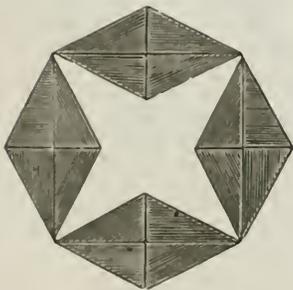

No. 86. Nine large equilateral triangles—yellow and purple. In a wooden box, $0.30.

No. 91. Fifty-four (small) equilateral triangles—yellow and purple. In a wooden box, $0.50.

No. 96. Fifty-six right-angled scalene triangles—orange and blue. In a wooden box, $0.60.

No. 101. Sixty-four obtuse-angled triangles—indigo and blue. In a wooden box, $0.60.

Diagrams and Directions for the use of the Seventh Gift are contained in The Kindergarten Guide, Number Three. In paper, $0.50.

No. 111. Froebel's Kindergarten Occupations for the Family, No. 11 and 12 (Tablet-laying). In a paper box, with chromo-lithographed cover, $1.50.

This Double Box contains 12 squares, 32 right-angled isosceles, 16 equilateral, 24 right-angled scalene, and 16 obtuse-angled triangles, 554 Designs, and Instructions.

E. Steiger, 25 Park Place, New York

THE EIGHTH GIFT.

The Connected Slat.

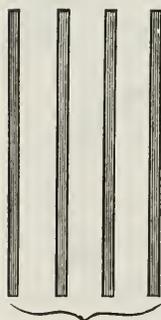

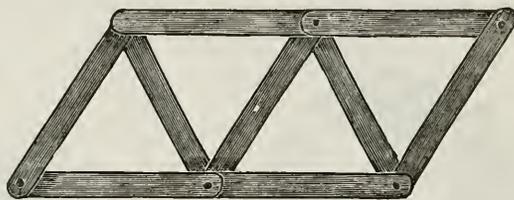

This Gift represents the embodied edge of the figure, it is the outline form of the plane of which, owing to the breadth of the single slats, it is still a considerable part. It consists of ten slats about 4 inches long and $\frac{1}{2}$ inch wide, each overlapping the next one at the end, and fastened to it by a rivet, so that all can be folded up or unfolded, and moved into different forms, geometrical or symmetrical, or into representations of objects.

No. 121. A set of 10 connected slats, each 4 inches, altogether 40 inches, long, with the indication of meter, decimeter, and centimeter on the other side, $0.20.

Diagrams and Directions for the use of the Eighth Gift are contained in The Kindergarten Guide, Number Four. In paper, $0.70 and, separately, in the special reprint therefrom: The Eighth Gift. In paper, $0.30.

THE NINTH GIFT.

The Disconnected Slat.

Wooden slats of varying length, width, and texture are used for interlacing, and thereby producing an almost inexhaustible variety of forms.

No. 131. Fifty wooden slats, 9 inches long, $\frac{1}{4}$ inch wide, \$0.20.

No. 132. Fifty wooden slats, 6 inches long, $\frac{1}{4}$ inch wide, \$0.20.

Diagrams and Directions for the use of the Ninth Gift are contained in The Kindergarten Guide, Number Four. In paper, $0.70 and, separately, in the special reprint therefrom:
The Ninth Gift. In paper, $0.30.

No. 141. Froebel's Kindergarten Occupations for the Family. No. 7. Plaiting (Slat-interlacing). In a paper box, with chromo-lithographed cover, $0.75.

This Box contains 30 slats, 9 inches long, $\frac{1}{4}$ inch wide; 30 slats, 6 inches long, $\frac{1}{4}$ inch wide, 93 Designs, and Instructions.

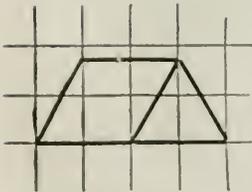

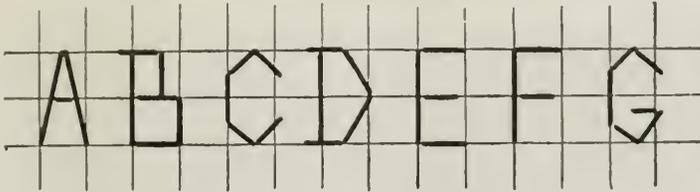

THE TENTH GIFT.

The Sticks.

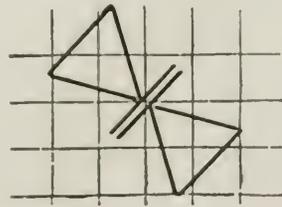

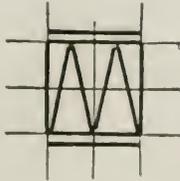

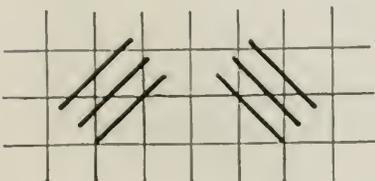

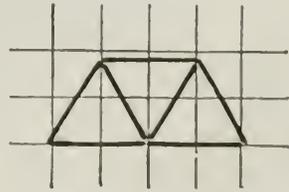

This Gift consists of wooden sticks of various length and one-tenth inch thick.

The sticks, like most of the preceding Gifts, are intended to teach numerical proportion and variety of form, they represent the embodied straight line, and are an excellent preparation for Drawing and other occupations.

No. 151. A package containing 500 sticks, 1 inch long, $0.12.

No. 156. A package containing 500 sticks, 2 inches long, $0.12.

No. 161. A package containing 500 sticks, 3 inches long, $0.15.

No. 166. A package containing 500 sticks, 4 inches long, $0.15.

No. 171. A package containing 500 sticks, 5 inches long, $0.15.

No. 176. A package containing 500 assorted sticks (150 one inch, 200 two inches, 50 three inches, 50 four inches, 50 five inches long), $0.25.

No. 181. A package containing 250 sticks, 13 inches long, $0.30.

Diagrams and Directions for the use of the Tenth Gift are contained in The Kindergarten Guide, Number Four. In paper, $0.70 and, separately, in the special reprint therefrom:

The Tenth Gift. In paper, $0.30.

No. 191. Froebel's Kindergarten Occupations for the Family. No. 1. Stick-laying. In a paper box, with chromo-lithographed cover, $0.75.

This Box contains 500 assorted sticks, 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5 inches long, respectively, 265 Designs and Instructions.

THE ELEVENTH GIFT.

The Rings.

This Gift consists of whole and half wire rings, of various diameter.

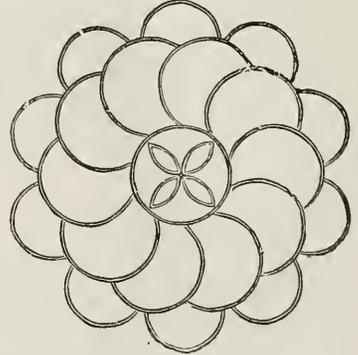

The rings are intended, like the sticks, to teach form and proportion; they represent the embodied curved line.

No. 201. A box containing 20 whole and 40 half rings, of 2 inches diameter, $0.40.

No. 206. A box containing 20 whole and 40 half rings, of $1\frac{1}{2}$ inch diameter, \$0.40.

No. 211. A box containing 20 whole and 40 half-rings, of $\frac{3}{4}$ inch diameter, \$0.35.

No. 216. A box containing 20 whole and 40 half rings each of 2, $1\frac{1}{2}$, and $\frac{3}{4}$ inch diameter (altogether 60 whole and 120 half rings), \$0.75.

Diagrams: Steiger's Designs for Ring-laying. 12 plates, in wrapper, $0.30.

No. 221. Froebel's Kindergarten Occupations for the Family. No. 8. (Ring-laying.) In a paper box, with chromo-lithographed cover, $0.75.

This Box contains 10 whole and 20 half rings each of 2, $1\frac{1}{2}$, and $\frac{3}{4}$ inch diameter, 107 Designs, and Instructions.

THE TWELFTH GIFT.

The Thread.

XVIII. Mat-plaiting (Weaving, Braiding).

Strips of colored paper are, by means of a steel or wooden needle of peculiar construction, woven into another (differently colored) leaf of paper, which is cut into strips throughout its entire surface, except that a margin is left at each end to keep the strips in their places. A very great variety of designs is thus produced, and the inventive powers of teacher and pupil are constantly stimulated.

XX. Paper-folding.

The material for paper-folding consists of square, rectangular, and triangular pieces, with which variously shaped objects are formed, and the elements of geometry are taught in a practical manner. The variety is endless and prepares the pupil for many similar and useful manual performances in practical life.

XXII. Peas or Cork Work.

Peas are soaked in water for 8 or 12 hours, and pieces of wire, of various lengths, pointed at the ends, are stuck into them for the purpose of imitating real objects and the various geometrical figures. Skeletons are thus produced, which train the eye for perspective drawing most successfully. Wooden sticks similar to those used in Stick-laying but thinner (only one-sixteenth inch thick) are also used for this purpose.

In place of peas many persons prefer cork cubes, which may be conveniently used again and again.

NOTICE.

The foregoing Catalogue supersedes all lists previously issued; upon comparison a considerable reduction in the price of most of the articles mentioned will be noticed, which increased manufacturing facilities have enabled me to make.

✎ The designation by numbers (No.) of the several articles in this Catalogue is an arbitrary one and is made for the purpose of enabling customers to be precise in ordering.

However extensive this Catalogue, it comprises only a part of my stock of Kindergarten Gifts, Occupation Material, Furniture, etc. Many kindred articles are on hand, and new additions are continually being produced as fast as circumstances permit to carry out my plans and desires of promoting whatever tends to the development and popularization of the Kindergarten System.

✎ An enlarged edition of the present Catalogue is already in preparation; it will be issued shortly, and sent free to all persons desiring to receive it.

October, 1878.

SUBJECT-INDEX

TO THE

BOOKS AND OTHER ARTICLES ENUMERATED ON THE PRECEDING PAGES.

NOTE. — The arrangement of this Index will appear at a glance to differ essentially from the method usually adopted just as the "expository cataloguing" exemplified on part of the pages 151 to 273 is also likely to prove new to many readers. The aim has been to mention every thing under special headings and popular names, rather than under general and scientific terms.

Thus the book "How to Write Clearly" (p. 207) has been indexed under Writing English, and "How to Parse" (p. 207) will be found under Parsing, because while Writing and Parsing may, or may not, be treated of at length in some of the English Grammars published, none of them teach these particulars so specifically as do the two books above named.

Principles of Decorative Design (p. 155, Dresser) is indexed under both Decoration and Design, and not under the non-committal heading of Art. It is thought that this manner of specializing will prove of real practical value to the general reader, while others will experience no difficulty in coming to the conclusion that certain special matters are sure to be similarly treated of — like the two instances above cited — in books which are here indexed only under other and more general subjects.

This Index having been prepared from the titles alone (without any inspection of the books themselves, no claim can be made as to its being correct and exhaustive, or even uniform and consistent in all its parts. In accordance with the wording of the titles, synonymous matters appear, in many cases, at different places (as e. g. Apparatus [Botanical] and Botanical Apparatus), while cross-references and comparisons of the enumeration under analogous headings have mostly been omitted in the belief that this imperfect state will call forth more suggestions for the improvement of the plan, especially on the part of publishers and authors interested, than if this sample had left nothing to be desired — a goal not likely to be speedily reached.

This plan, also, allows books to appear with their titles correctly and distinctly given, and will not make it necessary to distort the real title of a book, simply to give prominence to a leading catch-word. A book can thus be enumerated in the advertisement, e. g., as "A First Sketch of English Literature" (p. 155, Morley), and not "English Literature, a First Sketch of," or, "The Elements of Building Construction and Architectural Drawing" (p. 155, Davidson), instead of "Building Construction, the Elements of, and Architectural Drawing."

JACKSON MILITARY INSTITUTE,

Tarrytown-on-the-Hudson, N. Y.

Rev. F. J. JACKSON, Principal.

Established 1857.

The plan of the Jackson Military Institute is framed with judicious reference to the best culture of the pupils, imparting to them a thorough preparation for business or admission to College and the Military or Naval Academy.

The locality in which the school is situated, is unsurpassed in all respects as the most desirable one for a Boarding School.

The Buildings and Grounds are ample, well-shaded, attractive, and home-like. The Sleeping Apartments, for the most part, are arranged for two pupils each, and all the beds are furnished with patent springs and hair mattresses. The School Rooms are commodious, well-ventilated, and supplied with furniture adapted to the greatest comfort and health of the pupils.

English Department ; Classical Department ; Business Department ; Department of Telegraphy.

Special Merits: Thorough and careful instruction in all the branches taught ; due attention to physical training and to military drill ; paternal care and discipline ; cultivation of moral and religious character.

Terms : For board, ordinary washing and mending, bed and bedding, fuel, gas, and tuition in all the English branches and the Classics, per school year, $400.00.

THE ACADEMY MOUNT ST. VINCENT,

CONDUCTED BY THE SISTERS OF CHARITY.

FIRST OPENED IN 1847.

Permanently located on the east bank of the Hudson, a little above Riverdale, at a point where the river concentrates its most forcible claims to its beautiful appellation, "The Rhine of America." Hourly trains to and from New York, starting either from the Thirtieth Street Depot or the Grand Central, render access easy.

The situation is healthy and elevated, containing a continuous view of magnificent scenery.

The grounds immediately pertaining to the Institution number sixty-three acres, a large portion of which is tastefully laid out and thrown open to the pupils. At the suggestion of several eminent physicians, and their assurance that every advantage enjoyed at regular sea-bathing resorts could be found in this locality, a convenient bathing-house has been erected.

The Academy building, in the Byzantine style, possessing great architectural beauty, is one of the largest educational structures in the United States. The tower rises two hundred and ninety feet above water level, affording fine opportunities for astronomical observation.

By its charter, the Academy enjoys all the rights and privileges of the first collegiate institutions in the State. The course of study embraces the various branches of a solid and useful education.

The services of distinguished Professors are secured in the musical departments for those who prefer masters. Lectures are delivered by an able Professor, who has philosophical and chemical apparatus at his command. Calisthenics and Dancing are also taught by Professors. A fine Library of selected works, embracing a range of varied literature, is at the command of the pupils. The entire "Arnold collection" of minerals, donated to the Institution July 4th, 1872, by Dr. EDMUND S. F. ARNOLD, its munificent friend, has so enriched and extended the cabinet that it is now one of the finest and most valuable in the United States.

The correspondence of the pupils is under the supervision of the Mother Superior. Parents may rest assured that every attention, consistent with the spirit of a firm but mild government, is paid to the comfort of the young ladies placed at the Institution. No undue influence is exercised over the religious opinions of non-Catholic pupils; however, for the maintenance of order, all are required to conform to the external discipline of the Academy.

CHAMBERLAIN INSTITUTE, Randolph, N. Y.,

Located on the A. & G. W. R. R.

Dropping the usual language of advertisements we invite attention to a few plain facts concerning this Institution. It is a large and thoroughly equipped Seminary for both sexes. Established in 1860. Property free from debt, $103,000. Sufficient endowment to give students all the conveniences of a pleasant home and the instruction of competent teachers at a moderate cost. New Boarding Hall, with steam heat, etc., erected in 1873 at a cost of $45,000. Excellent board and home-like arrangements throughout. The Principal and other teachers board with the students, and give especial attention to their health, comfort, manners, and morals.

A New Departure is now Proposed.

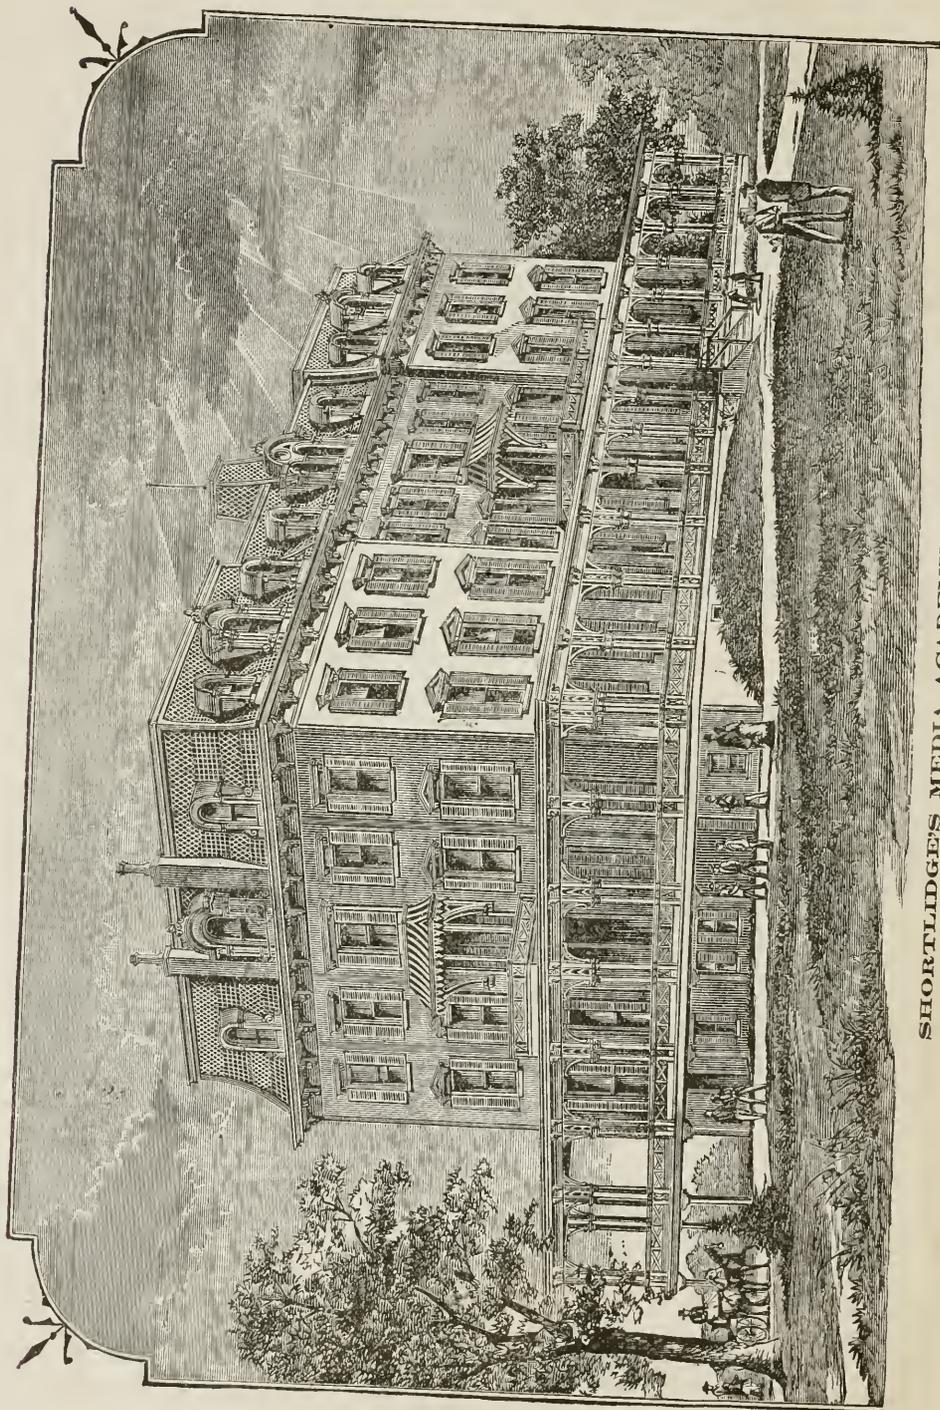

Being convinced that hundreds of our young people are prevented from attending school by the stringency of the times, we have decided to reduce the expenses to rates which could not be afforded, were the Institution not endowed, and did we not expect that a large number would avail themselves of these favorable terms.

Expenses.

Board, per week, $2.25,	Per term, $31.50	Tuition (including Spelling, Reading,
Steam heat (students rooming alone, $7.00)	" " 5.00	Geography, Grammar, Arithmetic,	Per term, $5.00

Professor of Music.

Fine new building, with complete appointments, thoroughly heated, lighted, and ventilated; hot and cold water in every story; ample bath facilities; earth closets; no water-closets in the building; no unhealthy sinks or wells; sewerage most complete, avoiding all gases inducing sickness. Everything kept in a manner to conduce to health and the best home comfort. Ample ball fields and other play grounds; gymnasium, with two bowling-alleys; an excellent table, etc.

Department for Young Boys, "for whom," says The New York Graphic, "a home-life is provided not usually found in Boarding Schools."

Special provision and care for little boys.

Special attention to backward pupils. Both individual and class instruction, combining the advantages of private tutoring and school-room drill.

The regular school session consists of forty weeks. Boys may remain during vacations at same price as during term time. Pupils may enter at any time.

The Price — No Extra Charges — Cash Payments.

$280.00 pays for 40 weeks, as stated on page 4 of the Circular.

Prof. Wynn's private instruction in Piano Music ($12.50 per quarter) is the only item not included in this charge.

The $280.00, payable $70.00 quarterly in advance, includes boarding, washing, mending, gas, hot and cold baths, tuition in any study, use of school books, and all stationery for school purposes, reading room and pew rent.

With this arrangement, the patron knows exactly what he is paying and contracting for. He receives a receipt stating that the payment "is in advance and in full for quarter of 10 weeks." There is no opportunity for adding an undefined list of "Incidentals" as "Extras."

A TESTIMONIAL.

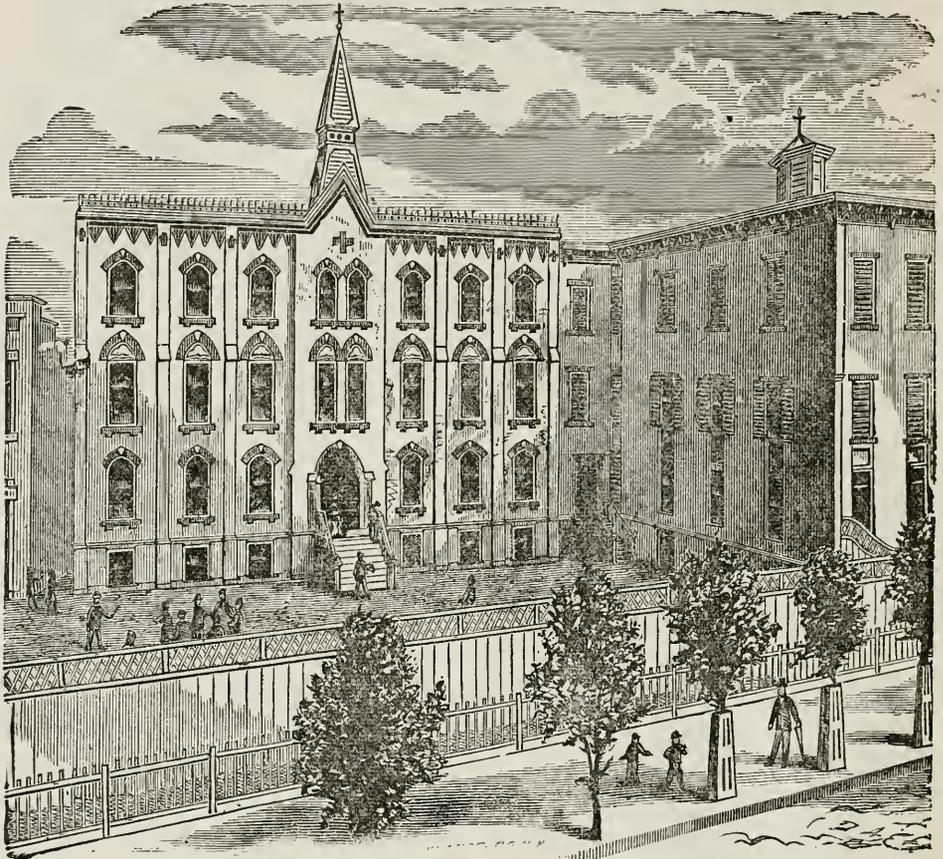

(From Bayard Taylor, the Poet, Cedarcroft, Kennett Square, July 22d, 1870.)

I take great pleasure in recommending to parents the Academy of Mr. Swithin C. Shortlidge. I have had an opportunity for several years past of observing the manner in which the Academy is conducted, as well as the deportment of the pupils who attend it, and am satisfied that nothing is neglected which can further both the intellectual and moral development of the latter.

Grove Hall,
Miss Monfort's School for Young Ladies and Children,
New Haven, Conn.

Grove Hall is situated in New Haven, Conn., and is two and a half hours from New York City, on the New Haven Railroad. It is eminently adapted to the purposes of a School for Young Ladies, being extremely spacious, admirably planned for the health and comfort of the inmates, and finely located.

Its situation in a University town also combines for it the advantage of a location in the country with the peculiar opportunities for culture which the city affords. Special facilities are offered for the study of Drawing and Painting, of the various styles of Decorative Art, and of Music, both Vocal and Instrumental.

In every Department of Study —

Preparatory, Intermediate, and Academic — the work is thorough, attractive, and refining, and each step in the course is so ordered that pupils will be prepared, not only to pass the Harvard Examinations for Women, but to pursue their studies in any College open to women.

The Boarding Department is under the direct personal supervision of Miss Montfort, and parents may know that the trust committed to her will be carefully guarded.

Young Ladies not desirous of pursuing the regular studies, are permitted to select a special course, subject to the approval of parents and teachers. Special prominence is given to the study of History and Literature. Diplomas will be awarded to those who complete the Course of English Studies.

Board and Tuition in English, Latin, and French..... (per annum) $400.00 Payable half-yearly, always in advance, on the 20th of September and 1st of February.

TESTIMONIALS.

22 Herbert Place, DUBLIN, January 8th, 1878.

DEAR MR. KEENAN:— Since the time of the accomplished Professor Spaulding of whom I had the honor of being a favorite pupil in school days, I have taken deep interest in the subject of Reading and Elocution.

I shall not easily forget the effect produced by your well trained elocutionary power in the rendering of Watson's touching lines "Beautiful Snow," and "The Vagabonds," by Trowbridge. The transitions from the address to the auditor to that to the poor dog, the faithful companion of the mendicant, were most artistically managed.

Wishing you success, and a prosperous voyage to your native land, and hoping that you will some time forward me American papers giving accounts of your professional career, I remain, dear Mr. Keenan, Faithfully yours,

CHARLES EDWARD TIDBALL,

Chancellor of Christ Church Cathedral, Dublin.

"Mr. Keenan's gifts as an elocutionist are of a very high order, and have received the approbation of large audiences, both in England and Ireland. With a full, clear, musical voice, skillfully trained to express all the lights and shades of emotion, from the pathetic to the humorous, he combines admirable dramatic action, neither exaggerated nor theatrical, but remarkable for that truth of expression which is most effective in bringing the feelings of the audience into perfect sympathy with both the author and the reader". — LADY WILKE in the Dublin Nation.

PHILADELPHIA, January 10th, 1878.

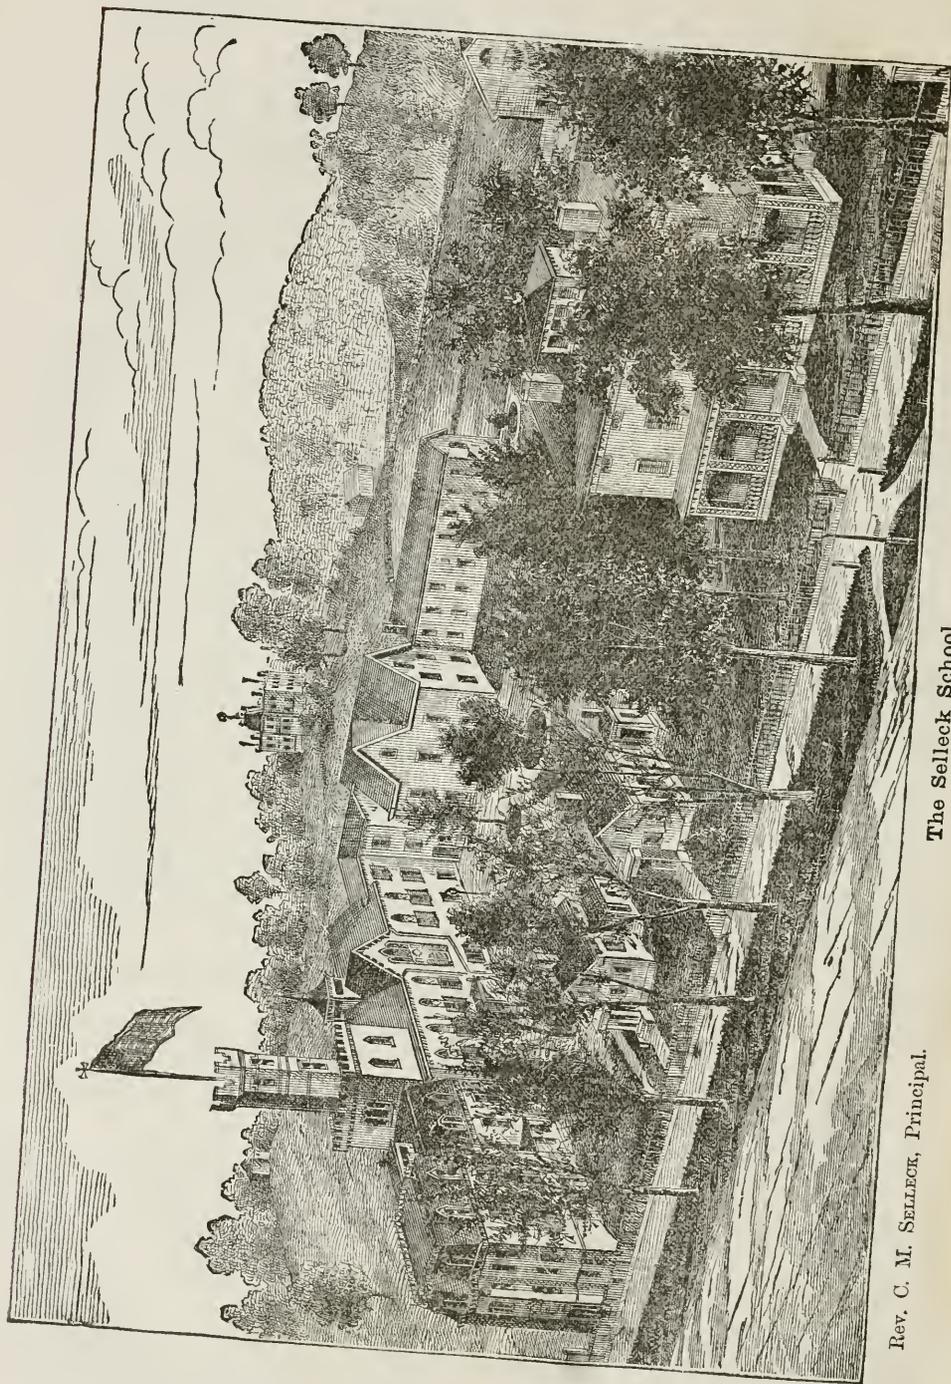

MR. DEAR SIR:— I am well pleased with your announcement that you are about resuming your agreeable and instructive Readings and Recitations; for I think that you are without an equal in that line. Having conquered two worlds, as it were, you can only repeat your triumphs.

Wishing you God speed and good luck wherever you go, I am your warm friend and sincere admirer.

THE SELLECK SCHOOL

— Rev. C. M. SELLECK, Principal —

NORWALK, Conn.

This School is situated in Norwalk, Connecticut. Bordering on Long Island Sound, and on the line of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, this place is about forty-four miles from New York, with which City there is frequent communication.

The Academy was first opened in 1855, commencing with six pupils. For some twelve years past the average yearly number of pupils has been about one hundred.

The main building is 30×100 feet, and there are in addition to this a spacious dwelling and two cottages. The grounds consist of 35 acres, including farm lands, gardens, school campus, and ball grounds.

The school has two terms of about five months each: the winter session beginning in November, and the summer session in May. This arrangement — a special feature — throws the vacations into April and October; and there is no recess during the warm weather. The long summer vacations, so general elsewhere, are in this way avoided; and with them, their unavoidable results of studies forgotten and discipline relaxed.

The school is situated in a beautiful rural region, two miles from Long Island Sound and on the banks of an estuary known as the Norwalk river. It enjoys pure and bracing air, and the pupils have at their command the means of healthful exercise and amusement. During the hot weather of July and August the boys rise early, devote the morning hours to their studies, and have the afternoons and evenings for recreation.

Prominent as a recreation is the school's so-called "Navy," which consists of several clubs, officered and uniformed, and taught and exercised in boating and swimming. Mr. Selleck has found this a valuable adjunct to school studies and a source of great enjoyment to the boys.

A large stage and also a wagon belong to the school for conveying parties to places of interest and resort in the country adjacent. These, with a well-furnished gymnasium, an accessible ball ground, etc., afford, in the language of the projector, "pleasant and profitable recreation."

The department of instruction is well organized and aims to promote promptness, system, and thoroughness. Each daily session has its periods, and each period its allotted duty. The lesson is assigned, time given for studying it, needed help offered, and then a punctual and satisfactory response, on the pupil's part, is expected.

The studies apportioned to each boy are those suited to his age and graded to his attainments. He is required to do no more than he can, but whatever is undertaken must be done well. The standing of every scholar is noted and kept, and his future promotion based upon this record. Great pains are taken to secure efficient teaching.

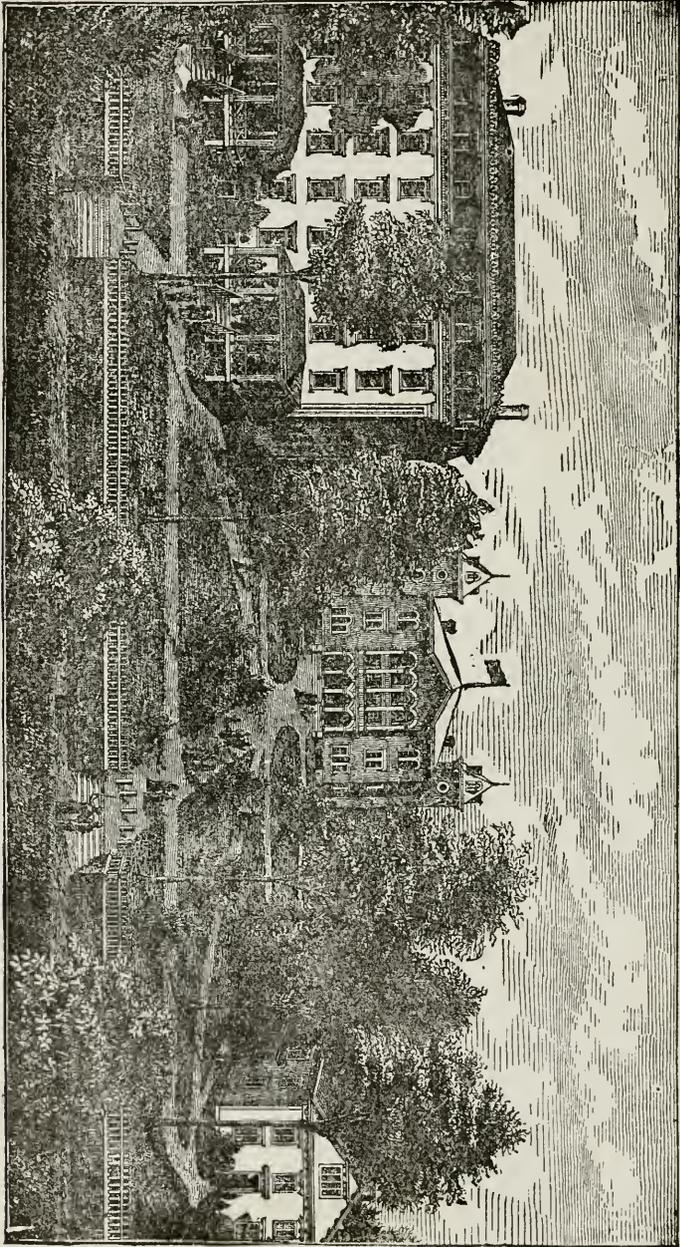

A master is at the head of each subject of study, as the classics, modern languages, and mathematics. Penmanship has its separate instructor. The result is a larger amount of work done and greater thoroughness along each line of effort.

The School is represented in several Colleges of the country and in different branches of the business world. During the twenty-two years of its existence it has sent out a tide of boys into active life. Its present calendar is large and its hopes strong of doing good work in the future for the mental and moral training of Boys.

An important aim of the Institution from the start has been to secure manliness of character in connection with decided and positive religious impressions, and to this end regular and careful training in all the duties which enter into the proper life of a Christian gentleman, is especially provided for in the arrangement of this excellent and healthful Church School.

GREENWICH ACADEMY

EAST GREENWICH, R. I.

GREENWICH ACADEMY,

WITH MUSICAL INSTITUTE AND COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,

EAST GREENWICH, R. I.

Rev. F. D. BLAKESLEE, A. M., Principal.

A SCHOOL BY THE SEA-SIDE.

FOUNDED 1802.

LOCATION.—This Academy is located on an eminence on the west shore of Narragansett Bay. The scenery is of surpassing beauty, presenting a view of both shores, and, more remotely, of various towns and cities in Rhode Island and Massachusetts. The healthfulness of the location is proverbial. Being in the southern section of New England, the place enjoys a climate more mild and equable than the Eastern States generally. The harbor affords facilities for salt-water bathing, and the bay gives ample opportunity for sailing and rowing. Pupils from the interior requiring a change of air may here pursue their studies under the most salutary hygienic conditions. East Greenwich is on the direct route from New York to Boston.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS.—(See cut.) The Academy grounds contain five acres. Upon these grounds stand the Boarding Hall, Windsor House, and the Academy. The Academy building is believed to be unsurpassed in any institution of the same grade. It contains ample and commodious recitation rooms, besides parlor, office, library, reading-room, cabinet, and one of the finest seminary chapels in New England. Improvements have recently been made, amounting to over $20,000.

INSTRUCTION.—Students of both sexes will here find opportunity to pursue courses of study in the most thorough manner, in either of the following departments: Common and Higher English, Classical, Scientific, Musical, Commercial, Drawing and Painting, Elocution, Modern Languages.

Diplomas are given upon the completion of either of the graduating courses.

GERMAN is taught by one who speaks the language fluently.

The SCIENCES by one who has studied in Bunsen's famous laboratory in Germany.

The FINE ARTS by one who has had the instruction of European masters.

The COLLEGE PREPARATORY and ENGLISH studies by able and experienced teachers. Students prepared for first-class Colleges and Universities.

The MUSICAL INSTITUTE connected with the Academy is designed to afford superior advantages for pursuing the study of Music. This department is provided with excellent pianos, including a Chickering Grand, and a large two-manual pipe organ. Special attention is paid to voice culture.

The NEW ENGLAND NORMAL MUSICAL INSTITUTE, under the direction of Dr. E. Tourjee of Boston, holds its annual session of four weeks each summer at this Academy.

The COMMERCIAL COLLEGE is designed to meet the growing demand for a thorough and practical preparation for a business life, and is believed to be in no respect inferior to the best Mercantile Colleges.

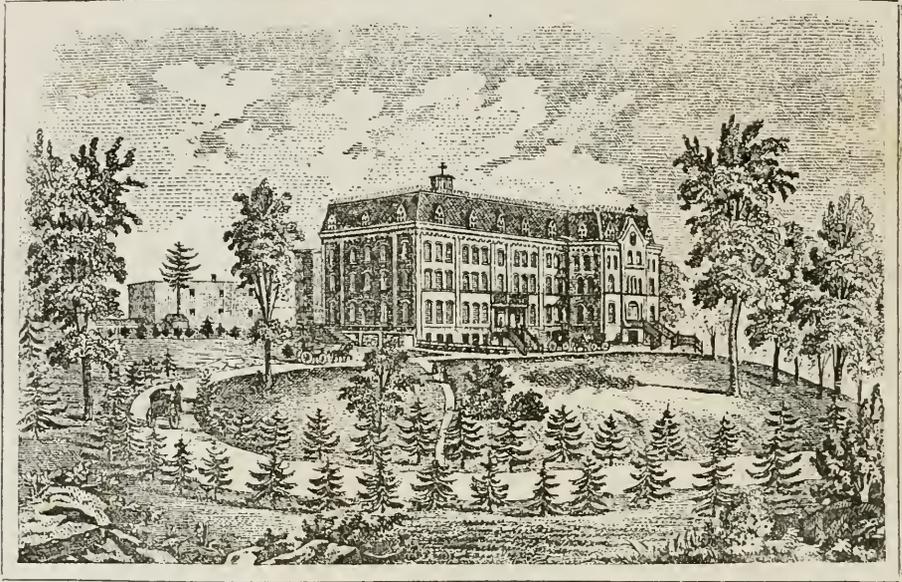

EXPENSES for the year, including Common English, $200.00.

CALENDAR for 1878-79. Three Terms. Two thirteen, and one fourteen weeks. Winter Term begins December 3rd, 1878. Spring Term begins March 25th, 1879. Fall Term begins August 26th, 1879.

Ursuline Academy,

Boarding and Day School for Young Ladies,

EAST MORRISANIA, NEW YORK.

This Institution, in its plan of education, unites all the advantages that can be derived from a punctual and conscientious care bestowed on the pupils, in every branch of science becoming to their sex. Propriety of deportment, politeness, personal neatness, and the principles of morality, are objects of unceasing assiduity.

Difference of religion is no obstacle to the admission of young ladies, provided they are willing to conform to the general regulations of the school.

All payments are to be made semi-annually in advance. No deduction will be made for partial absence or withdrawal from the Academy, unless in case of protracted illness.

EDUCATION AND TREATMENT

OF

IDIOTS AND DEFICIENT CHILDREN.

(1.) It is desirable that the idiots whose parents have small or no means, with no time or room to spare for their education, be sent to the institutions erected and endowed for them by the States.

(2.) It is equally desirable that the idiots whose parents have some means, but no room or time to spare for their training, be entrusted to familial institutions where they would receive individual and home-like care.

(3.) It is also desirable that families in good circumstances be offered the means of keeping and educating their idiotic child among their intelligent children. Otherwise provided for, the idiot loses more in sympathy than he can gain in instruction. On the other hand, the brothers and sisters—who have no opportunity to love him, but hear of him as of a blot on the family name, and a mortgage on the family estates—soon agree to keep him away, and trust him to the lowest bidder.

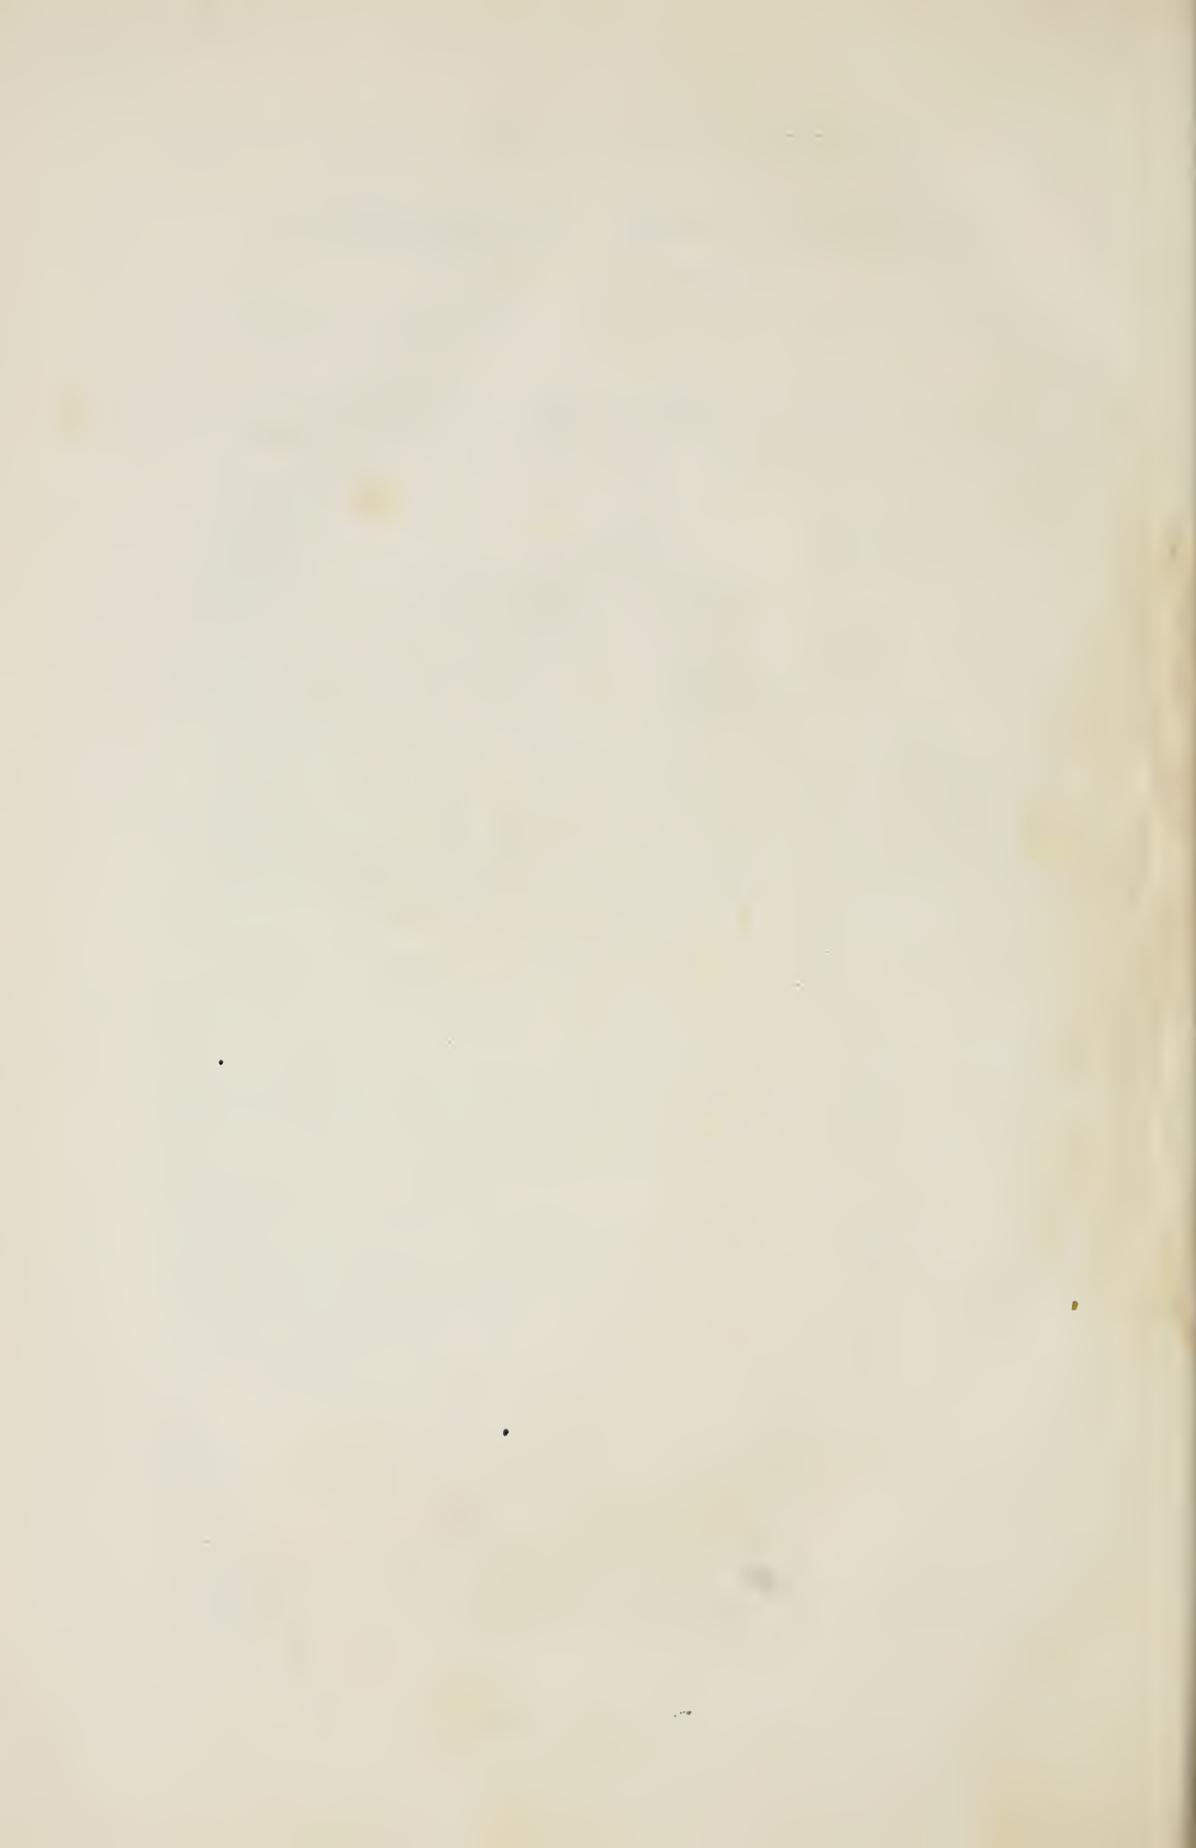

(4.) Having seen in a long practice the difference between the idiots so estranged from home and those surrounded by natural affections, I do not hesitate to advocate for such cases a home education and an individual training, the object of which shall be not only to improve them as far as a deficient nature permits, but to make them, as far as possible, good and happy.

(5.) My experience in educating such pupils warrants me to say that this country has, more than any other, competent female teachers, who can and will do this work (at a too low rate of compensation) under the direction of a competent physician.

College of Music of the City of Cincinnati.—It is the aim of the college to impart instruction, theoretically and practically, in all branches of musical education. The plan of instruction adopted here is intended to give to the student who wishes to become a professional musician, a methodical, scientific, and complete education. This comprehensive system is necessarily of the highest advantage to the amateur who wishes to learn one or more special branches of the art and science of music. In order to render this system practical and effective, talented teachers will be employed who are able to execute as well

1. The voice.
 - a. Chorus classes. An important feature in this plan is the formation of classes which shall teach the student to think musically. It is desirable that a candidate for the elementary classes shall have a singing voice, and some technical knowledge of music, but this will not be made a condition of admission. All persons will be received, and classified according to their capacities and knowledge. In these different grades of chorus instructions they will be taught to read music, to exercise the voice, and learn the signs and terms of musical expression. All students in the college, whether or not pursuing special studies, will be required to attend these classes, unless excused by the directors.
 - b. Cultivation of the voice in solo singing.
2. The orchestra.
 - a. Special instruction upon each instrument.
 - b. Concerted playing in trio, quartet, and full orchestra.
3. Theory.
 - a. Harmony.
 - b. Counterpoint.
 - c. Instrumentation.
 - d. Composition.
4. Pianoforte playing.
5. The organ. The presence in the college building of the great organ, one of the five largest in the world, will give unexampled opportunities for thorough instruction upon this instrument.
6. History of music and lectures upon musical subjects.
7. Score-playing and conducting.
8. Languages—Italian, German, and French.
9. Elocution.
10. Concert-room deportment, dramatic expression.

These are the principal departments of instruction. They will be added to or modified as circumstances require. Pupils may study one special branch only, but they cannot receive a diploma of graduation unless they are able to pass an examination in branches required for that purpose. The course of instruction in the College of Music in Cincinnati offers superior advantages to those who wish to acquire the art and science of music, whether as a profession or as an accomplishment; but the college offers additional attractions, not found elsewhere in this country, in the series of symphony and chamber concerts given under its direction. As a part of their musical education, regular students will have free admission to the rehearsals of these concerts. The college will be open for the reception of students early in October. THEODORE THOMAS, Musical Director. For information, address J. BURNET, Jr., Secretary, 81 West Third Street.

Steiger's Educational Bureau has been established for the purpose of assisting Teachers and Kindergartners in their efforts to obtain positions, saving them, however, the usual expense of "Registration" and the percentage upon their salaries which it is the custom to pay — when engaged — to the Agent or person through whom the position has been obtained.

The organization of this Bureau is but another step in the series of services which it is Mr. STEIGER'S desire to render in behalf of the interests of Education, and while he takes pleasure in thus freely offering his aid, he feels confident, on the other hand, that his endeavors will be appreciated; that he will be saved, at least, unnecessary labor and that neither his own nor his assistants' time will be occupied in attending to personal calls. A clearly-written statement setting forth what is desired by, and what are the qualifications of, applicants is, in most cases, of more real value than a personal interview and a verbal application.

The Application Forms (with transcripts of testimonials and photograph attached) are filed in the Office of Steiger's Educational Bureau and Principals of Educational Institutions upon calling, are given access to these files, after an inspection of which they will be able to make their selection, to enter into direct communication with applicants, and to conclude arrangements with them — without incurring any monetary obligation to Mr. STEIGER.

On the other hand, Principals residing at a distance, who cannot personally inspect the files, should indicate upon the Blank Forms, furnished for that purpose, what they expect from the Assistant they wish to engage. Reference will then be made to the files and the names of such applicants as seem best suited for the position will be sent to the Principal, who is thus placed in direct communication with available teachers, and can effect the desired arrangement without other intervention.

In consequence of the extensive information in regard to nearly all the Schools and Educational Institutions of this country which is in the possession of this Bureau — in the form of circulars, catalogues, reports and special particulars — Mr. STEIGER is enabled to offer advice respecting the choice of schools for the education of children.

Parents and Guardians who wish to avail themselves of the facilities offered by this Bureau for the selection of a Tutor or Governess for home instruction will be accommodated in the same manner as Principals. The Blank Forms furnished should be carefully filled out with a distinct statement of the qualifications which are considered necessary and the nature of the services desired. Upon the receipt of such application Mr. STEIGER will examine the files of the Bureau and communicate a select list of names to each inquirer. The concluding arrangements will, however, be left entirely to the Parents or Guardians themselves.

A Card.

To the Teaching Profession in the United States and Canada:

A pleasant and constantly increasing relation with Teachers and Educators throughout the land, extending over the past twenty years, has given the undersigned ample opportunities to study their special wants, and to discover, to a certain extent, their needs and desires.

In consequence of this, he has become (as he thinks, in the true sense of the term) interested in, and a sympathizer with, the members of the Teaching Profession, his constant endeavor being to do, so far as he is able, whatever may be thought to conduce to the advantage of the American Teacher.

Believing it to be proper that the motives which prompt any special course of action should be explained, and, further, that it is well to mention any facts which may induce others to labor for the best interests of the community, he does not hesitate to refer, in this card, to what may, at first sight, appear to be purely personal and private matters.

A hard worker himself, alike from inclination and from necessity, he has felt it his duty, as each new year has shown fresh work to be performed, new tasks to be accomplished, to endeavor to set an example to those around him by his own energy and application. That this is practice and not precept merely, is evidenced by the fact that within the last nineteen years, he has not missed a single working day. As a result of this constant application and personal supervision of his business, he has learned that the path of success lies in persistent and unflagging attention to details, and in watchful care over even the smallest interest, and that, without this, failure is next to inevitable.

As interest begets interest, it has come to pass that his labors for the benefit of Teachers have caused a mutual relation to grow up, the steady increase of which has been noted and watched by him, and has become a source of great pleasure. Indeed, the manifestations of the good-will of others and of their sincere appreciation, which have recently come to his notice, are so numerous and so encouraging that he feels convinced that he has wisely sacrificed what most persons would perhaps consider a fortune uselessly thrown away. Recognizing the true dignity of labor — that quiet, steady, unswerving, and progressive work which attains its ends simply because it lends brain and heart as well as hands to every task — he has grown more and more in sympathy with the earnest laborer in every sphere of duty, high or low, but with none more than with the conscientious and faithful Teacher, whose arduous task and great responsibility are, alas! in too many cases entirely disproportionate to the pecuniary and other remuneration received.

Therefore, as the undersigned has found the opportunity, and as the increasing demands of his business have permitted, he has endeavored to be of service to Teachers and to their grand Profession, and has labored unceasingly to forward the best interests of Educators, individually and collectively — irrespective of the inevitable pecuniary and other sacrifices which to the eyes of most persons seem to show an utter disregard of common business principles.

Numerous bibliographical and educational publications which gave no promise of commensurate remuneration, save in the nature of good wishes and personal acknowledgments, have thus been undertaken; and it is proper to say that a sufficient reward has been found for these labors in the appreciation of Educators both at home and abroad. One of these publications, The Cyclopaedia of Education, after having been received with uncommon favor in America, has recently been honored by the award of a Medal at the Paris Exposition Universelle — a recognition which is to be regarded as a high compliment to American Teachers, authors, and educational workers.

The Year-Book of Education (like the Cyclopaedia, the first book of its scope in the English language) is being everywhere received with equal favor; and this suggests the hope that the continued publication of this annual volume will result in marked benefit to all educational interests.

It is expected that the recent establishment of Steiger's Educational Bureau will also be regarded in the light intended: as a valuable accommodation to Teachers. There is surely no question that the long-established custom of paying a "registration fee" of several dollars and an additional commission or percentage on the salary obtained, has been a severe tax upon all applicants, especially in these days of hard times and poor pay. By opening to the whole Profession — what for ten years past he has gladly granted to the few who applied to him — the extended facilities of his educational acquaintance and information without fee, commission, or charge of any kind to any person, the undersigned hopes to prove, in this direction also, the extent and sincerity of the interest he professes.

If in this and other endeavors he is able to secure the confidence of, and the acceptance of favors by, Educators in addition to those who are already his friends, their appreciation will be a sufficient acknowledgment.

The undersigned feels and knows that there is enough yet remaining to be accomplished in the interest of Education to occupy his whole care, time, and attention for the remainder of his life, and, ready and anxious to labor unceasingly in the cause, he asks each and every earnest, working Teacher:

"How, or wherein can I help you?"

"What further can I do to elevate the Profession above mere mercenary considerations?"

"To what good purpose can I devote a certain portion of my time and my business in aiding the Teachers of America?"

In conclusion, the hope is expressed that whenever and wherever a Teacher desires to be advised in relation to any matter or question concerning which the undersigned may be able to give either information, assistance, or suggestion, no hesitation will be felt in addressing him at once.

September, 1878.

E. Steiger.

Words of Encouragement.

.... "You have proved yourself a noble ally to, and a friend of, educators, and you deserve abundant success."
(R. D. SHANNON, State Supt. of Public Schools, Missouri.)

.... "You are rendering the cause of education a service for which you have the gratitude of our teachers and educators in general."
(D. BURT, State Supt. of Public Instruction, Minnesota.)

.... "The Year-Book of Education is a fit sequel to the Cyclopædia of Education, and together with that valuable work will enable the teachers of America to keep well up in the latest educational movements of this and other lands. The thanks of the friends of education are due to Mr. Steiger for his efforts to advance the cause of education in our country."
(B. G. NORTHROP, Sec'y State Board of Education, Connecticut.)

.... "Such publications are invaluable aids in advancing the cause of education in our country."
(H. S. TARBELL, State Supt. of Public Instruction, Michigan.)

.... "I regard the Year-Book of Education as a most valuable publication and consider you the most useful man in the line of educational publications in this country."
(W. H. RUFFNER, State Supt. of Public Instruction, Virginia.)

.... "The Year-Book of Education is in appearance and in matter a magnificent publication. You have reflected, by issuing the work, not only honor upon yourself but upon the cause of education in this country."
(W. C. WHITFORD, State Supt. of Public Instruction, Wisconsin.)

.... "I hope that our teachers and school officers everywhere will support you in your efforts to raise the standard of American pedagogy."
(W. T. HARRIS, Supt. of Public Schools, St. Louis, Mo.)

.... "Your liberality and devotion to the cause of all improvements and facilities in education continually astonish me. I shall be glad to cooperate with you in any way I can to help on the good work in which you are so devotedly engaged."
(E. A. SHELTON, Principal State Normal and Training School, Oswego, N. Y.)

.... "It contains a variety and extent of information upon educational subjects nowhere else accessible. In connection with your Cyclopædia this annual publication will form a library for teachers and school officers, by the faithful use of which they will be well informed upon a vast variety of professional topics indispensable to their intelligent action in the work of school management. I sincerely hope that your enterprise and zeal in the publication of so much valuable professional literature will meet the reward so richly deserved."
(WM. F. PHELPS, Principal State Normal School, Whitewater, Wis.)

.... "I sincerely hope the efforts you are making in behalf of education for this country will be appreciated and encouraged by all who are laboring to promote intelligence and virtue throughout the land."
(L. PARISH, Supt. of Schools, New Haven, Conn.)

.... "I cannot forbear to express to you the deep gratitude I feel for the eminent services you render literature, and you certainly deserve the liberal patronage given you by the book-trade and thousands of readers."
(P. JOHANNES, C.S.C., Librarian University of Notre Dame, Ind.)

.... "I appreciate this great enterprise of yours for the benefit of Education; for not only is it useful to American, but also to foreign educators."
(S. TEGOINA, Secretary to the Special Commission from the Japanese Educational Department, Exposition Universelle, Paris.)

.... "Permit me to say here that of all publishers in this country you seem to be the most unselfish, as well as the most enthusiastic in planning and carrying into effect new schemes that, so far as I can see, are of more advantage to the public than to you. You certainly have earned the gratitude of all teachers."
(R. G. SAUNDERSON, Supt. of Public Schools, Burlington, Iowa.)

.... "I greatly admire thy bounty and labor in the interests of Teachers and Education. It should be responded to by our hearty patronage when we have anything to buy for our work."
(J. H. DILLINGHAM, Prin. Friends' Select School, Philadelphia.)

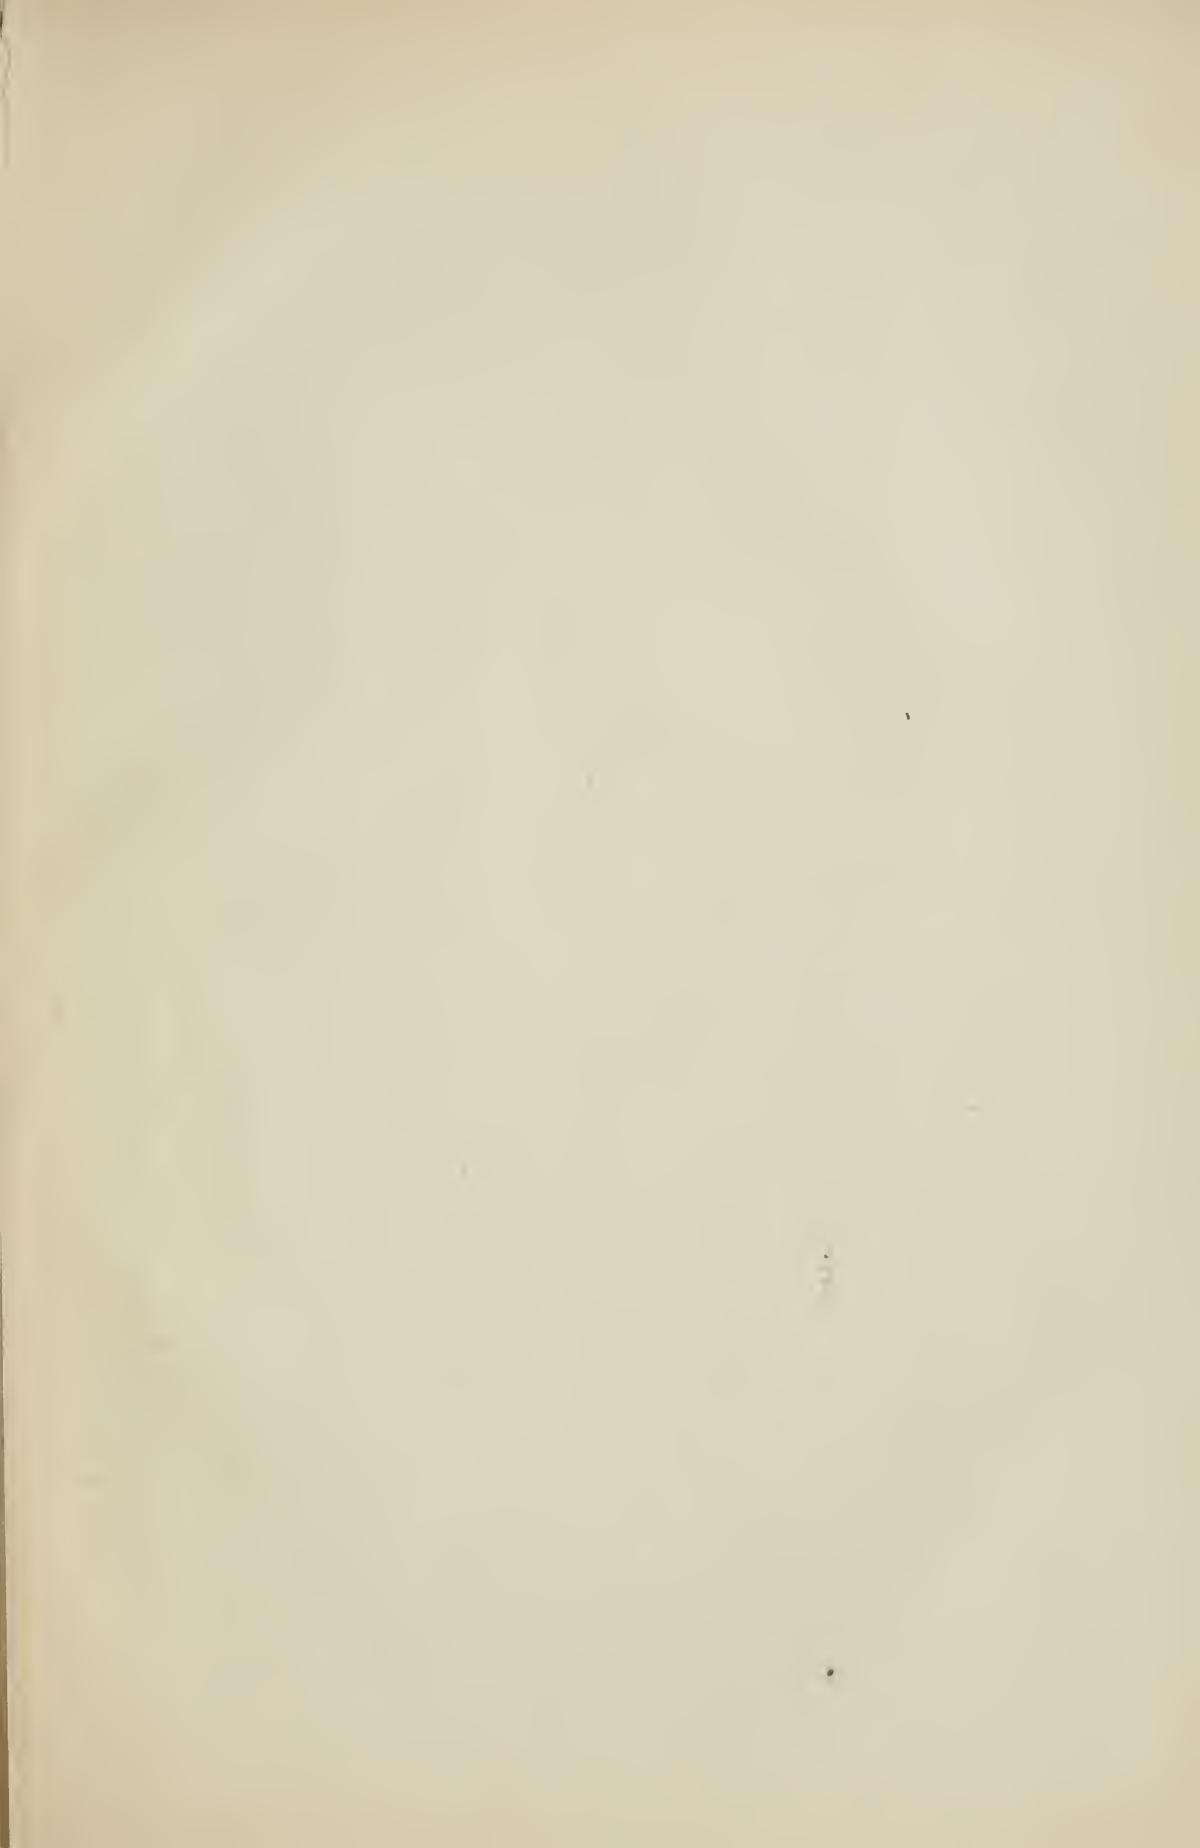

.... "In opening a free Educational Bureau you have done a noble deed. Many of our School Agencies are mere lotteries."
(A teacher.)

.... "From the New York Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate I learn of your free Educational Bureau and your willingness to help teachers to a position. I am only too glad to know that there is one person acting disinterestedly in this direction. Thus far I have paid a "registration fee" to several School Agencies, and, in addition, agreed to give them a percentage of my first year's salary—but all without avail; I have not even been advised of vacancies."
(A teacher.)

.... "I have been examining with much care and greater pleasure your series of catalogues, and I cannot refrain from writing you at once.

You seem to me to have appreciated more than any other publisher in this country the real needs of book-makers, book-handlers, and book-consumers. The trade and readers are under deep obligations to you for the admirable work you have done for them. Still I am convinced that this work which you have done at so much expense, and so largely as a labor of love, will in the end pay you, for I cannot conceive how any librarian, or book-dealer, or book-buyer once acquainted with your efforts and plans can avoid a strong prejudice in favor of dealing with you. I am not speaking for myself alone, for I have often heard the same avowed by others. We who feel an interest in books and reading, beyond and outside the money interest of making or selling, will always do all in our power to assist in such efforts as you and Mr. LEYPOLDT are making to give us satisfactory tools with which to do our work. You can judge the result when we are called upon to decide whether we will order books of you, or some house showing nothing but apathy towards the movement to elevate librarianship and bibliography. So in the end, I think, your unselfish work will pay much better than the selfish unconcern of houses I could mention. You will continually draw to yourself a constituency of the best, and their active cooperation and sympathy will be worth not a little to your growing house.

As a former teacher I have appreciated more keenly your educational work, and here all I have said from the librarian's and reader's standpoint, is emphasized. Teachers once acquainted with your catalogues and your methods, will be steady patrons of your establishment."
